Vega Rocket Held Back as Result Of Shortages

Miami Beach, Fla. —(AP)—Space boss T. Keith Glennan said today the steel strike is delaying a crucial space program — the Vega rocket capable of putting up a sputnik-size satellite.

He told the American Bankers association, that "this program, unfortunately, is now being set back by the shortages resulting from the steel strike."

Glennan, administrator of the national aeronautics and space administration, gave no indication as to the extent of the delay.

The 3-stage Vega was designed to place 4,800 pounds in an orbit 300 miles above the earth, or 1,000 pounds into a deep space trajectory — to the moon and beyond.

It was scheduled to be ready for initial flight early in 1961.

"As the situation stands now, it is reasonably certain that in early 1961 the Vega will be the first of our space vehicle systems capable of matching the performance demonstrated by the Russians more than a year ago," Glennan said.

"I have no doubt that the Russians will be improving their systems during this same period," he added.

Seek Missing U. S. Judge in Chicago Area

Chicago —(AP)—Police in Chicago and nearby cities were alerted today to watch for Judge William Lynn Parkinson of the U. S. Court of Appeals, who has been missing since late Monday afternoon.

John Neurauter, acting deputy chief of detectives, said Parkinson's disappearance was reported yesterday by the judge's son, William Lynn, Jr., of Lafayette, Ind.

Judge Parkinson, who is 57, last was seen about 5 p.m. Monday by Deputy Marshal Joseph Tennes on the near north side near the Appellate court building.

Police said young Parkinson told them his father, who lives near the court building, suffers from low blood pressure and may be a victim of amnesia.

Appointed in 1957, Young Parkinson came to Chicago after his mother telephoned him, telling him of his father's disappearance. Mrs. Parkinson said she had not been alarmed Monday night when her husband did not return home as he often goes on overnight trips to Lafayette to visit his son.

Judge Parkinson, who is about 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 190 pounds, was appointed to the court of appeals in 1957 by President Eisenhower.

Prior to being named to the appeals court bench, Parkinson served since Aug. 4, 1954, as a federal judge for the Northern Indiana district.

Ike Says Western Leaders Set to Meet By Mid-December

Site Not Chosen and Date Not Specified, He Declares

Washington —(AP)—President Eisenhower said today he and the other western leaders are ready and willing to hold a pre-summit conference about mid-December.

Eisenhower told a news conference, however, that no site has been picked, and no specific time. Those matters, he said, will be handled through diplomatic channels.

Such a western summit meeting would bring together Eisenhower, French President Charles de Gaulle, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The first question put to Eisenhower was whether any progress has been made on arrangement for a western summit conference.

The president said last week he was willing to attend such a session "any time from now on."

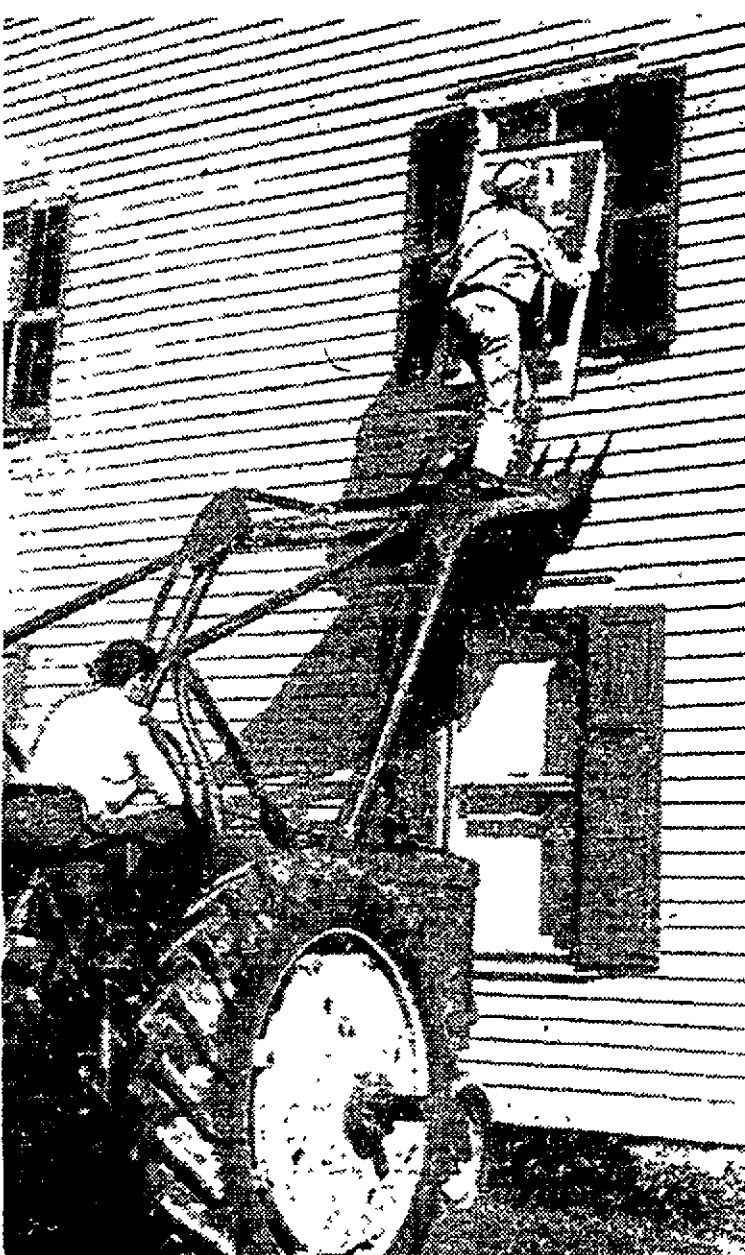

Today, Eisenhower noted that he has taken that position. Then he went on to say that De Gaulle has explained to him some of the difficulties the French leader has regarding high level meetings.

Ready to Attend

Without elaborating on that, Eisenhower then said De Gaulle will be ready to attend a western summit about mid-December.

Newsmen tried to find out from the president whether his statement means it now is definite that a western summit session will be held in December in Paris, with De Gaulle, Macmillan and Adenauer joining him there.

Eisenhower replied nothing as definite as that has been arranged. The situation is, he explained, that there merely has been an expression of readiness on the part of all the western leaders to get together in advance of any east-west summit meeting with

Wants Order to Go Into Effect Unless Union Appeals by Thursday Noon

Washington —(AP)—The justice department today asked the supreme court to let an injunction against the steel strike go into effect unless the United Steelworkers union files its appeal by noon Thursday.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, Jr., filed his appeal before 10 a.m. in the hope of getting a quick supreme court action putting the Taft-Hartley injunction back in force.

Technically, his request was that the high court vacate a stay ordered by the court of appeals in Philadelphia, unless the union acts quickly.

At the same time Rogers suggested a hurry-up schedule for the high court itself to get the whole injunction matter settled quickly on its merits. Assuming fast filing of the union appeal, he recommended consideration by the supreme court Friday, and oral arguments Monday if the justices decide they want such a hearing.

The government's petition said there is a pressing need for determination by the supreme court of the appeal the union proposes to file.

The union had indicated it did not intend to file before Monday its petition for a review of the Philadelphia court decision. That tribunal had upheld the injunction but had given the union six days in which to file its appeal.

Calls Delay Needless

The injunction originally had been granted by federal district Judge Herbert Sörg of Pittsburgh.

Rogers called delay in resolving the legal questions wholly unnecessary.

The typewritten, 2-page petition said the attorney general was acting "so that the emergency created by the steel strike may not continue longer than absolutely necessary."

Rogers said if a union request for a review is filed by noon Thursday, the government will file a brief in opposition to it later the same day.

The attorney general suggested that the union file its appeal by noon Thursday.

Storm Strikes North Europe

10 Dead in Britain, Many Ships Wrecked, Communications Cut

London —(AP)—Britain counted 10 dead today after one of the worst storms to hit northern Europe in six years.

Winds of up to 100 miles an hour lashed across the continent leaving a wake of wrecked ships, floods disrupted communications, Nearly 200 ships ran for shelter to British ports.

The British motor vessel Dagma radioed from off Land's End that two men had been blown overboard.

Five other seamen drowned yesterday off the Scottish fishing port of Fraserburgh when two yachts went down in mountainous seas.

Another man and two women were killed by the storm in Scotland. In the Inner Hebrides a lifeboat rescued the crew of the grounded German freighter Hinrich Sieghold.

The 500-ton British coaster Rockles crunched against the rocks off Anglesey 30 minutes after crewmen had been taken off by lifeboat.

The same lifeboat earlier rescued the crew of the Greek freighter Ezzar which radioed that its engine room was flooded. A deep sea tug sailed out to tow the Ezzar to safety.

Pressure Grows to Resist Red Attacks

Indians Want to Defend North Frontiers Against Communists

BY WATSON SIMS

New Delhi —(AP)—Public pressure mounted today for the Indian government to defend the northern border against communist Chinese intrusions.

In the most vigorous outpouring of criticism since independence, newspapers were virtually unanimous in demanding a statement on what is being done about the latest incident, in which 9 or 10 Indian policemen were killed in the Ladakh area of Kashmir a week ago.

"Inaction now can make war inevitable," the editor of the New Delhi Hindustan Times wrote. The article declared that a limited reprisal against the communist Chinese is "imperative for the sake of our self-respect and the larger interests of peace."

Suggests Allies

The Indian Express, published in three major cities, called on the government to drop its policy of nonalignment and "look around for allies with common defense policies and problems." The paper advocated a joint defense agreement with Pakistan.

Balked Taking $250 Consolation At Rigged Show

New York —(AP)—A New York advertising man was quoted today as saying he had balked at accepting a $250 consolation prize because the "SOG Challenge" television quiz show was rigged.

Arthur Cohn, Jr., in an account of the episode published by the New York Post, said he had learned just before one of the programs went on the air in March, 1958, that his opponent had been given answers to questions.

The opponent was identified as Wilton Springer, who won $4,000.

Cohn told the Post that Springer had rushed out of a warmup session just before the show and told of being given the answers to some difficult questions about the theater. One of them, Cohn said, proved to be the winning query when Springer answered it on the show.

Cohn said he considered informing the television audience of it all while the program was on the air but finally "decided to let it go."

Cohn said he had rejected the $250 consolation prize because "it was dirty money" but was told that bookkeeping problems would be complicated if he didn't accept.

As a result, Cohn said, he directed that the money be sent to a charity for crippled children in Chicago.

Great Mountains on Moon Range 1,242 Miles Long, Russian Says

Moscow —(AP)—A Soviet astronomer says the mountain range that Lunik III discovered on the far side of the moon — and that the Russians named "Soviet" — is the biggest on the earth's natural satellite.

"It stretches over a distance of 2,000 kilometers (1,242 miles) and evidently has very high peaks," said Felix Ziegler, who was quoted by Moscow radio.

"It is quite possible that in the future, with the aid of such methods as measuring shadows cast by mountains, the height of individual peaks might be determined," Ziegler continued.

Central Mound

Ziegler also called attention to the 60-mile-wide "Tsiolkovsky crater," named after a Russian researcher on rockets and space travel in the early 1900s.

Especially notable, Ziegler said, is a central mound in the crater, which shows up in photographs as a bright spot.

"Reasons for its brightness are not yet clear," Ziegler said, "but luminescence might be due to gases from eruptions inasmuch as these central mounds of moon craters are evidently volcanoes which were active at one time or may still be active today."

Ziegler said the success of the Soviet moon rocket makes it possible to contemplate landing an automatic laboratory on the moon to carry out detailed research and transmit pictures taken at closer range.

Fatal End to Quarrel Family Friend Shoots St. Louis Psychologist

St. Louis —(AP)—A prominent St. Louis psychologist was shot to death last night in a fight with a family friend.

Slain was Dr. Harry Sorkin, 45, whose widow is Sylvia Sorkin, a nationally-known business consultant, writer and lecturer.

Police Cpl. Phil Dwyer said Ellis Trauernicht, a dealer in rare stamps, admitted that he shot Dr. Sorkin. He claimed self-defense.

Trauernicht, a 49-year-old bachelor, was booked on suspicion of homicide.

Police said Trauernicht came to the house Trauernicht shared with his parents in southwest St. Louis and accused him of being too attentive to Mrs. Sorkin.

"This shocked and amazed me," Trauernicht said.

Trauernicht said he had known Mrs. Sorkin in grade school 28 years ago. He said he met her again about 21 years ago and that he became friends with Mrs. Sorkin and her husband. He said he had never seen Mrs. Sorkin except in the presence of her husband.

Trauernicht said Sorkin shouted at him last night that "I hate you. I've always hated you. Come outside and I'll take care of you right now."

During the argument, Trauernicht said, Dr. Sorkin kept one hand in a coat pocket. He said he asked the doctor what he was holding, and Sorkin replied: "Come outside and I'll show you."

Then, said Trauernicht, Dr. Sorkin started beating him. He said he grabbed a .38 caliber revolver and fired once. The burst hit Dr. Sorkin in the chest near the heart.

Suffers Bruises, Cut

Police said they found a length of auto tire chain, shaped in a figure eight and wrapped in tissue paper, in Dr. Sorkin's coat pocket.

Trauernicht was treated at City hospital for bruises on his face, neck and shoulders and a cut on the head. Dr. Sorkin was 6 feet, 3 inches tall and weighed 225 pounds. Trauernicht is 5-6 and weighs about 160.

Mrs. Sorkin, 45, said she thought her husband was going on a house call when he left home last night. She was placed under sedation at the couple's home in suburban Richmond Heights.

Dr. and Mrs. Sorkin were married in 1936. They have two children.

Relations Grow Worse

Castro Government Rejects U. S. Protest Against Steady Attacks

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ

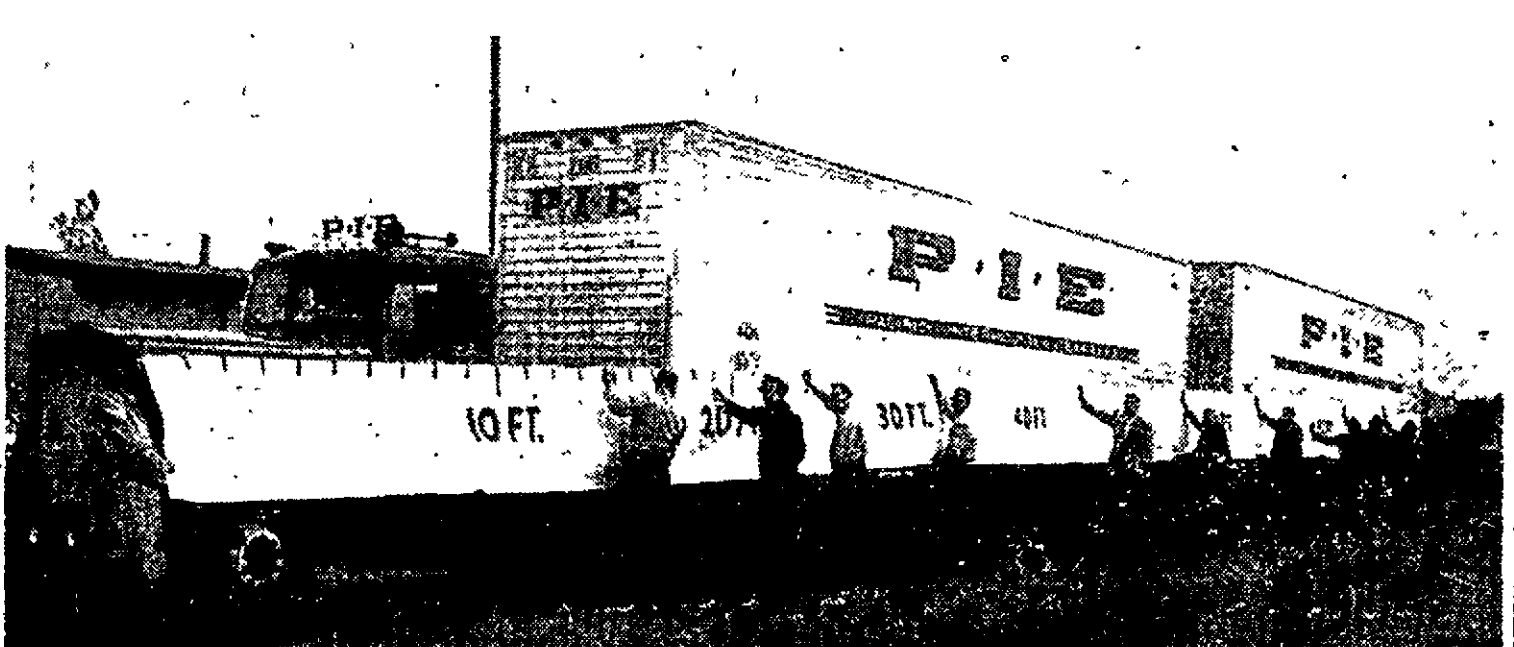

Havana —(AP)—Cuban-American relations grew steadily worse today as Fidel Castro's regime rejected a U. S. protest against its rising anti-Americanism and aimed a new shaft at American business in the island republic.

In swift developments last night:

1. President Osvaldo Dorticos, after conferring with Prime Minister Castro and his cabinet, defiantly dismissed a U. S. government protest that "deliberate and concerted efforts in Cuba" are being made to destroy relations between the two governments. Dorticos said the U. S. charges were without foundation.
2. The cabinet whipped out a new law imposing stiff taxes on mining concessions. The law apparently is aimed directly at two American-owned nickel and cobalt producing operations in eastern Cuba — the Nicaro nickel plant, owned by the U. S. government, and the Moa Bay Mining company, a subsidiary of the Freeport Sulphur company.
3. The cabinet agreed to re-establish military tribunals to deal with mounting opposition to Castro at home. The action is expected to lead to revival of firing squad executions, which claimed an estimated 555 victims during the first six months of Castro's regime.
4. Several hundred shouting Cubans demanded the "execution wall" for Jules Dubois, Chicago Tribune Latin-American correspondent, as he sent a dispatch to his newspaper at a Havana telephone office. Dubois, publicly denounced by Castro for criticizing the government, was escorted safely from the building by an armed guard.

The newspaper is assigning another reporter to Havana so that Dubois, may take a rest.

The Tribune editorially lauded Dubois' "unintimidated reports" from Cuba before

Faint Hope Seen For Disarmament

U. S., Russia Reach Agreement on Noncommittal Resolution for United Nations Assembly

United Nations — (AP) — UN diplomats anticipate the east-west disarmament talks early next year will at least start harmoniously following agreement last night by the United States and Russia on a non-committal disarmament resolution for the general assembly.

After a week of concentrated bargaining, the two big powers agreed to join in sponsoring a resolution referring all disarmament proposals to the new 10-nation committee that will begin negotiations in Geneva in February.

No Specific Plan
The resolution endorses no specific plan, a victory for the Americans. Originally the Russians had demanded that it give specific approval to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for complete disarmament over a 4-year period.

The resolution is similar to one Russia and the western powers sponsored together in January 1957. That one referred all then-pending disarmament proposals to a 5-nation subcommittee. Nothing came of the group's negotiations, and Russia ultimately boycotted it because she was outvoted by the western members. After three years, the communists now will get parity in numbers on the new committee.

The new resolution will be submitted to the assembly political committee and then to the assembly itself. Speedy

State Non-Farm Employment Hits Record 1959 High

Madison — (AP) — Non-farm employment in the state reached a new 1959 high of 1,164,600 during the month of September, the state industrial commission said Tuesday.

The figure is more than 50,000 higher than for the same period of 1958. The bulk of the gain was in manufacturing industries.

A gain of 13,100 workers between mid-August and mid-September brought the year's new high and about half of the increase resulted from completion of the changeover to 1960 model automobiles.

In non-farm employment over the past year Wisconsin's gain was 4.4 per cent, compared with a national average of 2.5 per cent.

The commission also said that unemployment was less than half the level of 1958 with 57,821 persons receiving benefits last month compared with 122,143 a year ago.

Agree to Split Responsibility On Cash Crisis

Michigan Governor, Lawmakers Seek Solution to Problem

Lansing, Mich. — (AP) — Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Republican leaders of the Michigan legislature have agreed to share responsibility for working out an emergency tax program to solve the state's latest cash crisis.

The crisis was brought on by a state supreme court decision last week invalidating a 1 per cent use tax which the legislature had tacked on to Michigan's three per cent sales tax.

Williams and 20 legislative leaders conferred for an hour and a half yesterday in an attempt to get started on a stopgap tax program. All they could agree on was bi-party pledge of mutual responsibility.

This was interpreted to mean that any tax plan adopted would be regarded as a bipartisan creation rather than that of one party.

'Desperate Fix'
The governor told legislators the state was in a "desperate fix" barring a quick agreement on $110 million in new taxes.

The conference made no headway in shaping a specific tax program and Williams' proposal for a "moratorium on politics" brought a sharp rejoinder from Republican state Sen. Carlton H. Morris.

Morris criticized a report issued by the state controller's office Monday that unless new revenues were quickly provided layoffs of 7,500 state employees might result.

Morris told the governor he should be "ashamed" if this report was issued with his knowledge and if he had not consented to the report he should fire the controller, Democrat James W. Miller.

7 Petticoat Pickets Fight Street Paving

Oklahoma City — (AP) — Angry housewives combined a sit-down strike with a petticoat picket line today to stall a paving project on a street here.

Three of the hastily organized housewife group sat down in the street at one point. Frustrated construction crews took their heavy machinery elsewhere, at least for the time being.

Later the women manned a picket line on the disputed street. Husbands brought foods and drink. The women started a bonfire for warmth.

Protest Assessment
"We will stay as long as necessary," said Mrs. Frances Perkins, spokesman for the seven housewives involved.

The wives are protesting an assessment on their property for the paving job. They all live on the east side of the street.

A. G. Meyers, a real estate developer, filed the petition for the paving. He owns property along the west side.

"We just don't think it's fair for little property owners to be assessed for a street paving that will benefit only some big real estate developer," explained peppery Mrs. Perkins.

Maria Callas Ignores Party In Her Honor at Kansas City

Opera singer Maria Callas stayed at her hotel and ignored the colorful reception at the Nelson Gallery of Art Tuesday night.

Miss Callas at the Nelson Gallery of Art Tuesday night.

Missouri's Gov. James T. Blair and his wife were among about 800 persons who waited a while, then went home.

Concert Tonight
Mme. Callas is to give a concert tonight under sponsorship of the Friends of Art for benefit of the art gallery.

In announcing to the guests that Mme. Callas wouldn't appear at the reception, Milton F. Barlow, president of the Friends of Art, said she passed up the gathering on the advice of her doctor.

Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, Republican national chairman, told about his arrival in Kansas City Tuesday on the same airliner with the opera singer.

Bit of Confusion
"Here we are all these photographers standing there and this big, black sedan pulling up to the end of the ramp as I came down," the senator said at a Republican dinner.

"I think maybe they've got me confused with the president or something. Then the next thing I know somebody has me by the coat tails and is telling me to get out of the way."

"Before I know it, I'm over at the other side of the airport and this temperamental singer is driving off in the big, black limousine."

"I still think one Republican is worth more."

New Drug Fast Cure For Skin Infections

Describe Grisofulvin as Greatest Medical Discovery Since Penicillin

Miami, Fla. — (AP) — Many persons once spent thousands of dollars over long periods of years trying to get rid of such uncomfortable and embarrassing diseases as scalp ringworm and athlete's foot.

Today, says Dr. J. L. Pipkin, a dermatologist of San Antonio, Texas, such skin disorders can be cured in a few days at a cost of about $20 for pills.

The medicine is griseofulvin, a new drug for fungus diseases. Pipkin and others among more than 200 physicians from the United States and 11 foreign countries described it today as the greatest medical discovery since penicillin.

Attend Symposium
The physicians were here to attend a symposium sponsored by the University of Miami. A year ago, Dr. Harvey Blank of the university first gave griseofulvin to a human patient and got a cure after all else had failed.

His announcement that he had cured 30 straight patients without a failure and without any unfavorable reaction caused a sensation around the world.

Given in pill form, griseofulvin has shown such dramatic results that Johnson and Johnson McNeil laboratories has gone into mass production to satisfy the demand. The drug is available only by prescription.

The first patient Dr. Blank cured was dying of a fungus infection over his entire body. Such cases are rare, but skin disorders are a cause of much human misery. They disfigure, sometimes disable, and can have a strong psychological effect on their victims. It is estimated that they prompt 18 per cent of all visits to doctors' offices.

Premier Castro Unable to Govern, Says Fulbright

Pocahontas, Ark. — (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, says Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba is "utterly inadequate as far as his government is concerned."

Fulbright, in a speech Tuesday at a civic benefit, said Castro "can lead a revolution but he doesn't know what to do after he gets in power."

Fulbright said Castro's charges that Cuba was being bombed by Florida-based planes were whipping boy tactics.

"Castro is floundering around," he said, "using us as a kind of whipping boy. All dictators need somebody to blame. Hitler used the Jews, China used us. Now Castro is using us."

Tallahassee, Fla. — (AP) — The Florida supreme court has refused to grant a rehearing in a case in which it ruled that police roadblocks to check automobile safety equipment and drivers' licenses are legal.

The rehearing was sought by former Mayor Abe Aronovitz of Miami. Aronovitz had challenged the right of Miami police to set up the roadblocks for inspection purposes.

Schomburg Named Army Missile Chief

Washington — (AP) — Maj. Gen. August Schomburg has been named to succeed Maj. Gen.

John B. Medaris as head of the army's missile command.

Medaris is retiring Jan. 31 as chief of the army rocket team at Huntsville, Ala. with Dr. Schomburg Werhner von Braun heading its scientific group. This team was responsible for launching the United States' first earth satellite, its first solar satellite, and developing the 1,500-mile range Jupiter ballistic missile.

Schomburg, 51, was named to the post Tuesday. He is now deputy chief of ordnance for the department of the army. Previously he was assistant chief for research and development.

Medaris has denied his resignation was prompted by dissatisfaction over the way the army has handled rocket development at Huntsville, particularly the huge Saturn program.

But Medaris' action forced an administration review of the problem. As a result Saturn, a space rocket that will develop 14 million pounds of thrust, has been taken from the army and placed under the Civilian National Aeronautics and Space administration.

and wage an all-out effort for either Vice President Nixon or the other nominee in carrying Philadelphia and Pennsylvania in 1960," Stassen said.

Argument Burns Hot Over Smoking Bans in New York

New York — (AP) — How do you ban smoking in elevators? Why not prohibit smoking in bed?

Those questions got an airing Tuesday in the city council — in a smoke-filled room.

Councilmen voted 18 to 6 to make smoking in elevators punishable by $100 fine or 10 days in the cooler.

A reformed former smoker, George H. Hearn, sponsored the bill. Another non-smoker, council Democratic majority leader Joseph T. Sharkey, was the chief orator in its favor. He met plenty of opposition.

Smokers Object
Sharkey reminded the council that elevator smoking is a fire hazard. He referred to the ungentlemanly dangers posed to women's evening gowns from hot ashes dropping in crowded lifts.

"Impractical!" cried

Councilman Daniel Weiss. Weiss smokes.

"Why not forbid smoking in lobbies, and in hallways?" he asked. "The logical extension is to outlaw smoking in bed."

"I rise to clear the smoke," put in David Ross, drawing on a large cigar.

Unenforceable
"It is unenforceable," said Ross of the bill, which still needs approval by the board of estimates and Mayor Robert F. Wagner before becoming law.

"What about self-service elevators? Will you have guards on them or policemen?" Ross continued. Then he took another drag on his stogie.

"Every man," he declared, "is entitled to one vice."

In any case, smoking in elevators was not the vice of the councilmen at the meeting. There are no elevators in city hall.

De Gaulle Book Says French Spurned Order From Gen. Eisenhower

Premier Says France Would Have Been Left Only Shreds of Germany

Paris — (AP) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle ordered his free French forces in World War II to go against the wishes of the supreme allied commander, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and quickly occupy a substantial section of Germany.

De Gaulle said in the third and final volume of his memoirs that otherwise France would be left with "only a few shreds" of German territory.

The last volume, titled "Le Salut" (the salvation), was published today in France. It covers the years 1944-46, from the liberation of Paris to De Gaulle's resignation as premier of the provisional government. Publication in America is expected next April.

De Gaulle said he wrote to Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny on March 29, 1945:

Must Cross Rhine
"You must cross the Rhine, even if the Americans won't help you and you must use barges. Karlsruhe and Stuttgart are awaiting you, even if they don't want you. . . . American forces had crossed the Rhine on March 7. Beginning April 4, some 130,000 French troops with 20,000 vehicles started across the Rhine. On the same day, Karlsruhe was taken and on April 20 Stuttgart.

De Gaulle wrote: "In the thinking of the allied command, seemingly oriented by Washington, it was American forces which should take over practically all of the action in this last phase of the fight. . . . They wanted to let the British take over the north sea coast.

"As for the French, they first tried to fix them on the west bank of the Rhine. But since they found the means to cross the river, they then tried to hold them up as much as possible."

Describes Squabble
De Gaulle described a squabble with the British and Americans over France's Alpine frontier. He said that for a long while he had intended to redraw the frontier to include some Italian enclaves as well as the Swiss cantons of Tende and la Brigue. This, de Gaulle said, ran against the desires of President Harry Truman.

"But I also saw the effect of British influence in this matter," de Gaulle wrote, explaining that through "secret observers" he was able to obtain a copy of a telegram Prime Minister Winston Churchill sent to Truman on subject of French claims in the frontier area.

"Mr. Churchill called me an enemy of the allies," de Gaulle wrote, "and pressed Mr. Truman not to give way to me."

Later, de Gaulle said, he received a personal message from Truman asking him to order the evacuation of French troops in the disputed area "until a settlement could be made normally and rationally."

Three Years of Searching Turns Up Pay for Heir's Share of $1 building

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Six years after an estate was probated and three years after beginning negotiations, Leland E. Worsner, 1616 N. Erb street, got his one-forty-sixth interest in a 5-story, 24-apartment building in Budapest, Hungary.

The story of the negotiations and the final settlement reads like a nightmare of our times—dealing with a Budapest attorney through the static, restrictions and unintelligibility of the iron curtain.

The building was owned by John G. Sawall, who was a farm machinery firm's European representative for 32 years and spent 14 years in Budapest and 18 years in Hamburg, Germany, before torneys who might handle the assignment.

After considerable delay, a letter to Dr. Charles Haves, a Budapest attorney, brought a reply asking for $170 so an appraisal and abstract of title could be obtained.

Bollenbeck sent the money, heard nothing.

Haves finally wrote that the $170 draft was delayed in processing, that he had to be a little circumspect in processing information for an American.

Revolt Erupts

About this time, of course, the Hungarian revolt erupted, sending the whole question of Dr. Haves and Dorschner's claim into extremely questionable status.

Dr. Haves had asked Bol-indicating an additional $181.59 in interest would be coming later. That makes the total settlement for Dorschner $1,015.15, and that is the total award for the apartment building, since the other heirs' claims were turned down.

Soviets Unveil Record Budget In Moscow

Spending Up for Almost Everything Except Defense

the biggest budget in its history, with spending increased for almost everything except defense.

Deputy Finance Minister Vasilii Garbuzov told 1,335 members of the supreme soviet — the nation's parliament — that revenue would be 772,100,000,000 (b) rubles and expenditures 744,800,000,000 (b) rubles, leaving a surplus of 27,300,000,000 (b) rubles.

Defense expenditures were set at 96,100,000,000 (b) rubles — exactly the same as last year, which means the percentage of the budget devoted to defense has actually been reduced.

Exchange Rate

At the official exchange rate, the ruble is worth 25 cents. But it is difficult to fix the exact defense expenditure since some military items may be listed under civilian categories. Rocket research, for example, may come under the heading of scientific research.

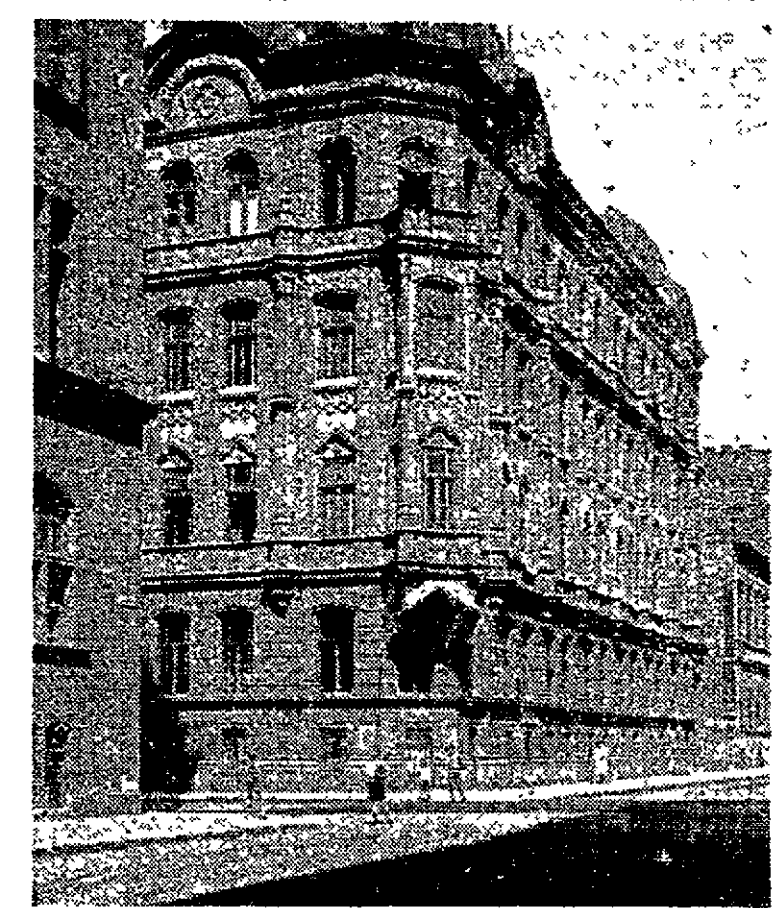

The total government expenditure also is misleading to westerners. Under the communist system of government ownership of all production and distribution facilities, the budget includes economic costs which are usually the burden of private corporations in non-communist countries.

The budget report was submitted to the supreme soviet as it opened a session in the Kremlin. Later the deputies were to hear a review of the international situation by Premier Nikita Khrushchev, including a report on his trip to the United States.

Earlier in the session the delegates heard a report by Deputy Premier Aleksei Kosygin in which he predicted that the Soviet economy will overtake that of the United States "in a relatively short span of time."

Garbuzov reported that the government's revenue in 1959 will total 723,369,159,000 (b) rubles and expenditures 707,637,887,000 (b) rubles, leaving a surplus of 15,731,272,000 (b) rubles.

This Apartment Building in Budapest, Hungary, was valued at $1 in an Appleton man's estate, which was left to 38 heirs, most in this area. After the estate was probated about six years ago, the apartment was split up among the heirs, although they had little hope of recovery. However, recently one heir, Leland E. Dorschner, 1616 N. Erb street, got his interest after more than three years of negotiations.

returning to the U. S. He settled in Appleton in 1938, died in 1948. Sawall left a $300,000 estate, including the apartment building, valued, because of its location behind the iron curtain, at $1.

Share $1 Building
His will set up his personal property in a trust for his wife, with income going to her, and termination at her death. She died in 1952. The trust was divided among heirs, with each getting a share of the $1 apartment building.

Dorschner's one - forty-sixth interest stayed on his mind until one day he saw an article in a Milwaukee paper stating that money seized during World War II from Hungarian interests was available for settlement of war damage claims by U. S. citizens who held Hungarian property.

The deadline for filing claims was two days from the time Dorschner contacted Appleton Attorney Edward R. Bollenbeck. Bollenbeck contacted the foreign claims commission, which said Dorschner's claim would be honored. The other heirs filed claims too late.

Confiscation
Sawall held the Hungarian property because he could not take money out of the country. He received no income from it after World War II because of the communist government's currency reforms and nationalization (or confiscation).

The foreign claims commission told Bollenbeck he had to submit proof of the building's value, that it was confiscated by Hungary, provide a title search and proof that Dorschner's claim was valid.

That sounds easy, but that's where the red tape jungle began for Dorschner and Bollenbeck. The file for the case is about two inches thick—which is a lot of lightweight copy sheets of letters.

Bollenbeck began by writing a friend of Sawall's in Brussels, Belgium, but the man apparently had died. Other friends of Sawall couldn't help. Finally, Bollenbeck wrote the Hungarian legation in Washington, which referred him to the Budapest municipal government. A letter brought no reply. A letter to the Hungarian World federation in Budapest brought no reply.

One Spot Left

So, Bollenbeck turned to the one spot in the jungle of no replies which he might find a familiar voice — he wrote the American legation in Budapest and asked for some at-lenbeck to please not inquire about the progress of his work, since letters from America were not conducive to good relations with communists.

So, things went along quietly — no news at all.

Finally, Dr. Haves sent an evaluation by two Hungarian engineers which indicated the building was worth $40,000 to $50,000 — Bollenbeck had some trouble with the Hungarian forint (about 8 1/2 U.S. cents), but managed to calculate the approximate value.

Proof of Title

Also sent was a title search, indicating that the building was built in 1896, an elevator was installed in 1936, it is in the seventh ward, Erzsebetvaros, in Budapest and was confiscated by the Hungarian government in 1920. The confiscation was at a time when rents were frozen and nobody could move in or out without government consent. There was no compensation paid for the confiscation.

During the time Dr. Haves worked on the value and title search, the Hungarian government was conducting a purge on professional people, one of the causes underlying the revolt. However, Dr. Haves finished the job and Bollenbeck wrote him to thank him for his efforts. Bollenbeck heard once more from Dr. Haves, who thanked him and explained it was somewhat difficult to work under present conditions.

After a trip to Chicago in 1958 to establish the validity of Dorschner's claim and submission of Dr. Haves' work, Bollenbeck and Dorschner sat back to await the foreign claims commission's decision.

Finally the government forwarded a check for $869.56.

"Laxatives didn't help"

If lack of bulk is causing irregularity, read this message from Mrs. Sylvia Roden, Miami, Florida. This is what she writes:

"Laxatives didn't help my constipation. Finally I tried Kellogg's All-Bran. I can't say enough good things about it."

Kellogg's All-Bran brings pleasant relief to millions when laxative drugs fail because it is a bulk-forming cereal food. Just a half-cup serving with milk gives you all the good food bulk you need each day for consistent, natural regularity.

Try Kellogg's All-Bran for 10 days—see if it doesn't work for you, too.

The Whipping Boys in the Tax Field

"The power to tax is the power to destroy," and thus it is that taxes must be laid carefully and with a thought to the effect upon the product taxed if the tax program is to be carried out without destruction of someone or something. Because the laying of a new or an additional tax is a dangerous and sensitive act politically, all legislators give as much attention to the possible effect on a taxpayer as they do to the need for revenue. When a product is found that is apparently insensitive to taxes, legislators are always eager to lay their burden upon it.

When the state of Oregon in 1919 laid a one-half cent per gallon tax on gasoline it apparently discovered a product that was relatively insensitive to taxation and this was quickly noticed by legislators across the nation. Gasoline as a source of tax revenue was doubly appealing because, with the laying of the first half cent tax, a period of tremendous increase in the use of gasoline arrived in the nation. In 1939, 20 years after the first half cent gasoline tax was voted, the yield of gasoline taxes, both state and national, had reached $1,000,000,000 per year. It passed $2,000,000,000 in 1950, $3,000,000,000 in 1954, $4,000,000,000 in 1957, and in 1959 with an additional one cent federal tax to be collected for the final three months of the year, it is estimated that the total collections will reach $4,927,000,000.

Gasoline taxes have been used principally for the construction of new highways, the repair and upkeep of old highways and thus it has increased automobile travel and likewise increased the sale of gasoline. So long as the selection of the gasoline tax tends to increase the highway miles and thus boosts the use of gasoline, it may be considered to be a just tax. However, there must be a limit to the amount of tax that can be laid on any one product.

The Wisconsin Petroleum Council points out that the use of gasoline was increasing annually at the rate of 4.5 per cent during the post-war years but last year's increase slumped to 2.8 per cent. Their comment on this development is that higher gasoline taxes will reduce consumption and likewise state and federal tax revenues. Whether that will come to pass remains to be seen but it is certainly something worth watching.

Another product that has borne the brunt of the taxation battle is the cigaret. The Wisconsin Food and Tobacco Institute points out that while beer in the state of Wisconsin produces an annual revenue of $3,119,000, and liquor and wine produce an annual revenue of $10,492,000 per year, cigarets alone produce an annual revenue of $20,400,000. The institute is anxious over a report that another 1 cent tax will be laid upon cigarets bringing the state rate to 6 cents per package. There is a federal tax of 8 cents on each package and thus the 13-cent tax on a package of cigarets. Small wonder that the institute shudders at the thought of another cent.

So far there is no report of a decrease in the sale of cigarets. However, taxes when they reach a certain point may have disappointing effects. First of all, of course, cigaret smokers may turn to a substitute which is not taxed so heavily and therefore is cheaper. Pipes and cigars are always potential competitors for the cigaret. There certainly is a point of diminishing return beyond which it would be very unwise to go for it would not only seriously damage the cigaret business but would also result in lower income for the state. In a sense, the tax on cigarets is more difficult to justify than the tax on gasoline, for while the latter provides highways for the taxpayer, the cigaret tax provides no special benefit for the cigaret smoker. The tax is successful because it is laid one cent at a time, thus no single raise is sufficient to cause the smoker to give up the habit. Nevertheless it certainly would be difficult to justify a further tax on either of these products.

Injustice in California

The stay of execution for Caryl Chessman, California criminal who has spent 11 years avoiding the gas chamber, points up some appalling loopholes in the law as well as valid doubts about the death penalty.

Chessman was convicted in 1948 of 17 felonies including assault, robbery, abduction and rape. His background since he was 16 is a record of thievery, reform school, promises to go straight, escape, and sexual attacks. There seems to be no doubt that he is guilty of the charges for which he was convicted. But he has managed to use technicalities to have his execution date set aside seven times.

Chessman never finished high school but he has become an expert on legalities of the courtroom. He has had professional legal assistance, too, but almost 100 other legally represented occupants of Death Row have died since he was first sent there. The reviews of his case have been based on the death of a court reporter before he could transcribe the notes of Chessman's trial, doubt as to the competence of the reporter's successor, and the summary way in which the requests were first handled. State and federal judges have been kept busy handling the appeals. They insist most of the stuff Chessman hands them are travesties but it would appear that something is wrong with the justice in California when such appeals can be upheld.

Chessman has had behind him sound opinions that the death penalty is too harsh, particularly when no death results from the crime as in his case. From a practical point of view, San Quentin officials say that the handful of men in Death Row take up 80 per cent of their time. A life imprisonment term would neither arouse the sob sisters of the nation nor leave open the chance for irretrievable wrong if a mistake is made.

But the most serious point about the Chessman case is the inequality of justice revealed. Because he wrote several books, some people of seeming intelligence have demanded commutation of his sentence so that he can explain the psychology of the habitual criminal. Because he was smart and clever enough to turn up technicalities, he lives while almost a hundred others have died in the same length of time in California alone. Chessman has used the shortcomings of society for his own purposes. And the only way society can win this time is to profit by the mistakes.

The question is not whether Chessman should die for his crimes. It is whether justice, as represented by the courts of California, is dealt out equally. The Chessman case isn't justice at all.

Coeducation in Pakistan

Some American universities may merit the charges of "country club" leveled against them, but the colleges in Pakistan really have a social problem. The men students are going all to pieces because 40 per cent of the students are women and they no longer wear veils or demure expressions.

In strict Moslem society, boys and girls have practically no contact outside of their immediate families until arranged marriages are solemnized. They are educated separately on the elementary and secondary levels; the women sit on the other side of the room at social functions and weddings and seldom go to the mosques. They also are segregated on buses.

But in Karachi's 23 colleges the boys and girls are faced with each other. The boys charge that the girls "wear lipstick, powder and nylon clothes to attract the boys and drive them crazy." Apparently they are successful since only 13 per cent of the applicants for bachelor of science degrees managed to pass and the figure dropped to 7.7 per cent for master of science.

As usual teachers and parents are aroused over the relaxation of standards. One college has slapped a $1 fine on any boy or girl caught talking with the opposite sex on campus. Picnics for girls are announced at various destinations to decoy the eager boys away. Dancing is prohibited and few of the students actually date. But they go to coffee houses to ogle and even to hold hands.

And the results are showing in the classroom!

From The Wichita (Kan.) Eagle

It is ironic that among the 82 nations of the United Nations only little Ireland has come forward with action on the crushing of human rights in Tibet by Red China.

The action by the Irish is not too surprising in one sense. They know what it is to be victims of imperialism and to suffer for their desire to be free; they fought long and bitter wars against the British for the same cause.

But where are the other freedom-loving nations? And particularly, where is India? That nation, too, felt the imperialists' heels for a century and gained its freedom only a bit over a decade ago.

Further more, India is right on the border of China and already is feeling the pains of aggression from the communist behemoth of Asia. Yet even with Tibet's ruler, the Dalai Lama, on Indian soil, Ambassador Krishna Menon is strangely silent about the fate of the mountain nation. The neutralist countries, among whom are India, seem afraid to antagonize the Chinese, worrying that to support Tibet would increase cold war tensions. Other nations consider the Tibet suppression purely a domestic matter for the Red Chinese.

Neither of these positions are justified by the facts. Experience has shown that aggressors take more and more unless they are opposed firmly. And Tibet never was an integral part of China.

The parallel here with Munich is not exact; but it is close enough to be disturbing.

Editor, Post-Crescent:

It's a sad and terrible thing to read, every now and then, about families who are persecuted by "neighbors" until they have to move back into a slum or segregated area, because they happen to be colored. It would be good if the people of Appleton could prepare themselves in a generous and realistic spirit to welcome Negro families, if and whenever they choose to live here. For their's is a nationwide need, and every American community has a responsibility to meet it in a friendly, welcoming fashion.

To say, "We don't have the problem in Appleton because no Negroes live here," is an ostrich-like refusal to face the future. A Negro outside of Wisconsin once said to me, "Oh, Appleton! That's the town where they have a law against Negroes coming to live." I assured him that it was only a myth, based, I had heard, on the behavior of a sheriff long ago, who took it upon himself to put Negro travelers back onto the train. "Actually," I told him, "I do not believe that Appleton is any worse or better than most American towns, with a small, ignorant, prejudiced minority which will be countered by another minority of vigorous men and women determined that the best in our American and Christian tradition shall prevail — and a majority who will take things as they come, with good-humored acceptance."

A well-educated, very attractive Negro woman in Milwaukee said to me, "You don't know how much some of us would like to move to small or middle-sized communities, so that our children could have the advantage of more normal, wholesome living. You don't realize how tired we are of being herded into over-crowded, run-down neighborhoods." She then told me of a Negro friend, a chemist, who was looking for a job. I promised to see what could be done in Appleton. Fortunately, the Institute of Paper Chemistry is concerned only with professional qualifications. There also turned out to be a house available for the family, owned by one of our "leading citizens." But would they not be lonely? No, because members of the Congregational church had heard the wife of this chemist speak, and found her a delightful person. "It would be a pleasure to have such a family as members of the congregation." Why are they not living in Appleton today? Simply because the man turned out to be a sugar chemist, not a cellulose chemist for whom there was an opening at that time.

Of course, not all Negro families would make ideal neighbors — but the same can be said about every racial, national, or religious group. Neighborhoods "deteriorate" and "property values decline" when a Negro family moves in, because the white families listen to such nonsense and move out, often goaded by real estate sharpers anxious to take advantage of the situation.

A friend of mine lived in a neighborhood in Chicago, next to a Negro district that was "bursting at the seams." The coming of Negro families into the surrounding, attractive white neighborhood was inevitable. The Chicago University Department of Human Relations found a white resident of every block who would undertake to welcome any Negro family that moved in, interpret the matter to the neighbors and make them acquainted with the newcomers. My friend had this job and when a Negro woman bought the house across the street from her, she gave a tea for her. There was no panicky moving out, and the woman has been a pleasant member of the block.

This is what I hope will happen in Appleton. Church and other groups can decide beforehand that this is how we want it to be.

The Chicago Tribune is the leading Republican paper of the north-west. The Appleton Post also is a Republican paper.

Here is the way the Chicago News, an independent Republican paper states the position of the Tribune and its Editor — and its statement is true and concise: "Mr. Medill is satisfied that if wood pulp and white paper, and the chemicals used in the composition of white paper, were placed on the free list, then there would be nothing wanting to make happiness of this country complete."

The Post tries to make people here think that the Republican is in favor of a tariff that will protect the pulp and paper interest, right in face of the fact that the leading Republican paper of the north-west is opposed to any tariff on wood pulp or paper!

Next the Post will try to deceive the people as to Count Guenther's position. It will not surprise us to hear denial that last winter, at Madison, he freely declared that he was in favor of placing paper on the free list!

But it's denial won't change the fact, nor deceive anybody.

Democrats Open Drive On Zimmerman's Job

BY PATRICK J. LUCEY

Madison — Upon my return to Wisconsin from World war II, my principal source of knowledge of state politics was John Wyn-gaard's column. That makes me a Wyn-gaard reader of 14 years standing.

In those days Wisconsin's two top Democratic leaders were Bob Tehan (now a federal judge in Milwaukee) and Charles Green, also of Milwaukee.

waukee. I first learned of the existence of these men through Wyn-gaard's column.

While I have usually found John a reliable source of political information, there have been times when I would have welcomed a chance to reach his audience by way of rebuttal. Now that I have the opportunity, I find myself instead writing a rather academic piece about one of our lesser constitutional offices.

Whatever justification there may have been for the position of secretary of state when it was originally incorporated into the Wisconsin constitution, political observers are today at a loss to justify the office and the $12,000 paid each year to its present occupant.

One major responsibility after another has been stripped from the secretary of state's office until now it simply is an agency to which certain individuals, politicians, and businesses are required to report. Its ability to enforce reporting or to police reports for completeness and accuracy are less than impressive.

The Zimmermans, father and son, have come to think of the office of secretary of state as a terminal position, not a stepping stone to greater responsibility, but rather a secure political sanctuary to which tired politicians may retire, assured of good salary, excellent job security, and practically no responsibility to the voters or to other state agencies.

Offhand, abolition of the office would seem the obvious remedy. Unfortunately, past efforts to shorten the ballot by elimination of useless or outmoded positions have met with little success. Useless as is the office, the people of Wisconsin seem to be stuck with it for some time to come.

Trends in state government reform are toward a strong chief executive with heads of major departments appointed by the governor. This results in a cabinet type structure similar to the executive branch of our federal government. New Jersey, with a new constitution, is a prime example of this new form. The Alaska constitution follows the pattern to some degree.

NEW LOOK

Since we cannot readily dispense with the position of secretary of state, I propose we at least think about it in a different light than previously. Even though the office continues to be elective, the secretary of state might become a useful member of the governor's cabinet if he were of the same party and were chosen on the basis of ability rather than familiar name.

Aspirants to the office would do well to look upon it quite frankly as a stepping stone to higher responsibility. Viewed in this light, it would attract a higher caliber of candidate. Both parties should judge their secretary of state candidates on the basis of ability to provide administrative assistance to the party's gubernatorial candidate in the short term, and from the long view, as a potential candidate for governor or U. S. senator.

The office of secretary of state has been an effective springboard elsewhere. Last year Republican Gov. Hatfield of Oregon attracted national attention when, despite the Democratic trend, he moved from secretary of state to governor.

REINKE

Last year, disabled World war II veteran Jerome Reinke was the Democratic candidate. He was credited with a near miss where he lost to Bob Zimmerman by a mere 37,000 votes. With Jerry's recent appointment to the board of tax appeals, the field will be wide open in 1960.

The secretary of state is the third spot on the ballot. With popular incumbents Gaylord Nelson and Phil Lee Nash in the two top positions, the Democratic nomination for secretary of state should be a much coveted prize.

It should attract a number of young, enterprising Democratic aspirants. Voters will be well advised to choose wisely in selecting the Democratic nominee to this relatively unimportant office. Who can tell? If Wisconsin follows Oregon, it may be that the secretary of state we elect in 1960 may become Wisconsin's governor in '62, or '64, or '66.

$637,593 in Budgets Pass Committee

Relief, Street Lighting Largest Of 31 Accounts

The city council's budget committee Tuesday night approved 31 accounts which would provide $637,593.65 in spending next year.

The accounts:

Relief department, $79,669, up $1,729.

Street lighting, $71,495, up $14,667. The account includes completion of installation of new mercury lights on Oneida, Washington and Appleton streets in the downtown area. The cost of $22,155 will be offset on the income side by the same amount in special assessments against abutting property owners.

Parking meter reserve fund, $82,752, up $34,653.40. Income from parking meters is predicted at $90,000. Spending for the meters is scheduled at $27,248.

Contingent fund, $60,000, up $50,712.12 from the $9,287.88 which remains in this year's contingent fund after distributions to overspent accounts. This year's fund could be wiped out by coming winter snow and ice control costs.

City home, $43,380, up $6,873.

Pool Charges

Erb park swimming pool, $47,410, up $23,250. The account provides $20,000 for repair of the leak which was discovered two years ago and which became serious last summer.

City hall, $26,680, up $115. The account provides $4,700 for replacement of 26 of 70 remaining windows with aluminum supports, $1,000 for boiler repairs, and $650 for new flooring at the east entrance.

Mayhem Hearing Set

Rural Green Bay Man Faces Trial For Biting Ear

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Muni c i p a l Judge Donald W. Gleason this morning set Nov. 23 for the date for preliminary hearing in the case of a Green Bay man alleged to have bitten off part of the ear of another man Oct. 20.

Charged with mayhem is Donald Brice, 27, route 2, Green Bay. Bond was fixed at $1,000.

Police said the victim of the alleged attack, Alvin Nickels, 34, route 2, Green Bay, gave a statement at Bellin Memorial hospital where he was taken for treatment.

Nickels told police he and the defendant got into a fight the morning of Oct. 20 after a night of drinking. The two were arguing, Nickels said, and the argument erupted into an altercation which resulted in Brice biting off a part of his ear and the tip of one of his fingers.

I-System Section Opens Thursday Outside Hudson

The first section of Wisconsin's interstate-system Highway 94 will be opened to public travel at 9 a.m. Thursday at ribbon-cutting ceremonies in Hudson.

Clarence Brownson, Outagamie county highway commissioner, expects to attend. The ceremonies also will include Minnesota representatives.

The 59 miles of highway run from just east of Menomonie to Hudson. Later a section between Eau Claire and Menomonie will be joined, making the section the longest link of 4-lane highway in the state. Eventually 452 miles of I-system will be completed.

Turnpike System

The Menomonie to Hudson section has limited access with interchange ramps and dividing strips, much like the turnpike system extending from Beloit to New York, except the Wisconsin highway is toll free.

Dan F. Schutz, safety director for the state motor vehicle department, said the stretch of highway is the safest experts know how to build.

Schutz, a Menomonie native, will be joined at the dedication by two other Menomonie natives, now officials in the state highway department. They are G. Elmer Bakke, state highway commissioner, and James L. Karns, motor vehicle department director.

Seek to Obtain Reports on Viet Nam Aid

Subcommittee Uses New Law to Pry Facts on Program

Washington—(AP)—A senate foreign relations subcommittee is trying to force the administration to give it confidential reports on foreign aid to South Viet Nam.

The subcommittee has a new law, passed by the last session of congress, to back up its demand.

Congress wrote this into the foreign aid money bill. It provides that money for economic aid would be shut off within 35 days for any country or project on which the international cooperation administration withholds information from congress, unless the president personally forbids the disclosure.

In that case, the president would have to certify that he had forbidden disclosure and give his reasons for doing this.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), who heads the subcommittee that has been looking into foreign aid operations in the Asian country, confirmed last night that he has invoked the new law.

New Provisions Mansfield said that two weeks ago he wrote Leonard J. Saccio, acting director of ICA, asking again for ICA's own evaluation of the work in South Viet Nam.

Mansfield said Saccio replied a week later that he would give the request further consideration in the light of the new provisions against secrecy in such matters.

If Saccio refuses to give the

State Man Says Volunteers Gain Peace of Mind

Volunteer work, was called "the best therapeutic method of securing peace of mind" by R. H. Shart, superintendent of county hospital service for the state, at Outagamie county hospital when he presented certificates to new Appleton Red Cross Gray Ladies.

"I have always been favorably impressed with the unselfish dedication of Red Cross workers, and more particularly with the Gray Ladies, who have brought sunshine into the lives of patients in all kinds of hospitals across the country," Shart said.

"The unselfish giving of one's self to one's neighbor is a life-giving force both to the served and to the server. It is a means of securing peace of mind, meaningful happiness, real freedom and creative power for the giver," he said.

He said to make the work most effective, Gray Ladies must have, patience, tolerance, confidence and an ability to listen.

subcommittee this information, Mansfield said, it would be up to President Eisenhower to act to prevent the halting of funds to South Viet Nam—or explain why the information was withheld.

Youth Acquitted Of Stomping Man To Death in Park

New York—(AP)—Peter Manceri, 15, was acquitted Monday night of a charge of stomping to death a 65-year-old man in a Brooklyn park.

Three girls testified that the chief prosecution witness — 13-year-old Dorothy Stauff — told them she had lied when she said the boy killed Edward Butler in Highland park. Dorothy returned to the stand and denied the other girls' story. She insisted she had told the truth.

The prosecution charged Manceri beat and kicked Butler to death July 30 after Butler scolded Manceri and the Stauff girl for necking in the park.

Turmoil broke out in the corridor outside the courtroom when the all-male jury reported its verdict of acquittal.

Sectioning Triples at AHS, Helble Reports

76 Classes Included in Plan, 26 Last Year; Foresees Curriculum Changes in Lower Units

Ability grouping in Appleton High school has nearly tripled over last year, Principal H. H. Helble reported to the board of education.

Last year, 26 classes were sectioned according to students' ability. This year, 76 classes have been sectioned. There are as many as four ability groups in some courses, as few as two others, he reported.

Helble said sectioning is nothing new. "We had it right in this building (Morgan school) 34 years ago," he said. This year senior English and world history have been added to the sectioning. Next year art may be added, he reported. There are two different sections of college senior English which is elected by 98 per cent of all seniors, Helble reported.

He also pointed out that for years some students have been placed in advanced classes. Some underclassmen, for example, have always been permitted to take advanced art if their ability dictated it.

Now that eighth graders are being given algebra, many freshmen will be taking geometry next year, Helble reported. "This is a different sort of ability grouping," he said.

Natural Selection More difficult courses like chemistry, physics and foreign languages naturally are selective, Helble said, eliminating the need for sectioning.

Special sectioning for students with reading problems also has been taking place for about 15 years, Helble added. "We've done a lot for the other end of the scale. Now we're doing something for the top end," he observed.

"We're still a democratic high school. We wouldn't want to be too specialized, but we want everyone to work up to his ability," Helble continued. He referred to the attitude in some quarters that ability grouping is not democratic because it separates students.

Students are divided into sections by five variables, Helble said. They are the several IQ tests taken by students throughout their school years; achievement tests; marks received; recommendation of teacher and principal, and a student's health record.

Despite the recommendation of the administration based on these five variables, students and their parents still can insist on being placed into a higher or lower section, Helble said.

After a student has been placed in a section, he can be transferred either up or down at any time. Helble predicted a mass change at the end of the first 9-week period, which will come soon.

Ability grouping has just begun at the high school and many changes will have to be made in curriculum and courses, Helble pointed out. Students in lower groups have to have material presented to them in a different manner requiring course changes which have not yet been completely worked out, he said. It probably will take three to five years to work out many of the problems, he predicted.

Helble complained that curriculum changes are hard to work out now because department heads no longer have a free hour daily in which to plan their programs or visit classes. Board members pointed out that department heads are given a stipend for extra work entailed by their position.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

As for the agreement on timing—about mid-December—Eisenhower said once again he would have preferred an earlier western conference.

On that matter, De Gaulle apparently has been the stumbling block. The French government took the position that any east-west summit meeting should be deferred until spring, and that there should be "leisurely" meetings of the western leaders in advance of that time. Adenauer has gone along with that view.

Other Topics
At the news conference, attended by 228 reporters, Eisenhower discussed these other topics:
The Kaiser Steel corporation strike settlement agreement with Steelworkers union should be a signal for labor and management to find a basis for getting the industry in general back to full steel production, Eisenhower said. The president noted that Kaiser turns out only about 2 per cent of normal total production of steel. In that light, he added, the Kaiser settlement did not have a very vital impact on the over-all strike picture.

Eisenhower was asked whether the Kaiser - union agreement should, in his opinion, become the basis for gested that in view of the emergency circumstances the high court consider the union's petition Friday of this week. Rogers asked that, if the court decides to hear oral argument on the petition, a hearing be set for Monday, Nov. 2.

Under this suggested procedure, the attorney general said, the supreme court will be in a position to give a final decision on the merits of the case by or near the end of the 6-day stay granted by the court of appeals.

Union Silent
The Steelworkers' union said it had "no comment at the moment" on Rogers' petition. The union had worked for delay in the application of the 80-day back-to-work order in the belief that the stoppage was putting heavy financial pressure on the mills.

Rogers petition first went to Justice William J. Brennan, Jr., for study. This is because Brennan is the justice to whom the Third Circuit Court of Appeals is assigned for supervision. In cases of this importance, however, it is customary for the justice to consult with members of the high court before taking any action. Rogers' petition stated: "There is a pressing need for determination by this (supreme) court of the petition which the union proposes to file. The strike affecting 85 per cent of the capacity of the steel industry has been in effect since July 15, 1959, and eight days have elapsed since the president, having determined that continuance of the strike will imperil the national health and safety, directed the attorney general to initiate this action."

Papers Ready
Rogers pointed out that both lower federal courts have held that continuation of the strike would imperil the national health and safety.

The attorney general said that through cooperation of the union and the justice department, the papers forming the record in the court of appeals in Philadelphia have been printed and are now ready for use by the supreme court.

Rogers said it is the understanding of the justice department that the union is in a position to file its appeal in a very short time.

The attorney general said the case was fully briefed in the Pittsburgh court and it is believed no further research or study will be necessary to present the issues fully to the supreme court.

In effect, Rogers was seeking a short cut in carrying out President Eisenhower's desire to stop the strike for the cooling off period. He also was trying to grab the initiative from the union, since the next move had been left up to the union.

The 3-man Philadelphia court, even though it granted the 6-day stay, upheld the legality of the 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction sought by the government.

Castro Regime Spurns Protest Over Attacks

the correspondent was attacked last night by mobs.

("Dubois has many times over earned a respite from the Cuban beat," the editorial said. "The Tribune is assigning Wayne Thomis, another one of its finest reporters, to record the next chapter in the Castro story." Dubois will return to Cuba, after a rest, the Tribune said.)

Accusation Denied
Relayed by U. S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal at a meeting with Dorticos, the strongly worded protest statement denied Castro's accusation that the U.S. government had allowed planes to fly from Florida fields to bomb Cuba.

"Not only are such charges utterly unfounded," the state department note said, "but they can only contaminate that atmosphere of good faith which should prevail in the relations of good neighbors."

The United States pointed out that Cuba has yet to come up with specific evidence to back up the charges of American-based air attacks.

The statement also mentioned last Wednesday's Anti-Castro leaflet-dropping flights over Havana. It said Maj. Pedro Diaz Lanz, Cuba's former air force chief now in self-exile in Miami, told the U.S. FBI that he piloted an unarmed plane over the Cuban capital that day but later denied this. The statement said an investigation is continuing.

Not Plane Victims
Two Cubans were killed and about 45 injured during the leaflet raid. Castro charged they were victims of bombs from the planes, but eyewitnesses said they were cut down either by troops shooting wildly at the planes or by anti-Castro gangs which at the same time raced through Havana in cars throwing bombs and grenades.

The new mining law followed a statement by Castro last month that his government would investigate concessions held by both the Moa Bay Mining company and the Nicarao plant.

The law places a 5 per cent tax on the value of minerals extracted by mining companies and a 25 per cent levy on the value of minerals or ores exported. The taxes will be figured on the basis of the highest average world market price paid during the year, apparently to prevent companies from selling their products to a subsidiary or affiliate abroad at a sacrifice price.

Amount Not Learned
It could not be learned immediately the amount of taxes currently being paid by the mining companies.

The law also requires mining and oil concessions to be registered within 120 days, and companies not developing their concessions within 60 days after re-registering will lose them. Government officials complained that some concession-holders "are just letting their properties lie idle."

More than $75 million has been poured into the Moa industrial programs.

Moonshining Big Business

26 Years After Prohibition

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
New York — It does not seem possible, but moonshining has developed into a big industry. It is estimated that from 40,000 to 60,000 persons are engaged in producing moonshine liquor and that perhaps 150,000 more are engaged in the distribution and sale of the stuff.

What does this mean in terms of government? It can only mean that just as local governments are unable to deal with the increase in major crimes, so is the federal government unable to enforce its laws because when taxes on a commodity make that commodity too costly, contraband sales set in. In 1958, more than 20,000 illegal stills were seized. According to statistics gathered by Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., their production amounted to about 55,000,000 gallons of moonshine liquor which would gross about $1 billion. According to the same source perhaps 20 per cent of all liquor consumed in this country in 1958, was non-taxed moonshine. This is an enormous percentage, particularly as it is now 26 years after prohibition was abolished and the bootlegger is supposed to be out of business.

Tax Evasion
The same thing is true of moonshining that is true of most other evasive crimes; they cannot be committed without the consent of government officials, particularly at the lower level. It takes 10 pounds of sugar to make a gallon of moonshine. Therefore the wholesaler who sells large quantities of sugar to those who can have no proper use for sugar in such huge dimensions must have some knowledge of the reason for the purchase. There must be gone into the business and finance these operations and whose activities can be traced by efficient government supervision.

To the distillers this is a form of competition that is annoying, but the real issue is tax evasion. Whenever a group is enabled to evade taxes, by whatever method, the rest of us have to pay more taxes. There can be no excuse for creating a privileged class of those who do not pay taxes.
The moonshiner exists because he is able to evade the excise tax on liquor. If he had to pay $10.50 a gallon federal excise tax, plus state taxes, he would go out of business. Whatever he pays to state and county officials as graft is less than $10.50 a gallon. The moonshiner can sell his liquor, after paying graft and taking his profit, for about half the price that tax-paid liquor costs.
Moonshining is now so large it needs to be taken seriously. Crime syndicates have to do. But the game is not worth the candle because all the safety devices that the law has put upon the distilling industry disappear in moonshining. Also, it gives to the criminal elements another commodity in which they can deal freely, designating markets, dividing territories and killing those who stand in their way.

One of the fundamental moral problems in the United States is the re-establishment of the authority of the law and the punishment of those who violate the law. Those who push heroin or marijuana or moonshine whiskey are all of the same ilk; they violate the law, organize crime syndicates and disturb society. Invariably they are able to operate because some law enforcement is unable or unwilling to do its duty or has been so corrupted that it has actually become part of the crime syndicate. These racketeers move in wherever it is possible. They are in narcotics, in moonshine whiskey, in labor unions, even in what has heretofore been regarded as legitimate business. They have their own lawyers and bankers. They are a menace to established government because they are organized to violate the law and evade taxes.

Ike's Labor Stand Shook Both Parties

Lack of Understanding Evident In Comment on Taft-Hartley Act

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — A favorite anecdote of old newspapermen deals with the cub reporter who was dispatched by his city editor to cover a mine disaster. "It was a big story and the news desk waited with growing impatience to hear from its man on the scene."

Long after the early editions had gone to press, the cub filled this sole and poignant message to his paper: "all is confusion; can send nothing."

To almost every congressional faction on the issue of labor legislation, President Eisenhower, however unintentionally, has just sent about the same kind of message.

No New Legislation
In his last press conference he has hit a hard, sudden blow at the hopes of the great bulk of his own party for a "tougher" labor bill at the next session of congress. By indicating that he didn't think much of the Taft-Hartley act he has thrown down the most significant single legislative achievement.

tainities there is one positive certainty in the incident. This is another illustration of the president's lack of grasp of the vital details of the many domestic problems which come to rest at last upon the White House doorstep.

It is not so much the opposition Democrats as the Republicans themselves who privately chafe bitterly at this circumstance. No Republican aware of recent history can go along with the notion that Mr. Eisenhower has anything approaching the understanding of the labor problem that Taft earned by years of hard and devoted work in this field.

And no one who has ever himself been close to any strike can accept the happy view that once the disputants realize the harm they are doing they will voluntarily lay down their economic weapons. It simply does not ever work out that way, any more than this kind of moral persuasion was able to stop the big-business trusts a generation ago. At last, there had to be an anti-trust act.

Hopeful View
It may be that Mr. Eisenhower did not mean to imply that the only good solution of the big strikes, like the present one in steel, would come through "self-discipline" on both sides.

Whether or not he so intended, one thing can be said for sure: there is no tough labor union negotiator, no hard-bitten management negotiator, in all the country who can accept without a wry smile so hopeful a view of human nature.

It may be the president himself will later support additional legislation. At the moment, however, he has thrown the greatest cloud over any early prospect for anything of that kind.

In all these various uncertainties...

Red Star School Problem Settled

Addition, Not Building, Results From Compromise at Last Moment

BY JACK HOLZHUETER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Red Star school district will build.

That decision finally was reached, for the fourth and apparently last time. Tuesday night at the last meeting the school district can hold legally until next July.

The decision was actually a compromise between the hard core of landowners opposing building and advocating attachment to Appleton and a minority who desire a new school.

1 To 2-Room Addition

What the minority got is a 1 to 2-room addition to the present 40-year-old, 1-room red brick schoolhouse on a 1-acre plot a mile south of Appleton on the Old Manitowish road in Calumet county. They had been pushing for a 2 to 4-room school on a new site near the present building.

A bond issue of up to $69,000 was approved after the addition was voted. The building committee will meet at 8 p. m. Nov. 9 to discuss building procedures and how large to make the new addition. It is up to the school board to decide what form the addition will take.

Both sides appeared happy that the 7-month-long controversy had been settled, but some new-school advocates believed they had compromised too much and put themselves in the peculiar position of voting against building proposals they probably would have approved months ago.

Wants a Good School

Mrs. Marilyn Nelson, building advocate who wrote several letters to the Post-Crescent editor, said privately after the meeting:

"We had to compromise a little more than we wanted, but we accomplished a lot more than we would have at an ordinary meeting. Now all we need is a good school."

Orville Johann, school clerk and attachment advocate, was heard to say after the meeting that a considerable tax savings had been accomplished through the compromise. The addition, he thought, was "just as good" as a new school.

Van Hoof Maneuver

The compromise apparently was worked out almost exclusively by the school's legal counsel, Gerard Van Hoff, Little Chute. Van Hoof said he saw no other plan than to begin all over again. Consequently, he added five resolutions to the original bonding proposal calling the special meeting—the second and last permitted the district under the state law.

Van Hoof put the original

Famous Organist to Give Pop Concert at Brown County Arena

Dick Leibert, chief organist at Radio City Music hall, will present a popular concert at 8:15 Saturday night at Brown County Veterans Memorial arena.

Besides his fame as an organist of both classical and pop music, Leibert is a well-known composer. His waltz, "Come Dance With Me," has won wide acclaim.

weeks ago, the district refused to bond itself to build the new school it approved. Then Van Hoof worked out the compromise and the struggle was ended.

High Fashion Vies With Top Operatic Song

Italian Star Makes Bright Met Debut As Season Opens

BY HENRIETTA LEITH

New York—The 75th season of the Metropolitan Opera is under way after an opening night at which the Met offered up an exciting new star and a new production of an old, old favorite.

As usual the season's opening at the old opera house offered another show—the audience—with its own stars and all the glamor and glitter any one could want.

The opera was "Il Traviatore," and most real opera lovers went to hear and see Italy's famed Giulietta Simionate make her Metropolitan debut as the gypsy Azucena. They were not disappointed.

Fashion Show

Neither were the opera patrons who went mainly to see the celebrated opening night audience.

It was a fashion parade—heavy brocades and glistening satins, electric greens, bold yellows and reds against stark white, gleaming gold and silver; swaths of mink, ermine or chinchilla, especially chinchilla; diamonds, rubies and emeralds in the traditional necklaces an diaras or tucked into chignons at every imaginable angle.

The Met took in an estimated $86,000 for the opening night of a season that will be the longest in its history running for 25 weeks.

For the first time in years, would come from property taxes, will be studied at a public hearing at 8 p.m. Nov. 9.

If approved the city tax rate would be $6.64 per $1,000 of valuation compared with $6.66 this year.

The total budget figure is down $12,123 over 1959 figures. The drop is largely accounted for by the completion of the Main street improvement project which was included in the old budget.

The tax rate decrease comes about from an increase in assessed valuation. The valuation in 1958 was $7,908,250 compared with $8,123,725 this year.

Police Candidate

The application of Edgar Fowler as assistant police officer was referred to the police lice committee for recommendation.

Edward Schlies of the planning commission reported on a meeting regarding rezoning various parcels of land from residential to commercial. The presentation will be given further consideration.

There will be no charge made to the Brillion Adult Vocational school for the use of the city council room on Tuesday mornings for the fur restyling class.

Ervin Bergelin was given permission to break out the necessary curb for a driveway entrance on Monroe street.

The problem of diagonal parking on Water street was referred to the police commission and city affairs committee.

Still Going Strong as Top Tune Both in Fox Cities, Across Nation

BY DICK DISC

"Mack the Knife" again is the No. 1 tune in the Fox Cities. It has been on top for almost two months now and still is going strong. It's also top tune in the nation, reports The Magazine Billboard.

Runner-up is the Fleetwoods' big recording of "Mr. Blue" and Jerry Wallace has remained in the top three spotlight with "Primrose Lane."

Only one new tune appears on the chart this week. It's "Danny Boy," the old standard that is sung to a rock and roll beat by Conway Twitty.

Here's the big 10:

1. "Mack the Knife" by Bobby Darin.
2. "Mr. Blue" by the Fleetwoods.
3. "Primrose Lane" by Jerry Wallace.
4. "Put Your Head On My Shoulder" by Paul Anka.
5. "Teen Beat" by Sandy Nelson.

6. "Just Ask Your Heart" by Frankie Avalon.

7. "Red River Rock" by Johnny and the Hurricanes.

8. "Don't You Know" by Della Reese.

9. "Don't Destroy Me" by Crash Craddock.

10. "Danny Boy" by Conway Twitty.

Five years ago, "Skokiaan" was one of the big numbers, and 10 years ago "That Lucky Old Sun" was a big one. "Mack the knife" holds 2300 New tunes this week include:

"Scarlet Ribbons" by the Browns is another first rate performance by the group that gave us "The Three Bells." It's more along the folk song line and is given a good reading. Flip side features an adaptation of "Three Blind Mice," called "Blue Bells Ring."

"Come Into My Heart" by Lloyd Price is a strong effort. It's another rather loud vocal backed up by a strong chorus and good orchestra. More good rock with rock and roll.

New Albums

New in albums: "The Strings Sing: The Knightsbridge Strings has a lot of good ballads, mostly old, done with the plush "cry" style that made the Strings so popular. Good album covered sets the whole thing off in a fashionable fashion.

"Movin" with Kay Starr has both swing and soft sounds blended in a good variety of music. Van Alexander conducts the orchestra, backing up Kay on "Indiana," "Lazy River," "Night Train," and the title tune, plus more. Kay's tangy voice lends much to these selections.

3 Galleries Will Get Art Collection

New York—An art collection reportedly worth millions has been left to New York, Washington and San Diego galleries by Mrs. William R. Timken, widow of a roller bearing magnate.

Mrs. Timken, 78, was found dead in her lavish but unkempt 24-room apartment on Fifth avenue Saturday. A search of the apartment turned up the will yesterday.

Mrs. Timken's attorney, Joseph M. Hartfield, disclosed that her huge art collection was bequeathed to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, the National Art Gallery in Washington and a gallery in San Diego. Nearly all, however, goes to the Metropolitan.

A jewelry collection was left to various charities. The remainder of the estate was bequeathed to Mrs. Timken's two sons by a previous marriage, Todd Ford, who died after the will was drawn in 1950, and Robert Freeman Ford of Pasadena, Calif.

Mrs. Timken was left more than $4 million in cash and securities when her husband died in 1949.

Falls in Home

Peter Hendricks, 79, route 1, Appleton, was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital about 3 p. m. Monday by Larry's ambulance after he fell in his home and broke his right hip.

Zoning Conference

City planning commissioners have voted to ask the council for permission to attend the "Conference on Zoning for Community Betterment" at Milwaukee Nov. 9.

Woman Killed During Holdup

San Francisco — A bullet from a robber's gun killed a police sergeant's mother Monday night.

Mrs. Emily Davis, 55, mother of Sgt. Robert J. Davis, was shot in the back of the head at the small grocery store which she operated with her husband, Ben.

The gunman was described as being of either Negro or Mexican descent and his companion as a Negro.

The elder Davis said the two men walked in, one displaying a black automatic pistol, probably a .32, and said it was a stickup.

"We gave them the day's receipts from the cash register—I don't know how much," Davis related.

The armed man ordered the two to "get into the back room," and shot Mrs. Davis as they moved obediently toward the rear of the store. No customer was in the store.

The bandits fled on foot.

It was the third time the grocery has been robbed in five years.

Teenagers Sue Police Chief for Violation Of Little Rock Rights

Little Rock, Ark., — Three teenagers arrested in a segregationist disturbance near Central High school Aug. 12 have sued Police Chief Eugene G. Smith. Each is asking $50,000 for alleged violation of civil rights.

The suits were filed in federal court Monday by parent of the youths. The boys are Calvin Parish, 18; Charles James Bailey, 16, and Leon Kyzer, 16.

Amis Guthridge, segregationist attorney, represents the three. He previously filed two $50,000 suits against Smith, for two women who also claimed their rights were violated by police at the demonstration.

Police Chief Asks Quiet Halloween

Warns Gangs Will be Broken Up; Parents Responsible for Children

Appleton Police Chief Walter J. Hendricks today issued an appeal and a warning to the city's children and young adults for their Halloween celebrations Saturday.

The chief's message: "Again we approach the one night of the year when we must make an appeal to our young people to preserve the rights and property of the citizens of Appleton."

"Halloween has for some strange reason become the night to give vent to strong feelings of vandalism — wilful destruction of property — and rowdiness. "A few years ago we suffered much vandalism in our downtown area. Offenders were taken into custody and parents were compelled to pay all costs emanating from these actions."

Proud of Youth
"Last year was one Halloween we shall always remember. We were mighty proud of the behavior on the part of all our youth. "My direct appeal to you as youths is to channel your activities in the right direction. Attend parties and dances and social gatherings planned for you by the recreation department, churches and in private homes under proper surveillance. It is imperative that par-

Total Surplus of $39,000
The $21,000 surplus includes $18,000 in government bonds and $3,000 in a savings and loan institution. There is another $16,000 banked in the

Burglars Confess To 47 Breakins

Admit Taking Some $8,000 From Businesses in Dozen Counties

Post-Crescent News Service

Oconto — A trio of parolees from Waupun has confessed to a wave of burglaries that netted an estimated $8,000 in loot taken in 47 breakins ranging over a dozen counties.

The questioning also filled in some background of the rash of 10 burglaries in Waupun and Shawano counties last Thursday night.

Drove In Fog
The trio was picked up Saturday night at a tavern near Stiles Junction after investigation by Lt. Jack Zuelzke and Lt. Jack Frenz, of the Outagamie sheriff's department, turned up a tip on their whereabouts.

Waupaca Sheriff Ray Abrahamson reported the men told him they used back roads in the 2-county dash and despite the heavy fog last Thursday they drove without headlights.

They came close to being captured after they took a 500-pound safe out of the Clintonville Bottling Works. Les Casper, a Bear Creek cheesemaker coming home from a convention in Shawano, saw the men parked on a back road and stopped to offer them assistance.

His offer was rejected. The burglars were opening the safe at the time, Abrahamson said.

The parolees are Wallace Peters, Jr., 27, star route, Shawano, Emil R. Kitzman, 31, Milwaukee, and Tom J. Heider, 27, Little Suamico.

Territory Extended
Their confessions Monday revealed 16 burglaries in what appeared to be a 5-county crime wave. Tuesday's admissions extended the territory to Milwaukee, Thiensville, Muskego, Waupun, Woodruff, Pepin, Nelson, Eagle, Black Creek and Green Bay.

Peters, held at Marinette county jail until Tuesday, started to talk when he was brought to Oconto. He said he worked on about 20 of the burglaries.

Oconto Burglaries
Six more Oconto county burglaries and safe cracking jobs that were denied Monday were admitted Tuesday.

They were the Oconto Falls Bowling alley on July 11, where a safe was hauled out and $700 in cash and $281 in checks were taken; the Surging Bowling alley on Sept. 27, $114 cash; the Gillett Bowling alley on the same date, where $800 was obtained; the Swanson Red Owl store and the Adam Korbus place at Lakewood last Feb. 21. The Swanson loss was $158. Nothing was missing from the Korbus place. Peters also admitted a Townsend burglary.

Only one Green Bay job was admitted by the men when questioned by Richard Schrickel, special investigator for the Brown county sheriff's department. That was at a service station on Oct. 19, where nothing was missing.

One of the most lucrative hauls of the series for Peters was at a Wausau bowling alley in August where, alone, he made off with $2,500.

Worked Off Anger
The night of Oct. 21 was a poor one at Pepin and Nelson reported to day two days of in western Wisconsin. Work-questioning broke the stubborn burglars and brought forth a safe for $20 at a garage at string of confessions from Nelson, got only $9 at a Pepin garage and when the cash burglaries reaching as far back as February.

Peters also admitted Monday he had burglarized three stores in Wausaukee in Marinette county.

Believing that most interested officials were about through with the questioning, Sheriff Schoenebeck said Tuesday night he expected to take the trio to court today.

Two Milwaukee officials were here Tuesday. Lt. Jack Zuelzke, Appleton, has assisted Schoenebeck and Under-sheriff Harold Reed since Saturday night. He was a member of the raiding party that apprehended the trio and stayed on the case until Tuesday night.

Wage Hikes Usual Occurrence in '59

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Throughout the months of grim warfare over the steelworkers' contract, this is what has been happening in labor negotiations and to workers' paychecks in industries across the nation.

More than 2,000,000 workers have received pay hikes from thousands of corporations under new major collective bargaining agreements.

Another 2,000,000-plus have received pay boosts under previously negotiated long-term agreements which provided either higher wages or cost-of-living adjustments or both in 1959.

The most common increases this year have averaged 7 to 8 cents an hour, according to the U. S. department of labor; one out of four workers covered by settlements reached in the first six months got pay boosts in this range.

However, few of these settlements were in the heavy-goods industries — industries which since World War II have seen the most spectacular wage hikes. Most were in such industries as textiles, men's clothing, retail trade and utilities.

Thus, while the pay hikes in 1959 appear lower than the 9 to 11-cent averages in the same periods of 1958 and 1957, the labor department says flatly that the cuts reflect differences in industries that negotiated in each period rather than a reduction in the size of wage increases within individual industries.

Construction Industry
The average increase for all building scales in the construction industry has been about 11.6 cents an hour against 10.7 cents an hour in the first half of 1958 and 12 cents in the same period of 1957.

In California several 3-year contracts were signed in July giving truckdrivers in the construction industry wage hikes and benefits totaling from 64.5 cents to 73 cents an hour over the 3-year period. In San Francisco and New York City, 3-year agreements were signed by the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers providing for improvements valued at 70 and 50 cents, respectively.

Supplementary benefits have been established in the vast majority of the contracts negotiated, with the most frequent improvements affecting health and welfare, vacations and pension plans.

The trend toward long-term contracts specifying wage changes for periods of at least two years is continuing.

Some bitter and prolonged strikes have been settled since steel went out in mid-July. As an illustration, a 109-day strike at Fairbanks, Morse in St. Louis was ended with the union getting a 10 1/2 cent hourly wage hike and an extra paid holiday. An 11-week walkout was ended at the J. I. Case plant in Rockland, Ill., with the union taking a 12 cents hourly raise. A 25-day teamsters strike in San Francisco was ended with the union getting a 2-year contract providing for a $12 weekly pay increase this year and a $9 increase in 1960 plus added vacation benefits.

And there have been fewer settlements this year involving no pay hikes than in 1958 or 1957. Only 4 per cent of workers signing new contracts in the first six months got no pay increase against 7 per cent who received none in the like 1958 period and 12 per cent in the '57 period.

Pay Hikes Usual
The trend toward higher paychecks which characterized the 1959 scene before the steel strike still characterizes it.

The "hold the line" wage talk has been strictly a headline. Maybe the steel industry's stand has stiffened employers' resistance to wage hikes and cut total pay increases, but that's only a "maybe." The year 1959 already is sure to go down in history as a year of labor strife, strikes, and major pay boosts.

Planners Oppose Rezoning Request On Calumet Street

Opposition to rezoning an agricultural tract about a quarter mile east of John street on Calumet street has been voted by the city planning commission.

Keneth Guyette's machine shop would be too close to the proposed second high school site at John and Calumet, commissioners said. The school can be expected to cause a prime residential neighborhood to grow in the area, it was noted.

A letter of opposition will be forwarded to the county board's board of adjustment, which will hold a public hearing on Guyette's request to rezone the tract to commercial and light manufacturing district.

The hearing is scheduled at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 13.

Neenah Woman Pays Penalty On Two Counts

Chilton — Jeanne S. Grove, S. Park road, Neenah, was fined $10 on each of two traffic counts by Justice Wilber Winch. She was charged with operating a vehicle with expired registration and driving with an expired drivers license. Robert Schoen, 16, Stockbridge, had his driver's license suspended for 30 days for driving on the sidewalk. Fined $10 for speeding were Eugene J. Felzkowski, 27, Two Rivers, and Otto K. La Budde, 19, route 1, Plymouth. William Brux, Jr., 35, route 3, Kaukauna, paid a similar fine for operating a non registered vehicle.

Pontiff Working on Details Of His Ecumenical Council

BY FRANK BRUTTO

Vatican City. — Pope John XXIII, completing the first year of his pontificate today, faces the complex details of the Ecumenical council he has called.

Dedicated to unity of the world's Christian forces, the council could well prove to be the outstanding event of the pope's reign.

At least another year will be required to prepare for the council, the first in nearly 100 years. More than anything else the pontiff has done in the past year, announcement of the congress brought into sharp focus the great task the former cardinal patriarch of Venice shouldered as the 262nd supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic church.

The council will bring to Rome delegates of the church from all parts of the world. Because of the church's growth in the last century, the meeting possibly will be the biggest ever held in the church's 2,000 years of history.

The pontiff's announcement of the event finally set aside the notion of some observers here before his election that the reign of Pius XII's successor would be a "mark time" affair.

Named New Cardinals
The 77-year-old pope acted quickly against that notion. Less than a day after his election on Oct. 28, he used radio to give his blessing to the world and to indicate that his reign — like that of his predecessor — would be dynamic.

Less than 60 days passed before he named 23 new cardinal princes of the church to bring membership of the Sacred college to 74 — four more than the previous complement of 70 and the highest number in history.

To underline the importance of his call for the Ecumenical council, Pope John made his announcement on Jan. 25, anniversary of the conversion of St. Paul who, from a persecutor of Christians, became the early church's far-ranging apostle.

The last Ecumenical council, called in 1869, was interrupted when Italian troops occupied Rome to make it the capital of modern Italy. The Eternal City until then had been under papal authority.

21st in History
Pope John's council will be the twenty-first in church history. A brief communique issued by the Vatican press office at the time of the original announcement said that "in the thought of the holy father, the council aims not only at the edification of Christian people, but desires further to serve as an invitation to the communities separated (from the Roman Catholic church) to seek unity, to which so many souls aspire in all parts of the world."

Decisions of past ecumenical councils have been historic. The first, in 325, set the date for Easter; the third, in 431, declared that the Virgin Mary was the mother of God; the ninth, in 1123, dealt with the recovery of the Holy Lands by the Crusaders; the sixteenth also known as the Council of Constance — between 1414 and 1418 — resolved the great schism when false claimants to the papacy challenged the authority of the pope.

18-Year Council
One of the greatest—the nineteenth, or Council of Trent—lasted 18 years, from 1545 to 1563. It examined and condemned the beliefs of Martin Luther and tightened the flagging discipline of the Catholic church itself.

There have been no guesses on what may be the results of Pope John's council. Reaction to the original announcement was widespread. Much of it was favorable. Some from non-Catholic sources indicated a cautious interest.

During the first year of his reign, Pope John has with charm and humor established himself as one of the most gracious of the pontiffs of the Roman Catholic church. The ecumenical council may establish him as one of the great ones.

2 Compositions By Lawrence Men Played

Compositions by two Lawrence college composers — one faculty and one student — were heard in Madison on the Wisconsin Composer's concert held in connection with the Wisconsin Music Teachers association convention.

Clyde Duncan's "Sonatina for Clarinet and Piano" was performed by two students — clarinetist Stanley Smith, Fond du Lac, and pianist Karen Beck, Lomira. Duncan is head of the piano department at the Lawrence conservatory of music, in addition to teaching form and analysis. The song cycle "Saibara" by senior student Ronald Sindelar, Manitowoc, was performed by the composer at the piano, Sandra Williams, Escanaba, Mich., contralto; Jean Jepson, Nekeosa, English horn; and Karin Swenson, Sheboygan, cello. Faculty members participating in the convention program were James Ming, who as president of the Wisconsin Theory Teachers association acted as chairman of a college music panel; Paul Hollinger who participated in a theory panel, and LaVahn Maesch who was chairman of the college music section.

Congregational Church to Hold Dinner for 300

About 300 people are expected to attend the all-parish turkey dinner at 6:30 p. m. today in the First Congregational church dining room. The dinner will have a harvest theme and the hall will be decorated with oak leaves, Indian corn and pumpkins. The meal will be served cafeteria style.

A colored slide on the story of the church will be shown after the dinner. Slides were prepared by Dr. Clifford Frey, Orville Hawkins, and the Rev. H. Shelby Lee, pastor. Dr. E. Grahame Waring will narrate the slides. John Rosebush, chairman of the board of trustees, will present the new budget, and the Rev. John Hanchett, pastor of the Menasha Congregational church and chairman of the national Christian higher education fund, will speak. Mrs. William Pickett is dinner chairman and Mrs. Karel Zimmerman is dining room chairman. The fellowship period begins at 6 p. m.

Don Bosco Guild Plans Membership Party
A membership kickoff party will be held at 9 p. m. Saturday at St. Joseph school by the Appleton Don Bosco guild. The party is the first event in the guild's membership campaign. Members must be Catholic, single, and more than 18 years of age. Suggestions for the activities of the guild are made by members at the monthly meetings held at 8 p. m. the second Tuesday of each month at St. Joseph church.

Simple Precautions Will Keep Goblins Safe and Healthy

Even the most mischievous goblin can be brought home safely at Halloween if parents follow the rules offered in an article in the national magazine of American Medical association.

Costumes: Make sure they are flameproof and light-colored to be seen easily at night. Reflecting tape, liquid, or bands will do the decorating job best. Be sure costumes won't trip their wearers, or catch on bushes, hedges or fences. To outfit a goblin with a skeleton suit, try sewing one from muslin. It's expensive, and either a one-or-two-piece suit may be made.

Look Both Ways
Makeup: Masks are dangerous, since they restrict vision and also provide a danger of suffocation. Paint false faces on children, using cosmetics and burnt cork for effect.

Equipment: A high speed goblin carrying a candle or torch may hurt himself. The same is true if he carries a knife, sword, or other sharp instrument. Equip your goblin with a flashlight-powered lantern, and a dummy knife.

Prowling: Be sure your goblin informs you of where he's going, how long he'll be out, if he's under supervision, and if he'll be with others of his own age. Above all, remind children not to dash into streets, not to play in them, not to cross without looking both ways.

Drive slowly, there will be more children than usual in the streets.

For home parties: be sure decorations are flameproof. Gear the program to interest all the youngsters, but don't try to scare them too much. Very young children shouldn't go through "torture chambers" or "halls of horror." For trick-or-treaters: wrap cookies or other treats for door visitors. It will keep the treats clean. Also remind your Halloween visitors that even goblins are subject to sick stomachs when they eat too many sweets.

For home safety: keep your porch light on and remove all breakable objects and furniture from your lawn, steps and porch.

Salary Increase For Judges, DA Asked of Board

Supervisors Approve $2 Hike In Cost-of-Living Bonus

Oshkosh — Salary increases for various elected officials were presented at Tuesday afternoon's county board session and were referred to the personnel committee.

The board granted county employees a $2 cost of living bonus increase in line with a rise in the department of labor's statistical living cost index. The bonus will be $57 a month effective Nov. 1.

Automatic increases also were approved for courthouse employees who are not up to the top of their pay bracket.

Reimbursement of $71 to County Judge Herbert Mueller for purchase of a robe to wear in county court was denied, despite a judiciary committee recommendation that the payment be made.

The state County Judges association at its convention had voted to require all county judges to wear robes starting Jan. 1. Judge Mueller said he planned to leave his robe with the county when he no longer is judge.

Should Buy Own Robe
Supv. William Kelsch, Oshkosh, thought paying for the robe would be a poor policy and recalled that Circuit Judge H. F. Arps had paid for his own robes. Judiciary committee members replied that Judge Arps planned to keep his robe.

Other supervisors said that since it was the state County Judges association rather than the state legislature that ordered robes be worn, they did not think the county was required to pay the costs.

The judiciary committee's motion to pay the $71 received only eight affirmatives. Turn to Page 2, Col. 2

Boy Admits Thefts; 88 Items of Women's Clothing Recovered

Oshkosh — A series of thefts from cars parked in the downtown area was solved Tuesday afternoon with the apprehension of a 15-year old Oshkosh boy.

The youth was picked up as he took a package out of a car parked on Main street. In questioning at the police station, the boy admitted the thefts and 88 items of women's clothing were recovered from his home. He told police he had thrown away some dresses, skirts, sweaters and slacks.

The boy was in juvenile court in January for theft. The latest series took place over a 6-month period.

Twin City Deaths

Mrs. Harold Rank

Menasha — Mrs. Harold Rank, 64, 827 Manitowoc street, died at 11:05 p.m. Tuesday after suffering a heart attack Tuesday morning. She was born Dec. 7, 1894 in Menasha and was a life resident of the city except for 1924 to 1928 when she lived in Kenosha.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Trinity Lutheran church with the Rev. Walter Lichtsinn in charge. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery. Friends may call at the Laemmrich Funeral home from 3 p.m. Thursday to 11 a.m. Friday and at the church after Friday noon.

Survivors are the husband, George Roberts of Neenah; a foster-son, John Brown of Kaukauna; a brother, Joseph Schultz of Appleton; and five sisters, Mrs. Anna Stoltz and Mrs. Dudley Werch of Oshkosh, Mrs. Alfred Pauer of Kenosha, Mrs. Herman Kraft of Berlin and Mrs. John Kryszak of Appleton.

court in January for theft. The latest series took place over a 6-month period.

Changes Plea, Driver Fined for Accident

Menasha — Robert Kern, 33, route 1, charged with inattentive driving, today changed his plea to no contest and was fined $25 and costs by Police Justice Arthur J. Ales.

Kern's car struck the rear end of one driven by Sylvester R. Omachinski, 51, 740 Racine street, in front of the latter's home Sept. 28. Omachinski's car, turning into the driveway was thrust by the impact into the neighboring George Dorow home, at 746 Racine street piercing a bedroom wall.

Donald Joas, 19, route 2, was found guilty of speeding and fined $25 and costs. He was arrested Oct. 20 on Ahnape street on his motorcycle and pleaded innocent the next day.

Taxes Take Over 25 Pct. of National Income, Treasury Official Declares

Oshkosh — Taxes now amount to just over 25 per cent of the total national income, Fred C. Scribner, Jr., undersecretary of the treasury, told the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce at its annual dinner Tuesday night.

Approximately 350 persons heard Scribner in his two appearances here Tuesday. He spoke to 150 Republicans at a noon luncheon, held a press conference with television, radio and newspaper reporters and then addressed 200 Chamber of Commerce members and guests at their dinner at the Athearn hotel.

He pointed out the tax load in the country, already at an all-time high, is shooting up at a record rate. The total tax bill of all governments, federal, state and local, for the year which began July 1 has gone up more than $13 billion to a total of $113 billion.

Tax Burden
Scribner cited the tax burden of the typical taxpayer would rise about $63, or 10 per cent, this year. This will be a burden of $629 for each person in the country, compared to $337 10 years ago.

City Budget Requests Up 20 Per Cent

Neenah Officials Concerned Over Financial Problem

Neenah — Budget requests to the city for 1960 amount to more than $3,900,000 or an increase of over 20 percent from this year's figures. Mayor Chester Bell said this morning.

If all requests were granted as applied for it would mean an overall increase of $8 per $1,000 of assessed valuation on the 1960 tax rate. Bell explained. This year the city had a $51 rate.

Bell said he, city officials and councilmen, are deeply concerned over the financial problem they are faced with. The officials will have to meet with the various departments and determine where requests can be pared down.

Assessed Value
Neenah's assessed value increased by 3.82 per cent of $1,397,000. This means that with the present rate of $51

Board Declines Request to Have Editor Appear

Oshkosh — Members of the Winnebago county board this morning defeated a resolution requesting that the editor of the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern be asked to appear before the board and offer recommendations on how the board can save the taxpayers money.

Herman Brandt, Omro, offered the resolution after no one showed up for a public hearing on the budget this morning. "The editor," he said "has been shooting off about politicians spending money in editorials in the paper. If he believes we are spending this money foolishly he should be willing to come in and tell us where we can save it."

"We cannot ask a man, because of his views, to stand on them before the county board," E. G. Steinhilber, 12th ward, Oshkosh, said.

School Levy Also Has Two Bond Demands

Menasha — The 1960 Menasha school budget provides for a school district levy of $730,609, instead of the $629,359 listed on the estimate given the city council last week, Mayor R. G. DuCharme pointed out today.

He said the lower figure does not include the $101,250 needed in 1960 to pay for retirement of the Clovis-Grove and Sixth street elementary school bond issues.

When the board of education drew up the budget estimate, the mayor added, the bond issue payments should have been included in the direct tax levy from the district.

The $730,609 will be levied from the city of Menasha and the Maplewood school district, in the western part of the town of Menasha. For this year, the city provided 78.7 per cent and the town area 21.3 per cent of the tax levy.

Next year, the mayor believes, the percentage should be close to this year's figure. The shares are based on equalized value.

The school budget totals $811,716 for operation. With the bond payments, it would total $912,965.

The city council has not approved the tentative school budget.

New Home Permit Issued at Neenah

Neenah — Builders Inc. have been issued a permit for a $16,000 home and attached garage on Peckham street, according to Carlton F. Williams, building inspector. The permit is the 155th of the year five behind the total at this time a year ago.

Health Group Asks For Additional Nurse

Treasurer Tells County Board of Need for Extra Help in Department

Oshkosh — Hiring of two additional county employees that by an inadvertent omission was requested of the county board Tuesday afternoon by County Treas. Earl E. Fuller and by the county health committee.

The county health committee asked for an assistant county nurse, citing the load of the present county nurse was so great that she could not meet all the needs for her service.

The committee proposed that $4,520 be put into the 1960 budget for salary and $400 for travel expenses. The request was referred to the personnel committee.

County Treas. Fuller told of the increased demands upon the services of Carl Mailahn, tax description supervisor, and Linden Reif, tract index recorder, in connection with their work and the lack of a person trained to fill those jobs in the event of illness. The addition of a third person also could help the county clerk's office by taking care of the zoning changes.

Okays $1,000 Claim
The taxation committee was directed to study this need and to bring in a recommendation. It also was asked to study and bring in a recommendation regarding posting the chattel mortgages in the register of deeds office after the county board voted to settle for $1,000 a claim brought by the Rock Finance company.

Register of Deeds Bernice L. Fuller advised the board that by an inadvertent omission a chattel mortgage on board Tuesday afternoon by fixtures of a Menasha restaurant was not posted. The finance company did not find any chattel mortgages posted in an index and issued a mortgage. A previous mortgage holder foreclosed and the finance company lost $1,148 on its mortgage.

Miss Fuller called attention to her office recording up to 100 chattel mortgages a day besides other documents and that this was the first case in many years that one was not posted when filed. It is something that could happen in a busy office, she explained.

A new type record system will be used in the department starting Jan. 1, she added.

School Committee Mileage
Referred to the personnel committee was a request that county school committee members be paid 7 cents a mile rather than 6 cents so that its mileage rate will be the same as that paid other county groups. It was omitted when the mileage increases were granted.

With the requests for additional help and salary increases, Ald. Gordon Hanson, Winchester, asked how the board was going to hold down taxes "with more and more jobs being created and where one department cuts its budget, others use up that money with increased requests."

Canco Reports New Records in Sales, Earnings

Increases Announced for All Divisions, Including Marathon

Neenah — New records in sales and earnings of the American Can company, including those of Marathon division were reported for the nine-months period ended Sept. 30, William C. Stolk, president, declared.

Roy J. Sund, Marathon's vice president and general manager, was informed by Stolk that the nine-months sales volume of $873,238,768, exceeded the comparable 1958 total of $795,495,430 by $77,743,338, an increase of 9.8 per cent.

Stolk said that all product divisions — Bradley — Sun, Canco, Dixie Cup and Marathon — contributed to the increased sales volume.

Up 7.6 Per Cent
In the first nine months of 1959, earnings were up 7.6 per cent over the previous year, rising to $40,143,001, after provisions for taxes, from the $37,300,262 in the comparable 1958 period. The 1959 nine-months total, after payment of preferred dividends, was equivalent to $2.42 per share of common stock compared to $2.24 in the previous year's nine months.

Earnings as a per cent of sales increased from 4.2 per cent in the first six months of this year to 4.6 per cent for the nine-months period.
Sales in the third quarter were up 11.3 per cent over the prior year's quarter and totaled $362,744,564. In the like 1958 period, sales amounted to $325,947,808.

Quarterly Earnings
Earnings for the quarter, after provision for taxes, amounted to $18,653,458, as compared with $19,107,964 in 1958. After payment of preferred dividends, the earnings were equal to $1.14 per share of common stock compared to $1.17 in 1958.

In spite of the distortion in the supply of tin plate, due to the strike in the steel industry, a high level of production was maintained. "This achievement was due to our building adequate tin plate inventories and our coil processing program," Stolk said. He pointed out it has been apparent for the past ten months that, because of the issues involved, a strike in the basic steel industry would be of long duration. "Accordingly," he added, "we accumulated substantial inventories in the months preceding the strike and, as a result we have been able to meet the heavy requirements of our customers. The cost of this precaution has been well justified."

while 35 votes were cast against it.

The judiciary committee also presented resolutions asking for increases in pay for those elected officials coming under its jurisdiction.

It asked the pay of the county judge be raised $600 a year to a $10,000 total, the municipal and juvenile judge combined salary $1,100 to a total of $9,500 and the clerk of courts $300 a year to a new salary of $4,860.

Increases of $300 a year for the district attorney and $150 a year for each of his two part-time assistant district attorneys also was asked. Their present salaries are $6,600 for the district attorney and $3,150 for the two assistants.

The judiciary committee also asked the public building committee to improve the lighting in the county court room.

Salary increases for other officials requested by the agriculture and education committee were $500 a year for the county superintendent of schools, who now gets $5,820; $240 for the assistant home agent and $140 for the assistant county agent. Their salaries are paid largely by the state.

These requests also were referred to the personnel committee.

Asks Leaves be Raked Near Curbs in Menasha

Menasha — Street Supt. Evan Baldwin today asked city residents to rake leaves up to the curbs, but not into the gutters, so street department crews can pick them up. Leaves in the gutter, he said, will clog sewers. He also asked no stones or branches in the leaves, since they can damage the machinery.

look for the country's economy is good and that the strong inflationary pressures of last year have been checked. The budget submitted by the president for the current fiscal year is a balanced one and he is now putting together another balanced budget for 1961.

The President, Scribner said, had to take his fight for a balanced budget directly to the people. "Weakening our economy will play into the hands of those who threaten our way of life just as surely as weakening our military position."

After outlining why a balanced budget was necessary for strengthening the country's economy and safeguarding the savings of the people, Scribner called for reductions in the national debt through reducing expenditures at the federal level.

"The treasury is dedicated to the proposition that sound money is the firm foundation on which an effective anti-inflationary program must be based," the undersecretary advocated.

Hits Soft Money
The softest kind of money is printing press money such as the Revolutionary war Continental currency and the Civil war's "greenbacks." While no one advocates that kind of money today, there are many who advocate what is in essence the same thing.

"The people must choose," he concluded, "between artificially low interest rates created by soft money, and the inflation that results, or the flexible interest rates that are essential if inflation is to be avoided and growth is to be healthy, long-lasting and rewarding."

Sufficient Room Since DHIA Moved To County Home

Oshkosh — The Oshkosh Red Cross office will be allowed to stay in the courthouse rather than seek quarters elsewhere, the county board agreed Tuesday afternoon.

Supv. Floyd Shurbert, town of Algoma, public building committee chairman, informed the board that sufficient room now was available since the Dairy Herd Improvement association had moved from the county agent's office to the basement of the county home.

This provided more space for the soil conservation department which was in need of room.

In a letter to the board, Red Cross chapter officials cited the various things done for the county agencies and the desire to have its office near the sheriff's office in case of any civil defense disaster or need.

City Budget Requests Up 20 Per Cent

an additional $71,000 in in- come would be realized in 1960. That is far short of the $700,000 increase in the bud- get from initial requests.

Bell said the county levy against the city is not known at the present time. However the same figure as was re- quested this year was used in forming the preliminary bud- get figures.

The largest single increase item in the budget requests comes from the schools. An additional $150,000 is being asked for by educational of- ficials. However, schools anti- cipate additional state aid this year and the request to the city probably will be shaved to $927,000 or $127,000 above this year's amount. This is an overall increase of 15.9 per cent and does not include any increases in bonded debt pay- ments.

Park Board
Bell pointed out that another increase comes from the park board's request. They are asking for about the same amount in an operating bud- get but an increase of $89,000 for outlays. This is about $80,- 000 above this year.

Bonded debt payments will be up more than $40,000 in 1960, the mayor said.

"We haven't completed a study of all the figures but obviously we cannot provide all the amounts requested," Bell commented. "City officials are deeply concerned over the growing needs of this commu- nity but we are unable to take care of everything without a shocking increase in the tax rate."

Next year may also bring the reconstruction project on S. Commercial street, Bell pointed out and this would mean additional expenditures. "Neenah will have to post- pone many desirable projects to the future because we just cannot afford them," Bell con- cluded.

Judge Arps Dismisses Topsy Driving Appeal
Oshkosh — Harold Miller, 52, of 1802 N. Main street, convicted of drunken driving on July 15, was ordered to pay $100 and costs Tuesday afternoon after Circuit Judge Helmuth F. Arps dismissed his appeal.

Miller was arrested in Osh- kosh last April and pleaded innocent. He was found guilty July 15 but appealed five days later. His license also was re- voked for a year.

AAUW Members Hear Philosophy Of Author, Educator

Neenah — "Wherever you go in this wide world, leave a piece of your country by leaving a little bit of your- self," is the travel philosophy of an author, lecturer and ed- ucator.

Mrs. Lyman Judson is co- author with her husband, Dr. Lyman Judson, of "The Jud- son Guides to Latin Ameri- ca," four volumes dealing with Colombia, Cuba, Guate- mala and Peru.

"Lyman and I feel it is im- portant to study, read and know as much as we can about the country before we ever leave home," she told Neenah-Menasha branch of American Association of Uni- versity Women Tuesday eve- ning at the YWCA. University women know the classes they got the most from were the ones which were prepared for and studied, she said. "I think a trip means much more to you if you know what to expect."

Preparations Underway for 4-H Program

Achievement Event
Nov. 4 at Omro High School Annex

Oshkosh — Hundreds of awards are being purchased and packaged for presentation at the annual Winnebago county 4-H achievement program at 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at the Omro High school annex.

Award donors, representing business firms and organizations, will appear on the program to give recognition of 4-H members for outstanding project and activity work.

Talk on Scotland
It is estimated that between 500 and 600 4-H members will attend the event. Featured speaker will be Janet Spersted who will give an illustrated talk on Scotland. She recently returned from that country on the International Youth Exchange program.

Van E. Jackson, chairman of the agricultural committee of the county board, will present achievement pins to each of the 4-H members having completed their year's work. About 86 per cent of the enrollment of 936 members will receive this recognition.

Robert Misky will give out county fair premium checks. Misky is secretary of the Winnebago County Fair association. Refreshments will be served after the program by the Omro Businessmen's association.

Heating Unit Caused Fire at Beauty Salon

Neenah — A 6-inch electrical heating element used to heat beeswax in making a wig has been ruled as the cause of the fire which last Tuesday morning destroyed the building occupied by Bill's Beauty salon on Main street, Fire Chief John Zick said today.

Francis "Bill" Sauriol, operator of the salon, had been working in the early hours of the morning in making a wig for a funeral home and neglected to turn off the heating unit when he turned off the lights. The light switch did not control the heating element which was plugged in at a socket.

The fire which resulted caused an estimated $13,000 damage to the beauty salon and its contents and to the building owned by Abe Stone. The building has been condemned and is to be torn down.

Gets Divorce in Circuit Court

Oshkosh — Mrs. Juliane Weiss, Oshkosh, received a divorce from Roland Weiss, Menasha, on charges of cruel and inhuman treatment Monday in circuit court.

Judge Helmuth F. Arps ordered Weiss to pay $178 a month support money and alimony and $225 attorney fees. The wife was awarded care and custody of the couple's four minor children and she received the household furnishings. The home at 340 Grandview avenue, Menasha, is to be sold and proceeds used to pay incumbrances and indebtedness.

The couple was married at Camp Polk, La., March 27, 1951 and separated last April.

Pair Admits Breaking Into Clothing Store

Neenah — Juvenile court proceedings were asked by Police Chief Irving Stulp for a 16-year-old Neenah boy and a 15-year-old Neenah girl who have admitted to police the theft of a car and the breaking and entering at the Grove Clothing store, 220 Main street, Menasha.

The pair was returned Monday from West Bend by Chief Stulp. Washington county police arrested them near Slinger after hearing a state-wide alarm on the stolen car. The car, owned by Dennis Strey, route 1, Neenah, was taken from the Chicago and North Western depot sometime late Sunday night or early Monday morning.

In the Menasha clothing store, the pair stole $307.11 in cash, six jackets and one pair of trousers. The clothing and $296 cash have been returned by Menasha police. The clothing is valued at $163.

Egg Buying Tip

Seven cents is the magic number to keep in mind when shopping for eggs, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. At present prices, if eggs of medium size are seven cents or more cheaper than eggs of the same grade marked large, then the medium eggs are a better value. At this time, medium and small eggs are more plentiful and relatively lower in cost.

Board Okays Paying $4,000 For Court Case

Aids Racine County In Test of Law on Hospital Costs

Oshkosh — Winnebago county, which earlier had given moral support to Racine county in its court battle to secure actual per capita cost patients for non-resident patients in county hospitals, Tuesday afternoon also gave its financial support.

The county board previously had turned down a request for $4,000 in financial help from Racine county until it had an itemized bill for the costs involved. A 9-page itemized expense sheet followed and the board Tuesday granted the $4,000.

Racine county's costs have run about $20,000 for the court case which went to the supreme court. Although the court did not require actual per capita costs instead of the state average cost be paid for non-resident patients, it did bring out a new interpretation of the statute.

New Legislation

This has led to a revision of the legislation which will benefit those counties where the per capita costs are greater than the state average.

Supv. Oliver Thomsen, Neenah, asked if the change would mean that the county would get back its $4,000 and was advised by Supv. Orrin King, Oshkosh, finance committee chairman, that the $4,000 should be received within a year under the new formula.

Workmen's compensation costs for the year have come to $5,448 on 34 claims with five claims still open. Seven claims were for poison ivy treatment and shots. The workmen's compensation balance was $78,446 as of Oct. 1.

Hall, Station Bids Taken at Winneconne

Albright Firm Gets Contract For Remodeling

Winneconne — Bids for the village hall remodeling totaled $65,675 and that for the construction of a new fire station amounted to $29,135. Bids were opened at a special meeting of the village board Tuesday night.

Albright and Sons of Oshkosh was awarded the general construction contract for the village hall on his low bid of $49,400. The other contracts awarded went to General Wiring company, Oshkosh, for the electrical work as a cost of $4,890 and the plumbing and heating to R. Wenzel, Appleton, on bids of $8,982 and $2,423 respectively.

Awarded the bids for the fire station building were DeKeyser and Rasmussen, Inc., Neenah, general construction, $22,255; Seckar's Electric company, Inc., Oshkosh, electrical work, $2,990; heating, R. Wenzel, Appleton, $1,893; and plumbing, Peters Plumbing and Heating company, Omro, $1,997.

The village residents last week approved bond issues of $70,000 for the village hall project and $30,000 for the fire station.

Industrial Loop To Meet Again

Neenah — Because only four teams were represented at Monday's initial session, another meeting to form the Neenah Industrial Basketball league will be held at 7 p.m. next Monday at the Recreation building.

If there are enough present to organize the league it will be set up at that time and both the league rules and basketball rules will be discussed.

Children Warned Not To Play in Leaf Piles

Neenah — Children were urged today by Police Chief Irving H. Stip not to play in piles of leaves along streets because of the danger of being hit by cars. Several complaints have been received by police. The children often are covered by the leaves and cannot be seen by a motorist. The chief advised parents to warn their children of these dangers.

VFW Plans Banquet With Appleton Post

Menasha — Plans have been announced for a combined benefit banquet of the Appleton and Menasha Veterans of Foreign Wars posts Nov. 11 at Appleton.

Arthur Gutzmann is chairman of the Menasha Nicolet Post 2126 part of the program and can be contacted for reservations.

Driver Changes Plea; Drop Charge Against Another After Crash

Menasha — David J. Spang, 18, route 2, Menasha, Friday changed his plea to guilty on a charge of driving too fast for conditions and was fined $20 and costs by Police Justice Arthur J. Ales.

A second driver involved Oct. 11 in a collision at Eighth and Warsaw streets, was exonerated of failure to yield the right-of-way. City Atty. William R. Giese moved to drop the charge against Raymond A. Pocquette, 28, 840 Seventh street, since Spang forfeited his right-of-way by disobeying the speed law.

When the Spang and Pocquette cars collided, the lat-

Neenah — Associate chairmen to assist in the area campaign outside the cities of Neenah and Menasha to raise a $3,850,000 building fund for Theda Clark Memorial hospital was thrust into a parked car owned by James J. Makodski, 328 Broad street.

tal have been announced by clerk; Harvey Grundeman D. R. "Jim" Courtney, area chairman. The vice chairman will be R. Duane Sweet, also associated with Courtney and Plummer. The drive will get underway officially Nov. 9.

Farm Group Holds Meeting

Management Unit Prepares for Annual Session

Oshkosh — Winnebago county members of the Northeast Farms Management association held their annual meeting at the courthouse Tuesday night.

Harold H. Huttenberg, field man for Winnebago county, presented materials to be discussed at the association's annual meeting in early December.

In Huttenberg's statement on the agricultural outlook, he said the hog slaughter is already 14 per cent above that of a year ago and will no doubt continue with a small increase. There also is a possibility of a slightly lower feed grain price this fall and winter.

Attorney Speaks

Sidney Mertz, Oshkosh attorney, spoke on "Wills, Contracts and Estates."

Mertz strongly advised that those who do not have a will should plan to prepare one, and those who do have one should review it from time to time to take care of necessary corrections.

Joint tenancy, a form of ownership, is probably the most popular type of ownership for the general homestead. While this may be the most popular, it sometime has more disadvantages than advantages. The main disadvantage is the payment of taxes upon the death of a joint tenant, Mertz explained.

Assistant county agent, Donald Tripp, spoke briefly on efficiency of agricultural production. A means of achieving efficiency can be in the form of personalized service. This would mean membership in an organization such as the Farm Management association. Tripp also made announcements of extension programs to be carried out in the near future.

NEENAH

Children of North Shore Golf club members had their day Saturday when they were entertained at the annual Halloween costume party. Intent upon capturing an apple bobbing in a tub of very cold water is Dan Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gill, Neenah.

Youngsters Don Costumes for North Shore Halloween Party

A "pulling the pole" game occupied Shawn O'Brien and Gail Strange, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Brien, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. William Strange, Neenah. Eerie masks and witch, cat and ghost costumes disguised many of the small fry.

A big, black Halloween cat is getting a nose drawn from blindfolded Bill Bergstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bergstrom, Neenah. A full program of games, prizes and refreshments was planned for the youthful party-goers.

Kathy Goss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goss, Menasha, assists young Garrett Gill, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gill, Neenah, with the Pinner mask he chose for the costume party. Kathy's costume brings to mind the flapper era—long before her time.

Concentrating on rolling apples across the ballroom are Karen Strange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Strange, Neenah, and Kate Des Marais, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Des Marais, Menasha. Kate's mask interfered with the business at hand, so it was it was pushed away — giving her a "two-faced" appearance.

Ann Advises Loving Care for 53-Year-Old Window Watcher

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me what to do with a 53-year-old husband who spends every Saturday sitting in the window watching the young girls as they go in and out of the modeling school across the street.

Should I give him a pair of Ann Landers field glasses for Christmas and say "Enjoy yourself, you big lug." Or should I give him a pair of black eyes to impair his vision?

Please give me a straight answer because I am dead serious about this problem and have had all I can take.—Griped

Dear Griped: I don't recommend that you give your husband a pair of black eyes for Christmas because there's always the chance that he may return the gift. Binoculars might be interpreted as approval—so that's out.

Why not be extra loving next Saturday? This ought to get the juvenile delinquent out of the window.

DEAR ANN: My fellow and I have been going steady two years. He's 20 and I'm 19.

During the early months of our courtship he had an affair with a girl who wasn't exactly up to his social level. She had a baby.

This girl lives with her mother and works in a beauty shop to support herself and the boy. To make matters worse, they live across the street from my fellow.

I found out he's been going over there almost every night after work. When I asked him about it he said he has no interest in the girl but he's crazy over the baby.

We got into an argument and he told me if I tried to stop him from seeing his son we were through. My folks are begging me to go live with my aunt in Vermont, get a job and forget him. I really love the guy. What do you think?—Natalie

Dear Natalie: If you marry a man who has an out-of-wedlock child prepare for problems from the word go. Your folks have an excellent idea and I hope you will listen to them.

DEAR ANN: I'm 15, and a high school freshman. My math teacher is very handsome and all the girls are gaga over him. He's quite old (about 37) and married, so you can see he's not a real prospect for anybody.

My problem is I dream about him every night and the dreams don't match my daytime thoughts. He is always formal and business-like, and I am not the type to flirt around with an old married man. So, what are these dreams all about anyway?

Do you think if I tell him about the dreams they will stop? I need help.—Beautiful Dreamer

Dear Beautiful: If you tell your handsome, old married math teacher that you are dreaming about him at night you may find yourself with daytime troubles, too.

You have a crush on the guy. . . so admit it to yourself, and then examine the situation rationally and accept the fact that he is off-limits. Get interested in someone in your own generation.

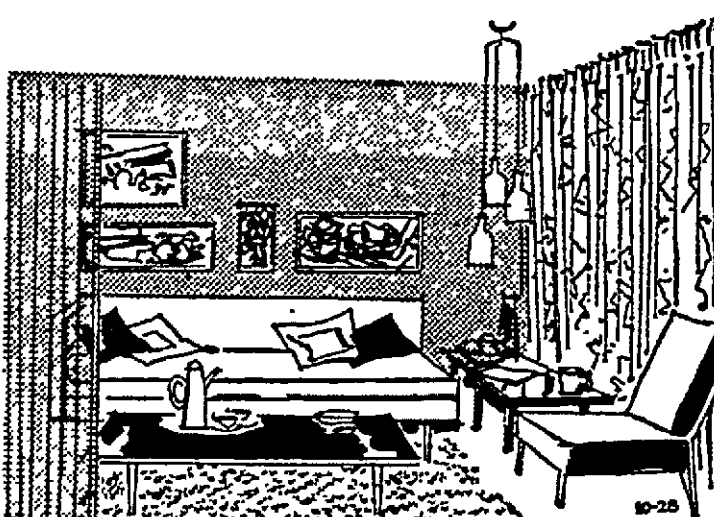

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER

Color for Colorless Scheme

The letter began, "Color schemes I plan always turn out to be dull. I'm too afraid of making mistakes to buy a red sofa or to paint the walls anything but a shade that will go with everything."

There's nothing at all wrong about keeping the background and major furnishings of the room in conservative colors if the range of a single conservative color is chosen, not several contrasting ones—shades of beige and brown for example. The predominating monotone for upholstered furniture and carpet looks ahead to their lasting a long time, but it by no means commits the room to colorlessness. The trick is to add small things in sparkly colors to the quiet big things. Items that represent less investment and change fairly easily bring the room alive, the bright touch in accessories and perhaps a small rug, eye-catching pictures, the cover on a bench and of course, duet and trio contrasts of pillows. Very effective color scheming is based on just that—sudden thrusts of sharp color against predominating monotone.

Mrs. L. T. "I'd like to make cafe curtains for a bedroom in the new apartment we're about to move into, but the sill of one window is noticeably higher than the sills of the other two. Can this be ignored, or is there some other simple curtains style that could be used to make the windows seem to be the same size? The smaller window is near a corner and close to one of the others on the adjoining wall."

Cafe curtains can be the same length for all three windows if they aren't hung within the window frames. Use rods which project to drop the curtains in front of the sills. However, the higher sill can show and look right as it is if a piece of furniture or a built-in fits close under the window.

Mrs. F. D. C. "I have six antique rosewood chairs that I plan to use at our dining table now that the children have grown up, but of course the chairs can't be matched and we sometimes need eight. If I can find traditional touch with a good speech therapist who can analyze your youngster's difficulty and help him overcome them. Ask your doctor to recommend a speech therapist. If you have trouble locating one, write to the American Speech and Hearing association, Wayne university, Detroit, Mich. They will send you a list of qualified therapists in your area.

Pair Weds In Catholic Ceremony

Miss Kathryn Banker, 518 W. Spring street, was married at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Lawrence Catholic church, Navarino, to Richard Kuettel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuettel, route 2, Hortonville. Miss Banker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benny Banker, route 1, Black Creek. The Rev. Gerard Van Nuland officiated at the double ring nuptial ceremony.

Marie Banker, Black Creek, attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Betty Kuettel, Hortonville, sister of the bridegroom, and Nancy Banker, Black Creek, sister of the bride.

Donald Kuettel, Hortonville, served as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Loren Otto, Black Creek, and Jerry Kuettel, Hortonville, brother of the bridegroom. Robert Banker, Bonduel, cousin of the bride, and Leon Grundman, Neenah, cousin of the bridegroom, ushered.

A dinner was served at St. Lawrence parish hall. The Nichols ballroom was setting for the reception, buffet supper and dance. The newlyweds will live in Medina when they return from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Kuettel is a graduate of Seymour High school and is employed at the Appleton Coated Paper company. Her husband graduated from Hortonville Union High school and is employed at Kimberly-Clark corporation.

host and hostess upholstered chairs that go nicely with the rosewood chairs, what color should they be? Should I try to match the rose antique satin on the wood chairs, which may not be possible, or use antique satin in green to match the draperies? The walls of the dining room are off-white and the rug is light brown."

Two shades of rose should be pleasing together, but not unless they are different enough to flatter each other—a near match often makes one shade look off color. Green will probably be more successful, or better still, a pattern which combines the green and rose and includes brown to tie the rug into the scheme.

Learn the furniture refinishing tricks that make old pieces new—send for Elizabeth Hillyer's booklet FURNITURE REFINISHING—HOW TO DO IT YOURSELF. Address Miss Hillyer at this newspaper and enclose 15 cents, please, with a stamped self-addressed envelope. Please allow approximately 3 weeks for mail delivery.

Child's Speech Defect Needs Professional Aid

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D.

What is a speech defect? And when is it serious?

No baby speaks clearly and we certainly do not consider the early mispronunciations a defect. But by the age of five a child should:

Speak distinctly.
Make his meaning clear.
Speak with a voice that is pleasant to hear.

If your child falls short of this standard he may have a speech defect that needs attention.

But the things that might be wrong are many. Some are simple and of no great significance, some are more serious. But even the simple ones are better off treated. It's hard on anyone to go through life not quite able to get his meaning clearly across to others. Even if the defect is not that serious an unpleasant peculiarity in speech can be a handicap. Treatment of speech defects is more successful in childhood. Grown people have to work harder to overcome their speech peculiarities.

Basic Causes

Only about 20 per cent of faulty structure in the child. Such conditions as cleft palate and cerebral palsy and loss of hearing do interfere with normal speech, but the vast number of speech defects grow out of the things that happen in the life of the child, things that influence his personality and the way he looks and thinks about the world in which he lives.

The most common defect among young children is faulty articulation, the child does not use his tongue, lips and jaw to the best advantage.

No child is born with the ability to start right off talking correctly. All children mispronounce many words, but as they get older and hear correct speech they gradually improve their own diction. It is normal for a 2-year-old to "frow" a ball but a 5-year-old should "throw" it. Two-year-olds have "muvvers," but 5-year-olds should have "mothers."

"R" Troublesome
"R" is a troublesome sound. Little folks often eat "wolls" instead of "rolls" and when they ask for "larn" instead of "ham" it causes confusion.

When "s" is the cause of trouble we call it lipping. Most of all little children love a "fwing" instead of a "swing". Sometimes "s" is whistled through the lips and the child sounds like a radiator expelling steam or the "s" is formed between the upper and lower teeth and we get "loth" instead of "loss".

All children do these things. Why do some outgrow them and some hang on to their baby speech?

Maybe the child's speech is poor because he has not had a good example to follow, either because your own speech leaves something to be desired or because you don't talk to him enough. Maybe you have repeated to him his own cute little baby sayings until he gets the idea that's the way it should be. Or maybe you pay too much attention to his speech and are forever nagging him to speak clearly. Finally he becomes balky and just won't try any more. You never do a child a service to harp on his defects. It's better to just ignore his mistakes but always say the words correctly yourself. After a while he picks up the right way.

Baby Talk
But if at five your child hasn't outgrown his baby talk you will probably need some help in correcting his speech. It would be wise to get in Making nylon jersey garments on home sewing machines has been considered nearly impossible.

Experts recently completed a study on the problems involved in home sewing of nylon jersey material and stress that she must spend time and patience and use certain skills and techniques in handling the fabric and adjusting the machine.

Pattern selection is the first consideration. The best pattern for nylon jersey is a simple one — few seams as possible on the straight grain rather than the bias, no pockets or buttonholes and few tails. Unpressed pleats and gathers are workable but avoid darts and tucks.

Sharp shears and sharp, fine pins and needles are important in handling this material. One may need to change the machine needle several times while making a single garment. A dull needle breaks the threads and causes the material to pucker.

HIS AND HERS —

Be true to see this go

Prospective Stepfather

"...Would we be compatible in marriage? I am a widow with a small son of whom he is rather critical and impatient. Could we find happiness together?"

You might as well stroll into a cyclone as to marry this man under the circumstances. You would find yourself right in the middle of an appalling situation. Your friend is a brilliant man but his writing reveals a "nobody loves me" complex. This is so deep-rooted, probably from childhood experiences, that you can't change him much. No matter how much affection you shower upon him he would not believe you love him.

His attitude towards your son would grow increasingly intolerant. He would blame him for what he considered your lack of affection for himself.

Your friend's writing is nervous and tense. He forms his letters sharply and shakily with a leftward slant. The baseline is uneven. The loops of his letters, both above and below the line, are angular. The pressure of his pen is heavy. He is dominating, ultra-critical.

There are indications of charm and cultured tastes in his w-shaped "m" and the greek letters "e". You may find resistance difficult if this man decides to marry you for he usually manages to get what he wants.

Remember, though, that nothing could do your boy as much harm as to give him an incompatible stepfather during his formative years.

Miss Stafford welcomes letters from her readers. They cannot be acknowledged, but the most interesting ones will be used in her column. (Copyright, 1959) picture above. The word to use in the poem about Weary Willie is one that rhymes with "name." The word for the poem about Frank must rhyme with "play."

When you believe you know what the words are, clip the picture out. Paste it on a sheet of paper or a postal card. Print the missing words in the blanks.

Beneath the picture print your name, age and address. With your paints, crayons or pencil, decorate your contest entry in any manner you believe will make it neat and attractive.

Finally address it to Cappy Dick at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow. This completes your work.

The contest judges then take over. They will examine all entries to find the five correct ones most neatly and attractively prepared.

Finger Tips

When you get a chip in your nail polish, what do do you—patch it up, or remove the polish and start over?

For groomed hands, you really should re-do a polish chip. To patch is to botch, more often than not.

Still, patching is the expedient way, when you are pressed for time? But if you really want to make a quickie out of the job, fill in the chip with polish-matching lipstick and fix it with sealer. The drying time is fractional, compared to that of enamel.

Other than time, the main objection to removing polish from a chipped nail, is the smear hazard. The fingertips that hold a remover-soaked cotton ball are all too apt to get a smudging.

It can be avoided, though, by a simple trick. Instead of holding the cotton with the fingertips, grasp it between the knuckles—the middle knuckles. In that way, you can keep the rest of your polish intact while you re-do the scarred nail.

Pope Observes First Year as Church Head

Expresses Wish to See Home Village
'Just Once More'

Vatican City — (AP) — Pope John XXIII observed the first anniversary of his election as supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic church today and expressed the wish to see the village of his birth again before he dies.

"But I can't promise that—it will be up to Providence," the robust, 77-year-old pontiff told 162 villagers who had journeyed from Sotto il Monte, in northern Italy, to congratulate their village's most famous son. Among them were 25 relatives of the pontiff.

The pope received them in the consistorial hall of the Vatican palace.

"I am Ready"
He expressed the hope that "Providence sustain" him in the future, then added, as he has several times said in the past, "but if the Lord should call me I am ready."

While the bells of Rome's 500 churches pealed, last Oct. 28 the sturdy farmer's son chosen by the Roman Catholic cardinals to succeed Pope Pius XII raised his arms on the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica in his first benediction as pontiff.

Two hundred thousand persons packed in the great square below joined in the tremendous roar of "Viva Il Papa!"

A year later, Pope John has definitely set aside predictions that he would serve as a sort of interim pope, marking time for the coming of a younger man.

His continued robust good health is apparent.

Many Activities
The Vatican press office issued a list yesterday of the pope's activities in the past year. It ranged from simple pastoral tasks such as a visit to a Rome prison, to his call for an ecumenical council which will bring Catholic churchmen from all over the world to Rome in about a year.

Pope John has elevated 23 new cardinals to fill the thinned ranks of the church hierarchy.

Youth Placed on Probation for Fist Fight Death

Alma — (AP) — Thomas Nelson, 18, of Winona, Minn., was placed on probation for two years Tuesday as the result of a fist fight in which a youth died.

Nelson appeared before Judge George Schlossberg in Buffalo County court. Dist. Atty. James Blum said authorities filed charges after the victim's parents failed to take action.

James Jankowski, 18, also of Winona, fought with Nelson Oct. 17. Jankowski died a day after the fight.

Blum said the charge was held to simple battery because no weapon other than Nelson's fists was involved.

Hits Time Lag In Construction Of Buildings

State Officer Calls Delay in State Work Unpardonable

Madison—A high state officer Tuesday told the legislature that time lags of five to seven years between authorization of state institution buildings and their actual construction are unpardonable.

The comment came from Gov. Nelson's commissioner of administration, Joe E. Nusbaum, in testifying before the legislative finance committee.

Nusbaum in effect was criticizing the previous administrations of the state government and officials in the state bureau of engineering who are now under his control under a reorganization plan worked out by Nelson and approved by the legislature earlier in the year.

Nusbaum asked for legislative approval to hire eight additional staffers for the state bureau of engineering to beef up the state construction program which he said is "very far behind."

Plans Not Drawn He said the original approval for a new medium security state prison came more than seven years ago, but that plans have not yet been drawn.

Four years ago the legislature provided money for the construction of a new state school for delinquent boys, but again, the plans have not been drafted to this day, he said.

He added: "We don't want to be in that position," apparently referring to the practices of previous state regimes.

Gov. Nelson has taken several steps thus far, with legislative backing, to speed up state construction projects. The state building commission now has a full time executive secretary. It has also been widely reported that the chief of the state architectural service was recently induced to resign, with strong representations from the executive office, when it was learned that he was technically eligible for a pension because of age.

Seeks to Solve Price Support Problem

Pure Milk Cooperative Reaffirms Self-Help Program for Dairymen

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fond du Lac — Reaffirmation of the principles of a self-help program to solve the price support problem in dairying was made by delegates at the 30th annual Pure Milk Products cooperative convention Tuesday.

The self-help program was formulated by delegates the last few years and follows a plan supported by Gov. Nelson.

Pure Milk co-op stands ready, a resolution said, to accept direct payments to farmers as a means of price support for milk if the state board finds a self-help program inadvisable or impossible.

Investigate Chicago

A federal investigation of the Chicago milk market, in view of the present strike threat, and because of the differential between producer prices and consumer prices, "would be a good place to start," President Paul Affeldt said. Most prices paid for milk are based on Chicago prices, Affeldt noted.

In line with investigation of the Chicago market, two resolutions were adopted pointing toward merging or federating with other dairy organizations to afford PMPC greater bargaining power and influence in the market.

Pure Milk also would take a stand in favor of a Michigan state marketing bill. This would include efforts to build a membership of PMPC there to gain legislative action for the benefit of that state's dairy farmers.

Fox Valley Local

Three resolutions introduced by the Fox River Valley local passed the session. One called for the USDA through the county agent to place more emphasis on marketing of farm products.

The co-op also resolved

March of the Machine

Horse Nearly Loses Friends At Pure Milk Co-op Meeting

Fond du Lac — The march of the machine on the farm was demonstrated Tuesday when delegates to the Pure Milk Products cooperative convention threatened to turn their backs on the horse.

The unfarmerlike action was taken in consideration of a resolution asking for revision of the state's personal property tax law to allow taxation of horses.

The resolution submitted by the Stephenson-Carney local excepted those horses used in tilling operations on the farm or wood work.

As discussion got underway, it appeared the horse would get no consideration at all because it "was not dairy business" and beyond the ken of the co-op.

Too Few to Consider

An assessor among the delegates declared he thought the exception was unnecessary because there were so few work horses on the farm it wouldn't make any difference. Walter Brick, of the St. John-Kaukauna local, went so far as to move an amendment striking the exception. It was lost, but by such a bare margin. President Paul Affeldt had to call for two votes.

With the tax immunity of the work horse assured—despite his apparent small numbers, the delegates laced into his more gently handled brethren.

One delegate, wrinkled enough to have remembered the horse's heyday, laced into the state study ways and means to improve disaster programs in farm areas. The Menomonie area was hit earlier this year by severe weather.

Affeldt was reelected president for a third term. William Bauman of Middleton, was named to another term as first vice president. Donald Uelmen of Eden, was elected second vice president; Hugo Breit, Stratford, reelected secretary; and Ronald Casey, New Richmond, reelected treasurer.

Directors named were Fred Bromley, Whitewater; Uelmen; Casey, and Fred Larson, Weyauwega.

Hyphen Big Problem for Two Churches

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
Syracuse, N.Y.—Punctuation was a problem today for the Unitarian and Universalist churches.

They were concerned about using — or not using — a hyphen.

The question arose as the two denominations, both champions of independent religious thinking, pondered a merger.

Specifically, the hurdle involved the name to be used for the proposed united church.

A commission, headed by the Rev. Dr. William R. Rice, Wellesley Hills, Mass., has proposed that the combined church be called The Unitarian Universalist association.

As the more than 1,000 representatives of the two bodies convened here, however, Unitarian representatives pointed out that the proposed name would imply that the new body was "Universalists," with the word "Unitarian" used only as an adjective.

They suggested that the two words be hyphenated, in order to reflect a mutual balance in the name.

The two denominations, both advocates of complete freedom of religious thought, have been toying with the idea of merger for nearly 100 years.

Cook and Brown Continues Its Fox-Wolf Activities

BY JAY JOYSLYN

Post-Crescent Staff Editor

Oshkosh — When the tugs Ryan and Jane of the Fox River Navigation company are taken out of service early next week along with their string of seven barges, the Fox river transportation business will revert solely to Cook and Brown company.

For 85 years Cook and Brown has had tugs and barges on the Fox and Wolf river and in the lakes of the complex waterway.

The river will never see the likes of the operation Cook and Brown and Fox River Navigation shared for the last 40 years. With the Ryan and the Jane gone, the riverway will have only Cook and Brown's tug Brown and barge No. 10. Both are new—only 10 to 12 years old—and of steel construction.

The canal and lock system that opened the Fox river from Green Bay to the Mississippi was only 18 years old when Cook and Brown began operations from the site at Oshkosh, it still uses.

First Ship

The first ship to traverse the great waterway that had attracted the attention of such pioneer entrepreneurs as Her-reed, L. Dousman, Curtis Reed, John A. Bingham, Albest S. Story, James B. Estes and the ever-present James D. Doty, was the steamboat Aquilla in June, 1856.

The Green Bay and Mississippi Canal company obtained the franchises, property and land grants of an improvement company formed to operate the canal on a toll basis in 1866 and in 1871 the federal government took over supervision of the locks and river leaving the water rights and power to the Green Bay and Mississippi Canal company.

In Cook and Brown's long history it made use of crafts that carried names now shrouded in legend and lore.

Mississippi Type

The B. F. Carter was the first craft used. It was a Mississippi river type steamer with twin stacks and a stern wheel. Other stern wheelers in early use were the Herman Hintz and the R. C. Brown.

The Leander Choate also was in the Cook and Brown service, but only after it had made its name as a packet steamer and later as an excursion boat and floating dance palace as the Valley Queen. When it burned, Cook and Brown turned it into a barge.

As Fox River Navigation company made its appearance in 1919, Cook and Brown had just dieselized four steam tugs, the Nellie, the H. W. Carter, the Marston and another whose name has slipped into limbo. The Junior soon joined the diesel fleet.

Appleton Shipbuilders

The Marston gives recognition to the shipbuilding business at Appleton of the Marston family. Cook and Brown bought the tug that bore its name just as it was to be launched to form competition in the river trade.

Most Cook and Brown boats and the nine Fox River Navigation company crafts were made by Ryan Brothers, shipbuilders at Oshkosh.

Cook and Brown made full use of the inland waterways, the Fox only from Green Bay to Appleton and into Neenah for a short period.

The Oshkosh-based boats

On the other hand, plied Lake Winnebago, the lakes of the Fox-Wolf complex and both the Fox and the Wolf.

About 10 years ago the firm put an end to a 65-year-old operation on Lake Butte des Morts when it closed its water-side sand preparation plant.

During that long history, the Whitford was the tug that plied the route from Oshkosh to Butte des Morts.

The Hintz was chiefly to haul clay out of the banks on the east shore of Lake Winnebago just south of the site of High Cliff State park.

Because of the greater navigation demands on the Cook and Brown boats, their capacity and construction was different from Fox River Navigation craft.

Box Type Barges

The Fox River boats were open to facilitate the largest load cargo. They are of box type construction, with a load deck three feet below the surface of the water when loaded with a capacity 400-ton load.

Because of the heavier water travel in the lakes, the Cook and Brown craft were deck loaded and had a capacity of about two-thirds of those of Fox River.

The Cook and Brown tugs had to be wider for their pulling jobs, cutting down the beam of the barge. Fox River barges were wider and the Ryan and Jane were slimmer than their Cook and Brown counterparts.

The river traffic is different than other barge-tug operations. In other localities, such as the Great Lakes, the tug pulls a line of barges.

No Towline

On the river, through the locks, the tug is lashed alongside the barge, with lines fore and aft and amidships. If the tug has to be wider, the barge beam must be cut to fit the narrow locks. The shortness of the locks prevents a towline of barges.

Since the barge traffic has slipped away over a number of years, casual observers are not likely to miss it and there will be little change noticed in the operation of the locks.

However, there is one change that is likely to be instituted. Navigation for the Fox River company has always been from April 15 to about Nov. 15, while pleasure travel and, in the main, the Cook and Brown operation, have been limited from Memorial day to Labor day.

With Fox River Navigation gone it is possible the navigation season will be shortened.

Adults Urged to Take Precautions to Insure Property, Children

Kaukauna — Chief of Police Harold V. Engerson announced Tuesday the rules and regulations set up by the police department governing conduct on Halloween for youngsters.

Extra police will be on duty Friday and Saturday night to enforce regulations, advised the chief. No soaping or waxing of windows will be permitted and parents will be liable for the adherence to this rule. Children caught soaping or waxing any windows will be obliged to clean the windows or their parents will be charged to have the work done.

Trick or treaters must be off the streets by 9 p.m. and no more than three are to travel as a group. All must stay on main streets and will be ordered to their homes if found in alleys or back entrances. No youngsters over 12 are to be out trick or treating, warned the chief.

Take Precautions
Residents were advised to take precautions by having garbage cans, porch swings, lawn furniture and other moveable items under cover before dark thus removing the source of temptation for pranksters.

Chief Engerson urged adults to accompany small children on trick or treat rounds to prevent older children from stealing the candy from youngsters as has happened in the past. He also urged motorists to use extreme caution on these nights as little children in costumes may be hard to see and in their excitement are liable to forget safe practices while crossing streets.

Scandinavia Actors Awarded 'A' Rating

Scandinavia — The Scandinavian entry in the conference 1-act play contest at Bowler was awarded an A and will compete in the district meeting at Stevens Point Saturday.

The Scandinavian play is entitled "The Monkey's Paw". The cast includes Tom Bestul, Tom Johnson, Gary Jole, Walter Nelson and Sandra Walbruck.

The makeup and property committee consists of Diane Trinrud, Sandra Van Matre, and Carol Nelson. The faculty director is Herbert Hassell.

OUTDOORS IN WISCONSIN 'Year in Paradise' New Nature Book

BY CLARA HUSSONG

Green Bay — Those of us who have been devouring the "we took to the woods" type of books as fast as they come off the presses, have been witnessing the change over the years.

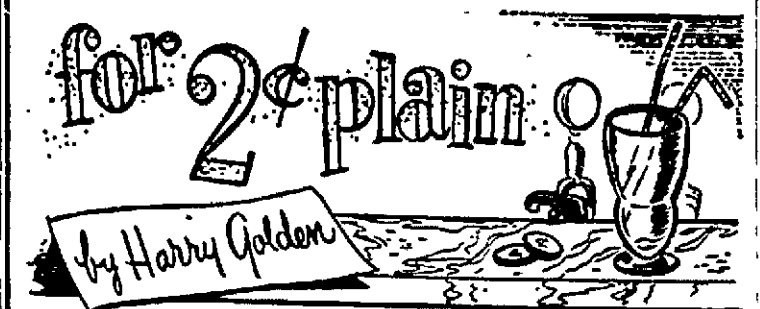

The earliest ones (of recent times, we're not going back to Robinson Crusoe) were tales of simple survival in a wilderness spot. The typical story of this kind told of the experiences of a husband and wife in living off the land. Kathrine Pinkerton's "Wilderness Wife" is an example of this type of book.

Others told more than the story of living in, and off, the wilderness. Some told of the physical and emotional healing which came when storytellers "got away from it all." Others added information on the wildlife in their chosen home in the woods. For those of us who like to observe what goes on through the seasons, especially in wild areas, these books are tops. The next best thing to experiencing it ourselves, we'll take a book like Theodor Stenwall-Fletcher's "Driftwood Valley." (If you haven't read it, you've missed one of the best in this line.)

New Ingredient
A recent book adds still another ingredient which is found now in the best nature and scientific writings. The book is "A Year in Paradise," the author is Floyd Schmoee, and the extra is an understanding of the region about which he writes. The book is published by Harpers.

The paradise referred to in the title is Paradise inn in Mt. Ranier National park. Floyd Schmoee and his wife, came to Paradise inn first as a winter caretakers. Unlike most of the wilderness caretakers, they had plenty to eat—the hotel kitchen was full of food. But they ran out of fuel before their first winter was over.

The tons of coal and cords of wood just outside their kitchen door were covered with 30 feet of snow. They didn't know where to dig for it.

Anyone Can be Replaced?

This is another of a series of articles from Harry Golden's latest bestseller, "For 2 Cents Plain."

There are several indigenous American platitudes; none of which describes reality.

Among these platitudes, now grown to the proportion of myths, are "Think"; "Does it sell flour"; "It is later than you think"; and "The great wisdom of the world comes from taxi drivers." But the biggest hoax of all these platitudes is the cliché, "Anyone can be replaced."

If there were an ounce of truth in this statement, life would spin itself out pretty stupidly.

The psychological force that the statement creates is engendered among the great mass who look hopefully toward an equality of mediocrity, helplessness, lack of initiative, and stupidity. It is for this reason that men of talent are usually pacifists. A war culture is a great leveler and makes everyone more or less alike. The tremendous acceptance of fascism, nazism, and communism in our generation is partly explained by the fact that these systems are extensions of the war culture into the everyday milieu. These systems effectively eliminate intellectual competition, and everyone thinks that it will be share and share alike. The decisions are made for the docile elsewhere and the fellow who never had an idea in his head becomes a captain.

Mediocrity breeds in a crisis. All too often politicians and demagogues perpetuate the crisis for the purpose of maintaining their jobs.

As far as we know, man is the only animal with a memory. No animal fights for its young with the scratching, tearing loyalty of the female Adirondack bobcat. But once the baby bobcat is weaned, the mother goes about her business and the little bobcat shifts for itself. It is forgotten.

Not with man. We remember, and because we remember we know that there are too many who can never be replaced and who will never be replaced—Mozart, Shakespeare, Beethoven, Thomas Jefferson. There are thousands of others. And, of course, there are your own father and your mother and your loved ones.

May It be a Boy?

Many of my non-Jewish friends want to know all about this business of the Jews' always praying, "May it be a boy." The religious Jew wanted his first-born to be a boy, of course. A boy says kaddish, the prayer of mourning for the parents after they are dead. It was merely a question of substituting terms. What they really meant and often said was, "Thank God for one-who'll-say-kaddish." Once a boy was born into the family the deep concern for proper mourning after the parents' death was over. Three times a day, during the year after a parent dies, a dutiful son goes to shul to say kaddish, thus insuring the heavenly well-being of the deceased. Actually the basic struggle of Jewry was to survive and the intensity of this belief was as much social as religious. Through the kaddish the deceased parent remained part of the community for a long time even after death. When you live in ghettos under restrictions and oppression, you cannot afford to lose anyone, not even the deceased, as long as you can possibly help it. There was great rejoicing at the birth of a boy, and sometimes the whole family danced around the bed of the mother and child.

I remember when my younger brother's wife, Annie, was in the hospital for her first baby. It was a girl. My brother Max immediately put through a call to my father and it was a delightful conversation.

Max: Hello, Pop, well, Annie had the baby and Annie is in fine shape.

Pop: All right, let's thank God everything is all right.

Max: Oh yes, everything is fine, Annie is fine.

Pop: This is very good news, my son.

Max: O yes, Annie is fine. Finally my father busted loose: What's the matter with you? It's not so bad! Suppose it is a little girl, so what? It's not so terrible. . . .

Max: Annie is fine. . . .

Private Land Snow Removal To be Aired

Chamber Members
To Discuss Solution
At Thursday Meeting

Kaukauna — Members of the Chamber of Commerce will meet at 9 p.m. Thursday in the council chambers to discuss a proposed ordinance regulating snow removal.

The city council instructed the attorney at the last meeting to prepare an ordinance prohibiting the pushing of snow from private property into city streets and alleys. This proposal was adopted as service station owners and businesses owning private parking lots have in the past pushed snow into streets after city crews had already completed snow removal in the area.

Suggestions Asked
Chamber of Commerce members have been asked for suggestions in helping to solve the question.

Mayor Joseph Bayoregon instructed the city attorney to designate sidewalks in main business areas as city streets to permit snow shoveling into the roadway in these areas.

Members of the legislative committee of the council have been studying the proposed ordinance and desire Chamber opinion before final adoption of the rules.

Mark Nagan, Chamber president, indicated brief discussion on parking problems in the business districts would also be held.

Lucey Faces Fight As Democratic Chief

Rock County Politician Bomed for Election
To Party Chairmanship at State Convention

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—State Democratic Chairman Patrick J. Lucey will probably face a stiff challenge to his leadership at the state convention in Milwaukee next month, contrary to early predictions that the term party chief would be re-elected without difficulty.

A boom for Sverre Roang, prominent Rock county politician, has suddenly taken on life and significance with a voluntary campaign committee.

Roang's availability earlier had not made much impression upon rank and file party workers, mostly because he had not said he was interested in making a fight with Lucey.

Personal Friends
But the campaign work of a committee of his personal friends, including the mayor of his home town of Edgerton, is being interpreted by Democrats as a tacit announcement of Roang's candidacy.

His friends are unlikely to be proceeding on their task without Roang's consent, as leading Democrats see it.

Although most estimates have Lucey the favorite for delegate votes, some well-informed party men say they can conceive an upset in the form of an election of Roang. He is one of the best liked men in the party and is known to most of the delegates through repeated service as chairman at delegate conventions.

Neutral Needed
Roang's friends are arguing that the position of party leader requires a neutral and complaining that Lucey has made his bias in favor of Sen. John Kennedy as a presidential nominee too obvious.

One informed forecast about the delegate lineup in a Lucey-Roang contest hazarded that the result will be determined by the size of the margin against Lucey in the big and powerful Milwaukee county delegation, and by the position of the comparatively big delegations of Racine and Kenosha.

Humphrey promoters have been bitterly resentful about Lucey's private preference for Kennedy, which has become virtually a public endorsement. Among Lucey's principal foes in Milwaukee is Christ Scraphim, chairman of the big Milwaukee county party unit.

Supt. of Public Works Earl Gosse reported the need for a new pressure switch at the pumping station.

Tells Why She Used
Hose on Bus Riders

Los Angeles — It was a hot July day when Mrs. Isabel Hernandez, 63, boarded a bus with a garden hose—and started sprinkling the passengers and driver.

Monday she told municipal court the reason: The bus line ends in front of her house. For years passengers have been throwing transfers and other trash on her lawn—and taunting her when she complained.

Edison School Design Ready; AHS Smokestack Repairs Approved

Preliminary designs for the new Edison school will be shown to the school board at a special meeting Monday night. Architect Raymond N. LeVee hopes to have final plans for the school ready for bidding in February.

The board has approved having test borings of the school site made by the Wisconsin Testing Laboratories, Milwaukee, at the same time borings will be made for the addition to the police station. The plan was requested by the board of public works.

AHS Smokestack

Repairs estimated at $1,000 were authorized for the Senior High school smokestack. Director of Business Affairs William R. Knuth said the stack is cracked one-third of the way down on three sides and is badly checked. Two of the four lightning rods also are missing, he said.

The rods will cost $325, tuckpointing $650. Outside contractors will do most of the work, although one school employee will assist, Knuth said.

School Sites

Three more southeast side

elementary school sites have been offered, but no options have been obtained on them, Victor Sumnicht, business affairs committee chairman, reported.

Another site on which an option has been obtained will be inspected Saturday morning by the board. It is north of County Trunk Z in the Land Associates proposed plat between the city limits and Kimberly. The other sites are farther south, nearer a location formerly offered the board by Joseph Wittman. Wittman withdrew his offer later and gave an option on the property to the Green Bay diocese.

State Officials Worry Over Rising Costs

University May Have To Put Restriction On Enrollment

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—University of Wisconsin officials are evidently concerned that the mounting pressure of higher education costs upon the state tax system will lead to restrictions upon enrollment, either through more definite matriculation standards or higher charges upon students.

University regents are even now reviewing admissions policies.

Ross" during a 2-week army reserve encampment. When it was discovered that no flag was available to denote the rank of a major general who was coming to camp for a review, Rubin was told to devise one.

Rubin found two of the one-star flags used for brigadier generals, removed the stars and then sewed them both on a pillow case.

spokesmen have made it clear that they will resist any adjustments of the traditional liberality of admissions and student cost assessments.

University President C. A. Elvehjem has pegged recent public speeches to warnings against putting the "dollar sign" on educational opportunities.

University Vice President Fred H. Harrington has been equally blunt, in statements to regents among others, about his reservations toward any proposals to make university admissions policy more restrictive, as through greater high school performance requirements of those asking for admission.

But the fiscal implications of the massive enrollments at the tax-supported colleges and universities are becoming ever clearer, as state budget balancing problems become each year more severe.

Most recent statistics show there are now 63,000 students in all Wisconsin colleges and universities, nearly two-thirds of them at state supported schools and the recent statistical trends indicate the totals will go far higher and that the ratio of state-supported enrollment will continue to grow.

Scouts Did Fine; Leaders Done In

Honolulu —A group of Boy Scouts who took a week-long hike around the island of Oahu did fine—but their scoutmasters were just plain done in.

The boys made 22 miles the first day, then covered 12 to 16 miles a day for the rest of the week. Says Scoutmaster Alfred Oliverira, one of the two scoutmasters who circled the island on foot:

"It was a wonderful idea—for the kids."

Runaway Car Costs Tinkering Man $50

Lake Geneva, Wis. —Donald Griffin's car stalled in a supermarket parking lot. Griffin, alone, figured he could fix it if he could work at the engine while having the gas pedal depressed. He put a heavy box on the accelerator, lifted the hood and started tinkering. The car, left in reverse gear, suddenly roared backward, made several wide circles in the parking lot, broke off a parking meter post and came to a stop in the street.

Griffin, arrested for failure to have his auto under control, was fined $50.

St. Mary Home-School Unit to Hear Diocese Superintendent

Kaukauna — The Rev. Richard Kliber, superintendent of schools for the Green Bay diocese, will speak on education at a meeting of the St. Mary's Home-School association at 8 p.m. Monday in the school activity room.

Mrs. Norman Weigman and Mrs. Donald McPhail will give a demonstration on the proper method of making an Advent wreath. This program was originally scheduled for the December meeting but since advent starts Nov. 29, the demonstration was moved up a month.

KRA Basketball Attracts Single Cage Hopeful

Kimberly — One player showed up for the initial organizational meeting of the Kimberly Recreation Association sponsored Village Basketball League, according to Wayne Kilsdonk, loop director. A second meeting has been called for 7 p.m. today at the clubhouse.

The meeting is for players, team managers and team sponsors, said Kilsdonk, and unless a better turnout results the league will not operate this year.

Last year four teams participated and it was hoped six could be formed this year. All games are played at the clubhouse.

Brothers, Sisters Meet After 31 Years

State Calls for Rule on Charges For Insurance

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The state department of insurance has called for an administrative rule controlling the charges for sub-standard risk automobile physical damage insurance for vehicles insured by finance companies.

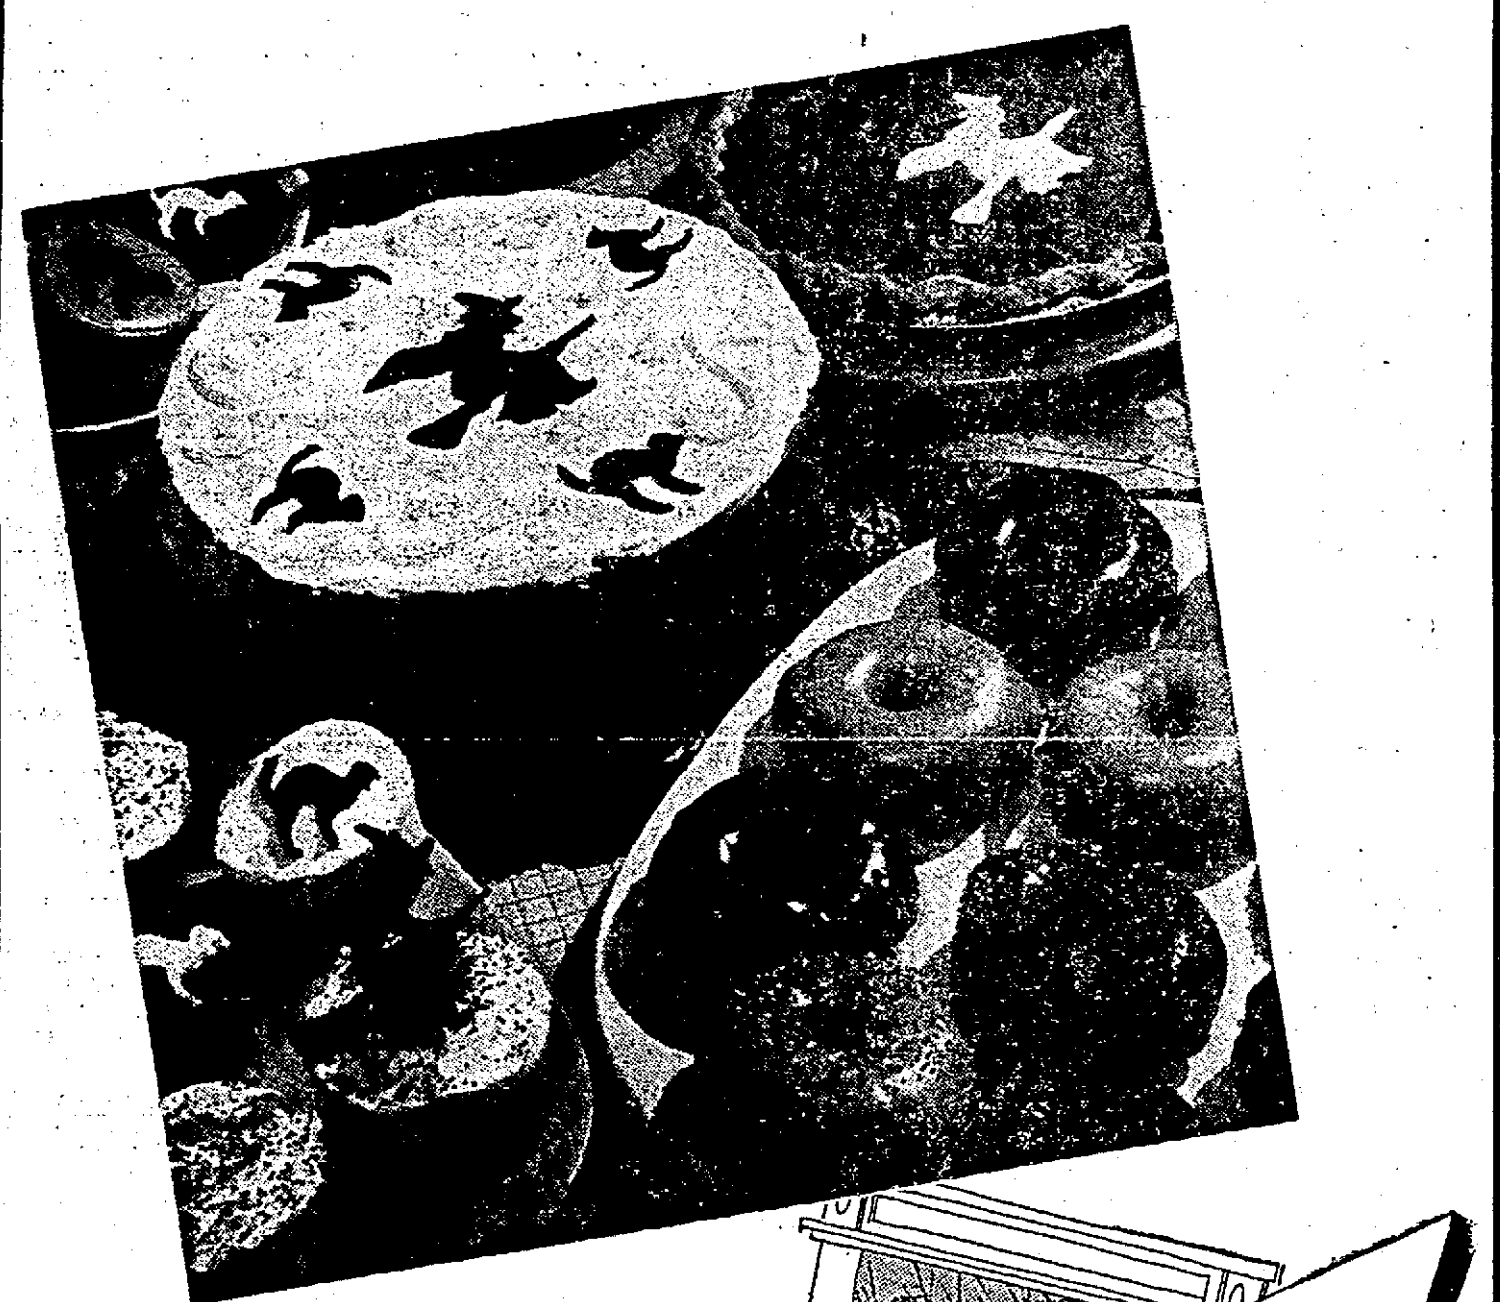

The department said it will hold a public hearing here Nov. 12 on proposed contents of an ordinance, including a maximum charge for such insurance that is not more than 25 per cent above the standard rates and under premium schedules of a licensed insurance rating bureau. The proposed rule would also prohibit "unfairly discriminatory" rates. A substandard risk is an ap-

Charlie Plays Important Role in Honoring State's Humblest Hero

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Heroism wears many cloaks and now and then sack cloth is one of them. Wisconsin's humblest hero was an 8-year-old boy named Emmanuel Dannon, who suffered himself to be whipped to death rather than tell a lie. He is buried in the Greenwood cemetery near Montello in Marquette county. A tall, red granite monolith marks his grave. The inscription reads: "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake, for theirs is the kingdom of Heaven."

The monument was not placed there at the time of his death 107 years ago, because Emmanuel, a child of adversity in life, was cheated in death and then forgotten for a century. The monument was not erected until 1954 on May 2, which is now called "Truth day" and is observed annually at the Montello grave site. The story of Emmanuel Dannon is 2-fold. It began in 1843 when he was born in England. With his parents he came to the United States two years later and lived in Milwaukee. His father died of tuberculosis in 1847; his mother died "of lackjaw" in 1848.

Charity Child

Briefly Emmanuel lived with an uncle, but within a year his uncle was dead, too. At the age of 5 years, Emmanuel became a charity boy and was sent to live at the Milwaukee poorhouse.

One day Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Norton, a couple from Illinois, adopted the boy and brought him to live at their new farm near the town of Buffalo in Marquette county.

A year after the adoption Emmanuel was dead.

Norton had tied his hands together, tossed the other end of the rope over a cross beam in the log cabin home. Then, with six freshly cut willow whips, he beat the boy for two hours and so badly that it was later testified "there was not a spot large enough to lay one's finger" which was not lacerated and covered with welts from the beating.

Refuses to Lie

Norton ceased beating the placed in a public square should be erected that shall tell the thousands hurrying by that Emmanuel Dannon, a Sunday school scholar, suffered a cruel death rather than tell a lie."

The monument was to cost $3,000. Meanwhile, the body of the boy was buried on a farm in Green Lake county, though re-interred later.

Start of Research

It was here that the story of Emmanuel's life and death came to the attention of this reporter. In searching for material for a Christmas time feature story, I found reference to the planned monument in back files of a Milwaukee newspaper. I knew there was no such monument in the city and I set about to find out what had happened. Who was Emmanuel? Where was his grave? Did it, indeed, have a monument?

Many months later after much research I knew more about the little boy than any man who had ever lived. And I knew what had happened to the fund which was established for the purposes of honoring him.

The committee had appointed a secretary to enlarge the fund which, from donations, had reached the sum of $1,099.94. The secretary traveled to New York "for the purpose of having brochures printed," and to raise additional money. When he returned from his long trip his expenses—strangely enough—amounted to precisely the sum ($1,099.94) which had already been donated.

Strangely, too, there was no public outcry. Emmanuel slipped slowly from memory. Even his grave was lost.

Justice at Last

Then, in 1954, after many more weeks of research and false starts, I found the grave in the cemetery of the Green-

Wing Snapped Off Airliner

Reconstructed Plane Shows Break in Crash Fatal to 34

Dallas, Texas — A wing snapped off a Braniff airliner which crashed and killed 34 persons last month, a government expert said Monday.

If investigators can determine why this happened, John S. Leak, of the civil aeronautics board's bureau of safety said they may learn what caused the disaster.

Leak said no evidence of a bomb explosion has been found. He is in charge of re-assembling fragments of the shattered Electra turboprop craft in a Dallas warehouse. "We've pretty well established the break pattern of the plane," Leak said. "Now what we want to know is why the left wing broke off in mid-air, about a foot or two from the fuselage."

Complicates Investigation

"What complicates our investigation is that the wing hit with the broken end down," Leak said. "That means the break line was shattered all the more, making it difficult to tell how—and why—it snapped off."

Discounting speculation a bomb might have exploded in the rear baggage compartment, the CAB official said: "We've got the rear baggage compartment, and it's intact and shows no sign of a bomb." The Braniff Electra disintegrated 15,000 feet in the air during a night flight Sept. 29 from Houston to Dallas.

wood church just outside of Montello. I was happy to be able to give this small hero back to Wisconsin—103 years after his death.

With the financial help of Clarence T. Ross, Jr., of Montello and Omar Bittman of Milwaukee, a new monument — the present one "which will last a thousand years"—was erected.

Justice had come at last to stand at the graveside of Wisconsin's humblest hero.

Conerly's No. 1 Ranking Is No Surprise to His Former Coach

Packers Have Had Some Woes With Passers

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay — As if Bill Wade and John Unitas haven't been villainous enough, the Packers now face the league's leading passer, "Chuck" Conerly.

Wade and Unitas of the Rams and Colts, respectively, compiled their efforts for 32 completions in 47 pass attempts for 392 yards and six touchdowns. And, they didn't have a pass intercepted in the back-to-back games won by the Rams, 45-6 and the Colts, 38-21.

Conerly came out of nowhere to take over as king of the league's passers — at least for this week. He has attempted 93 passes and completed 56 for 85 yards and four touchdowns. He has an average gain per pass attempt of 9.19 yards. His pass completion percentage is an amazing 60.2 and he has been intercepted only three times.

Goes Into Lead
Since passing leaders are based on average gain per pass attempt, Conerly sprang into the lead on the strength of two long scoring passes to Frank Gifford against Pittsburgh last Sunday — one for 77 yards and the other for 27. "Chuck" was second last week with 8.3 yards per pitch. Conerly's position is no surprise to Packers Coach Vince Lombardi who guided the veteran signalists for five years as Giants' offense coach.

"Conerly has always been a high percentage passer — always over 50 per cent. He's been throwing more this year and doing very well," Vince said, adding: "He's played just about all of the first four games but Shaw worked the second half of the game last Sunday."

Giant Game Is 'Special,' Vince Says

Green Bay — "We want to win them all," Vince Lombardi said today, "but this one will be a little special." The Green Bay Packers coach was speaking about the upcoming National Football league game his team will play in New York.

Lombardi left the New York club to take over the Packers this year and has been pointing his team to this league tussle. The Packers beat the Giants in an exhibition game in Bangor, Maine, but that didn't count. This one does, and it's one that Lombardi really wants to win.

Not Discouraged
The coach was disappointed but not discouraged over the game with Baltimore last Sunday. He added that lack of familiarity with his offense probably brought on the mistakes which cost the Packers dearly in their 38-21 beating. The Packers should be near top shape for the game. Bobby Dillon who suffered a slight concussion last Sunday is expected to be available this week. Paul Hornung, who hurt his leg, also is expected to be in shape. Jim Taylor, who has missed three games because of burns suffered in an accident, is out of the hospital, but he lost 15 pounds and it is uncertain when he will be ready to play again.

Saturday's Game:

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — Another battle royal — this time, Clintonville at Kaukauna Friday night — headlines the Mid-Eastern conference's week-end grid bill.

Other tests are Two Rivers at Kimberly and New London at Shawano Friday night and the Neenah-Menasha clash at Neenah Saturday afternoon.

The Kaukauna - Clintonville fracas has title implications written all over it. The Trunkers must win to retain at least a share of the first place they now hold jointly with Neenah. A win would keep the Ghosts in a challenging position, but they couldn't get into first unless one of Neenah's last two foes scores an upset.

Play To Tie
In the first games involving the "top three," Neenah and Clintonville played to a tie, and Neenah dealt the Ghosts their only setback. Neenah closes against Shawano, Kaukauna winds up against Kimberly and Clintonville has Two Rivers as its final foe.

Both Clintonville and Kaukauna have good strong lines, sharp running attacks and can throw the ball if necessary. Last season they played to a scoreless tie. Neenah, like Clintonville, must win to retain its share.

Syracuse Takes Over as No. 1 Offensive Club

New York — Rolling up a total of 589 yards, including 455 by rushing, against West Virginia, unbeaten Syracuse not only set two single game records, but displaced North Texas State as the No. 1 offensive college football team of the nation.

NCAA Service bureau statistics released today also reveal Syracuse has increased its lead in scoring, and now has a 5-game average of 36.4 points to 31.5 for second-place Mississippi.

North Texas State leads in rushing offense with an average of 322 yards a game, and Army is tops in forward passing with a 201.8-yard average.

Ingredients for Upset Appear to be Working In Favor of Wolves

Letdown Saturday Could Prove Fatal To Wisconsin

BY PAUL EMERSON
Ann Arbor, Mich. — Michigan—fresh from its first Big Ten victory in a year—trained its sights on powerful Wisconsin this week, with guarded hopes for spilling the high-flying Badgers in a homecoming game here Saturday.

All the ingredients for an upset appear to be working in favor of Coach "Bump" Elliott's improving Wolverines. Wisconsin, which has just run the gauntlet of three rugged conference foes, may be inclined to look on lightly-regarded Michigan as the breather it needs before an all-important clash with unbeaten Northwestern the following week.

After a stunning 21-0 loss in the rain to Purdue, Coach Milt Bruhn's outfit stormed back with solid victories over rugged Iowa and Ohio State. The Wisconsin - Northwestern battle now shapes up as the game of the year in the loop.

Slight Help
A tendency on the part of the Badgers to relax against Michigan in an effort to get their second wind for the Wildcats could give Elliott's crew a slight help as it guns for an upset.

Michigan's 14-6 triumph over Minnesota last week ended the team's 6-game conference losing streak. It also may have supplied the momentum the Wolverines will need to jar Wisconsin, if they can catch the Badgers off guard.

It will take a big Wisconsin letdown, a superb Michigan effort and perhaps some breaks, to upset the talented Badgers. The form charts indicate Wisconsin packs too many guns for the depleted Wolverines.

Elliott's team emerged from Gopher clash without injury and should be in near peak physical shape for its first meeting with Wisconsin in nine years. Michigan holds an

Bob Scheffing Says He Had Other Offers

Milwaukee — Bob Scheffing, former manager of the Chicago Cubs who accepted a job as a coach of the Milwaukee Braves, said Tuesday night that he had turned down two offers to manage minor league clubs so that he could stay in the majors.

Scheffing said, "I'd rather coach in the majors for several reasons." "For one thing," he said, "I like Milwaukee very much. The Braves have got a good, solid ball club and the organization is a fine one to be with. Besides I've only got a couple more years to go on the pension plan. I'll have 20 years in the majors by then."

Scheffing was offered jobs to manage the Seattle club as well as the Cubs' Houston affiliate in the American association.

Dillon Stresses Importance of Attitude in QB Club Remarks

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton High school Football Coach Ade Dillon did a little philosophizing about his favorite sport in his weekly talk to the Appleton Quarter-back club Tuesday night.

"The longer I coach the more I realize that the mental aspect is the most important in football."

"I feel that a lot of coaches — I won't mention names — alibi for losing and some of them even alibi to their players," the veteran skipper went on.

Players Pick It Up
"They blame the officials for causing a loss and the players pick it up, yell at the officials and make up excuses for losing. The kids then feel sorry for themselves."

"Officials tell me," Dillon continued, "that our boys are good, they don't complain. I don't feel that they should complain."

Lawrence college coaches Bernie Heselton and Don Boya weren't present at the meeting, so Dillon did the commentary on films of the Vikings' 22-14 loss to Coe as well as AHS' 12-0 win over Sheboygan Central.

"You have to be a little afraid of everybody you play," Dillon went on. "I've been coaching at Appleton

High 17 years and when my clubs have come into a game in the wrong frame of mind, we've always had a tough time.

"Parents tell their sons: 'You won't have any trouble this weekend.' Why do they do it? There is no such thing as any easy game."

Hawks Lose Argument and Hockey Game

By The Associated Press
Reference Ed Powers ruled that the Montreal Canadiens had the green light Tuesday night, thus precipitating a stormy argument at the conclusion of the National Hockey league game in which the Canadiens defeated the Chicago Black Hawks, 2-1.

It was a freak incident. When the green light designating the end of a period — in this case the third period — flashes it normally is not possible for the red light denoting a goal to flash.

As the final horn sounded a Chicago player knocked the puck into the cage. The red light flashed, and the Black Hawks swarmed around Powers claiming the goal, which would have tied the score, counted.

However, Powers had seen the green light, so he disallowed the claim. The Canadiens thus increased their league lead to four points over the idle Detroit Red Wings.

Former Badger Boxer Head Rules Committee

Boston — Dr. Anthony Curreri, a former University of Wisconsin boxer who now is a department head at the University hospitals, was named chairman Tuesday of the NCAA Boxing Rules committee.

He succeeds Julius Mendez of San Jose State, who resigned as chairman but remained on the committee. Curreri's appointment was announced by Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, at the fall meeting of the NCAA council.

NOTES and NOTIONS

Two Fox Cities athletic standouts played important roles in the University of Wisconsin's two most recent football victories over Ohio State. In 1946, "Stu" Locklin played a lot of end as the Badgers beat the Buckeyes, 20-7. Last Saturday, Tom Wiesner was UW's leading ground gainer as the Badgers ended a 13-year drought, 12-3. I was fortunate enough to see both of those memorable contests.

Locklin

In '46, OSU clearly outplayed the Badgers in the first half to take a 7-0 lead. But, in the second half, the Harry Stuhldreher-coached Cardinal and White—with players such as Locklin, Fred Negus, Jack Wink, Earl Maves, Tom Bennett and Wally Dreyer—nearly swept the Buckeyes off the field with a 3-touchdown rally.

Last Saturday, the groundwork for victory was laid in the first half by Milt Bruhn's Badgers. They got all their scoring done early in the first 30 minutes, then preserved the win with some of the fiercest defensive play we've seen in some time. On many occasions, Wiesner was called on to get tough yardage—to help his team maintain possession. And, despite the slippery footing, Wiesner responded with Ameche-like irresistibility.

If the Badgers don't stub their toes at Ann Arbor this weekend, their Nov. 7 date at Evanston shapes up as one of the season's great games. I like Wisconsin's chances against Northwestern—providing the Badgers can continue their improvement on pass defense begun against OSU. (When a "ground" team like OSU tries 16 passes with a slick ball—as the Bucks did Saturday—it shows how lightly the opposition regards Wisconsin's aerial defense. The Buckeyes completed only four—but the Wildcats have considerably better passers, of course.)

Wisconsin's line, though, can hold its own with anybody, and the offense looks good—despite the restrictions the weather put on it Saturday. Jim Bakken looked cool and capable during his lengthy fill-in stints for the versatile Dale Hackbart—enabling the Badgers at least to equal the quarterbacking depth that has been so vital to NU's showing.

Returning for a moment to the historic, Wisconsin's latest victory over Michigan (10-0 in 1934) was sparked by Lynn Jordan's 99-yard kick-off return, the second longest in Badger annals (Eddie Cochems ran 100 in 1901). Jordan's son Dave was a member of the Lawrence college football team this fall until an infirmity sidelined him.

Not too many years ago, all that stood between Charlie

'Liz' Believes MU May Stop Slide

Coach Maintains His Squad Could Still be Good One

Milwaukee — Coach Lisle "Liz" Blackburn of Marquette believes his football team might get going in its homecoming game against Oklahoma State here Saturday and stop its downhill slide. The Warriors have lost all six of their starts this year.

The coach, admitting that the team had played its poorest game of the season when it lost to Boston college Sunday, said Tuesday that perhaps "We can get going now that we're back home."

Bobcats Play Intra-Squad Game Tonight

Sign Former Star Gopher Goalie Jim Matson

Green Bay — The Green Bay Bobcats who make their appearance in an intra-squad game at the Brown County arena tonight, have been bolstered for their imminent Central Hockey league season by the addition of a former All-America goalie.

The newcomer is Jim Matson, a native of Minneapolis, and All-America selection in 1953-54 while starring for the University of Minnesota. Matson, 5-9 and 170 pounds, played in Scotland last season, following stints in the American, Eastern and International leagues.

Johnny Mayasich, Bobcat player-coach, and Dick Dougherty, the Bobcats' leading scorer last season, were teammates of Matson at Minnesota.

"He's small for a goalie," Mayasich admits, "but he's fiery and real aggressive, very active."

3rd Netminder

Matson is the third netminder signed for the 1959-60 season which opens for the Bobcats against Minneapolis here Friday night, Nov. 13. The other candidates are Jerry Kleinsinger, former University of Minnesota-Duluth ace, and Green Bay's Tom Tochterman.

Mayasich has divided his squad into the "Blues and Yellows" for tonight's contest which will start at 7 p.m.

BLUES: First line — Pete Buchmann, center; Dick Dier and Ron Stenlund, wings; defense — Mayasich, Mike Horn, Tom Neveau. Goalie — Jim Matson. Second line: Tony Bukovich, Jr., center; Joe Bocchini and Ron Katalin, wings.

The game is open to the public, without charge. Free coffee will be served.

AP Selects Richie Mayo Back of Week

By the Associated Press

Richie Mayo, the Air Force quarterback who fires a football with the speed and accuracy of a guided missile, has suddenly gained new stature as an "infantryman" with his running tactics. It has added an atomic punch to the Falcons' air arm.

This new talent also tabbed him as "back of the week" in an Associated Press poll and has made him a marked man by Army, the Falcons' opponent Saturday in New York's Yankee stadium.

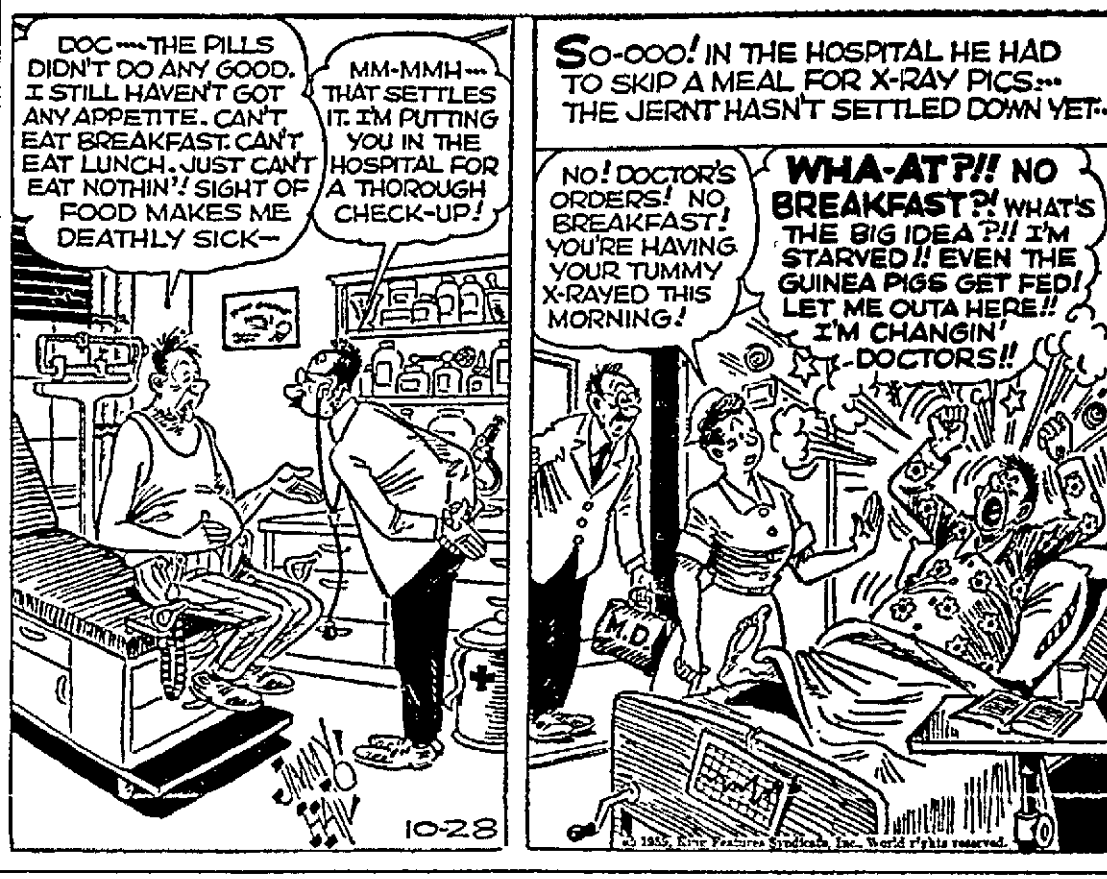

Mayo scored on runs of 1 and 3 yards against UCLA and his ball-handling wizardry was given credit for propelling the Falcons ground attack to 317 yards.

Mississippi, Arizona State of Tempe Are Placed on Probation by NCAA

Boston — The NCAA has placed the University of Mississippi and Arizona State university at Tempe on probation and hinted that further disciplinary actions against other schools may be forthcoming.

The NCAA council, policy-directing body of the group, Tuesday placed Arizona State on a 2-year probation and — for the first year of that period — made it ineligible for NCAA national titles and participation in invitational events, including post-season football bowl games, held in cooperation with the NCAA.

Mississippi drew a 1-year probation, but was not made ineligible for bowl games or national titles.

AL Expansion Won't Come Till After '60

Saturday Is Deadline For Franchise Shifts Involving Minors

New York — No new teams will appear in the American Baseball league lineup next year, President Joe Cronin said Tuesday.

But, he added, that does not mean that the league will not expand in the future.

Cronin said that Saturday is the deadline for submitting requests for franchise shifts involving minor league teams. That meant that if a move to place an American league team in Minneapolis—as has been rumored—all details would have to be ready by the end of the week.

"It is simply out of the question that anything as big as this can be settled in a few days," said Cronin. "When I recently appointed a fact-finding committee, it was with the idea of getting all the information we could on the subject of expansion."

"Then we had the committee appear before Commis-

Wiesner Leads Badger '11' In Rushing

Hackbart Becomes 5th in UW History To Score 100 Points

Madison — Quarterback Dale Hackbart leads Wisconsin football scoring with 26 points, the result of four touchdowns and a 2-point rushing conversion.

The additional points, garnered in five games this season, boost the Madison senior's college career total to 118, and makes him only the fifth man in Badger history to score more than 100.

Runnerup in scoring is Karl Holzwarth, a senior tackle, also from Madison, whose specialty is place kicking. Holzwarth is credited with 19 points this season, scored on four field goals and seven straight conversions.

Fullback Tom Wiesner of Neenah ranks third in points with 18, and halfback Billy Hobbs of Eau Claire is fourth with 12.

Halfbacks Ed Hart of Kenosha and Erv Kunesh of Marinette, and quarterback Jim Bakken of Madison are tied for fifth with 6 each.

Hackbart, Holzwarth and Wiesner rank third, sixth and seventh in Big 10 all-games scoring.

Wiesner leads the team in rushing with a total of 215 net yards. He's had the ball 59 times and averaged 3.6 yards a carry.

Hobbs is second in rushing with 165 yards net. Hackbart third with 156. Halfback Ron Steiner of Iron Mountain, Mich., holds the fourth spot with 143 yards gained in 32 runs. That gives him an average of 4.4 yards, the best compiled by a regular ball carrier.

In the passing department, Hackbart leads with 326 yards in 23 completions. Bakken is second with 142 in 10 throws. Both have connected on half of the passes thrown. Tom Mettlich, a sophomore quarterback from Arcadia, boasts a 1,000 per cent record in passing, but he's only thrown one for 17 yards.

Richmond, Calif. — Bobby Sanders, 149, San Francisco, outpointed Dave Johnson, 150, San Francisco, 10.

Chicago — Midwest football Fichtner will be able to play against Illinois Saturday.

Northwestern — Quarterback John Talley connected on several long passes in sparking a Wildcat workout aimed at Indiana. Northwestern's third string ran through Hoosier single wing plays against the first team.

Illinois — Johnny Easterbrook will be the starting quarterback against Purdue. Easterbrook suffered a leg injury early in the season and then lost his first string post to Mel Meyers.

Purdue — New offensive formations were being used by the Boilermakers who had injured quarterback Ross Fichtner back on the practice field. It is still doubtful.

Dressen and complete baseball happiness was a 2-year contract. Now that the Braves have tendered this show of faith that the Dodgers never agreed to, there's no telling how far Dressen—and the Braves—will go. As far as I'm concerned, the Braves made a good choice—certainly better than such controversial "candidates" as Leo Durocher and "Birdie" Tebbetts. Dressen is a fiery, take-a-chance type of leader who probably knows as much baseball as anybody in the game. It's true "Chuck" didn't duplicate his Dodger pennant success during his Washington tenure, but it's been proven before that no one can win with a pronounced deficiency of good material—remember Casey Stengel's National league follies and Fred Haney's Pirate experience. Unlike Vince Lombardi—new head man of Wisconsin's other big league sports team—Dressen has no large-scale rebuilding task. After all, there can't be too much wrong with a team that ties for first after 154 games—and loses out only after a tight playoff to the world champions-to-be.

One proof of John Unitas' aerial wizardry and the Colts' devastating offense is their ability to score on short-range passes. Sunday's game against the Packers underscored this. Passing from inside the 10 is no easy matter, since each defender has only a small piece of end zone real estate to patrol. Yet, three times, Unitas connected for payoff shorties, and each time the receiver was practically alone.

The one or two days' postponement of college games at Whitewater and Boston and of the St. Mary Menasha prep game and the near-postponement (or even cancellation) of the Appleton contest could signal the start of a trend. I've sometimes wondered—and I'm sure you have, too—why "the show must go on" in near-impossible conditions. Of course, we know why postponements don't come in football as they do in other sports—because of the unique scheduling problem resulting from a short season and the necessarily lengthy spread between games. But, games played under mud-bath conditions aren't fair either to the players or the spectators. I don't know what the answer is. Maybe, a game played by extreme weather should be cancelled if it doesn't have a title bearing. Those that have a title flavor could be re-scheduled the first week after the close of the regular season. That would be little help for this season—worst of all in recent times for consistently bad weekend football weather. You'd have to re-schedule games almost until January to get them all in.

In a welcome letter from Jack McKeon, the 1959 Foxes manager says he was very sorry to learn of the change in working agreements. His 1960 assignment has not been made, but he has been told by the Senators that he will be in their organization in some capacity. If McKeon should happen to manage the Wilson club of the Carolina league, he would be only 100 miles from his home. Jack asked me to pass along this message: "Give the people of the Fox Cities area and the directors of the club my sincere thanks for a very enjoyable year, and that I hope that someday I can get back and see all my wonderful friends. I also wish them the very best in the future. God bless them all for being so wonderful to me in 1959. . . Also would like to note that Ray McClone is the greatest president any club could have." He also wished the Foxes "many good seasons in the future."

Conerly, the 12-year veteran of the New York Giants, has completed 56 of 93 passes for 855 yards and four touchdowns, the latest NFL statistics disclosed today. He displaced Washington's Ralph Guglielmi, who has completed 26 of 60 for 515 yards and 4 TDs. Conerly's average gain

Terrors Aren't Taking Fondy Eleven Lightly

Friday afternoon's foe, too lightly.

"They have some good players in Murphy, (end Mike) all-conference halfback Pete Velasco and fullback Pat Flaherty. Fondy used all kinds of offenses—splits and spreads. If they get the jump on us we could be in trouble."

Quarterback John Taylor, who filled in admirably for the injured John Nussbaum last Saturday, came in for a large slice of praise from his coach and several of the QB club members.

"We never had any doubts about his ability," Dillon observed. "But, at the beginning of the season we had to make our decision between him and Nussbaum and, wanting a running quarterback, we went with the faster Nussbaum."

Fine Job

"Taylor did a fine job handling that ball in the mud and rain and calling plays. The players appreciated it too. On our second touchdown one of the other backs refused to carry the ball. They wanted Taylor to get a touchdown."

In reviewing the films of the Central victory, the coach felt there were several really big plays.

The biggest — one Ade said "we'll remember 20 years from now"—was a punt by Dave LaViolette that got the Terrors out of a deep hole. It stopped rolling about 65 yards from the spot it was booted (at the Central 34). "It was Dave's best punt of the year, a great play with a wet ball and on a soggy day and I'd trade a lot of long runs for it," asserted Ade.

Another key play, he felt, was a fine tackle by AHS' Brian Zordel in the Central backfield—near the Terror 8—when the Redmen threatened to tie the game in the third period. "Brian's good speed really helped on that one," Dillon asserted.

Great Rush

The play, and one by Kent Anderson, were followed by another key maneuver—a great rush by end Dave Walter—and the Redmen were forced to give up the ball. LaViolette's booming kick followed.

Reserve halfback Don Brock "really rambled", according to the coach, on a couple of runs after Brock replaced the injured Cal Kluess late in the game. "Brock's only a junior and he's going to be a good back," Dillon observed.

Kluess and Marv Hietpas both ran very well, he thought, with senior fullback Kluess doing an especially good job of driving.

Broke His Pads

Senior defensive player Larry Handle hit a Redman so hard late in the game that Larry broke the fellow's shoulder pads.

Someone in the crowd asked Dillon if he was cold, standing on the sidelines in the rain, sleet and snow. "No, I wasn't," he replied. "It's only cold when you lose."

In commenting on the Lawrence films, Dillon opined that the Mike Ulwelling's open-field drop of a Jim Schulze pass early in the contest came on a "tough ball to catch."

Mike's mistake was in trying to pull it in to his body rather than running right through the ball.

"Lawrence runs kickoffs back well," Dillon observed at one point. "They brought almost every one back near the 50 (a week ago) against Ripon."

"Schulze," Dillon observed, "does a good job for a 165-pounder. You have to admire his courage for taking the kind of beating he does."

"That whole Lawrence backfield is small," said the AHS mentor. Ulwelling and Bobby Landis aren't any bigger than 165 pounds."

Paul Hornung is sixth among ground gainers with 319 yards on 82 carries for an average of 3.9 yards. His longest run was 22 yards.

The only other Packer among the leaders is John Symank who is fifth in kickoff returns. He's lugged six of them out for 142 yards, or an average of 23.7 yards. His longest dash with a kickoff was 39 yards, second best in the league.

Wolverines Eye Upset of UW

18-4-1 edge in the series dating back to 1892.

The Wolverines have found their best strength in numbers, Elliot has used an average of 38 players a game on a 3-plateau system. The system has made Michigan a strong second-half team, with nearly all of the Wolverines' scoring coming in the last two periods.

Fast Starter

Wisconsin, on the other hand, has proved to be a fast starter, striking early for points and then safeguarding its lead for the rest of the game. Only one Badger tally has come in the second half this year, in Big Ten action.

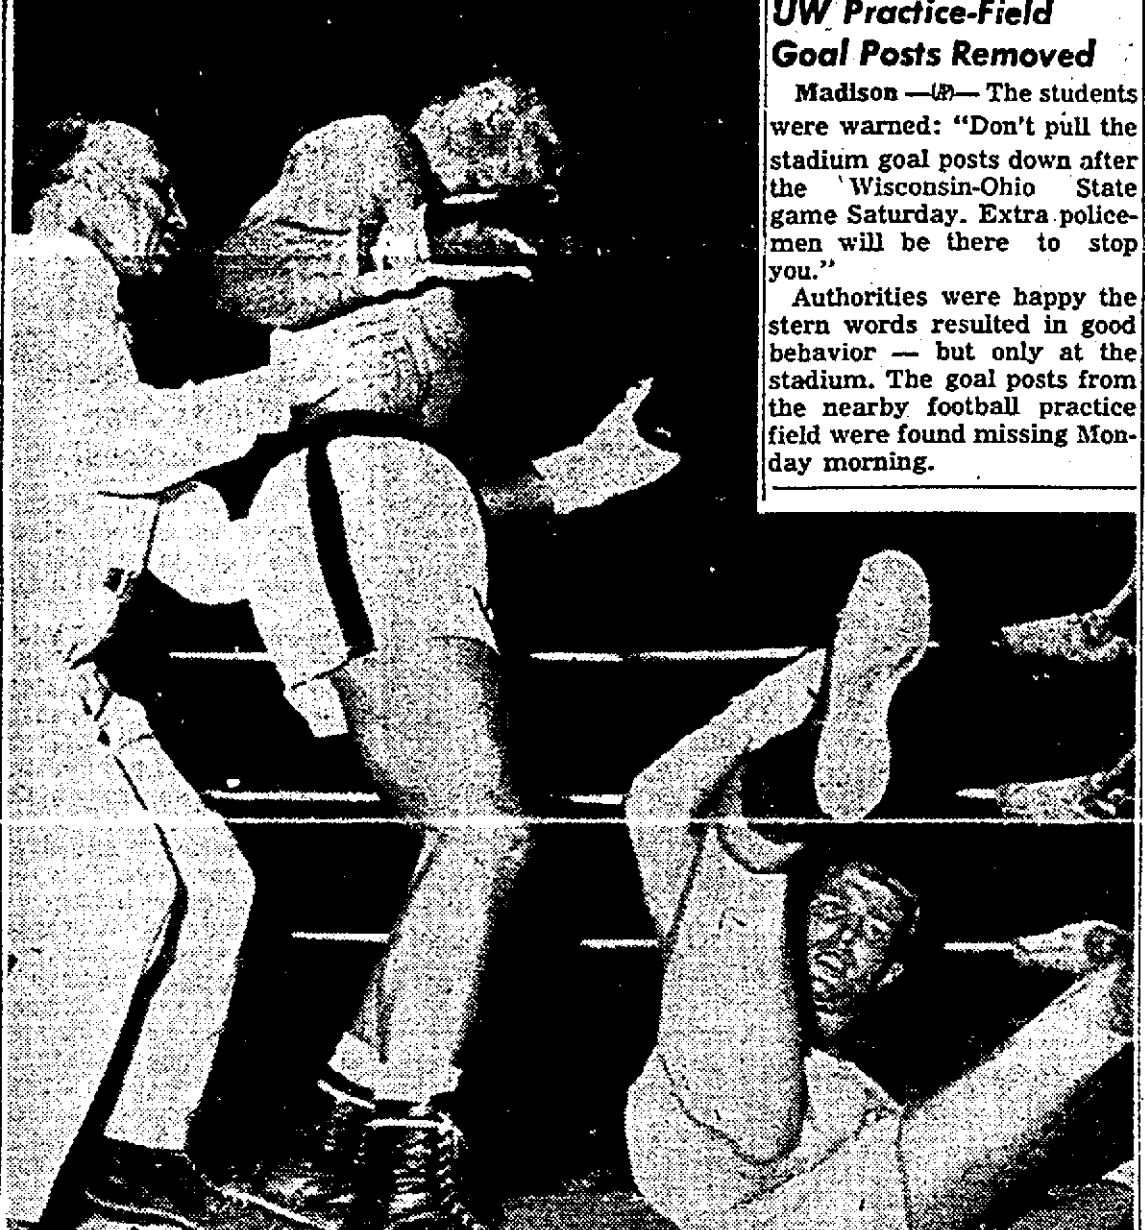

Wolverine assistant Coach Jake Fouts, who has scouted the Badgers twice this season, said "the combination of a great line, a great quarterback makes Wisconsin just about the best team in the country."

Elliott, the youthful mentor who is in his first year at the head of Michigan football, was pleased with his team's performance against Minnesota, but would venture no predictions about the clash with Wisconsin.

"We have a long way to go before we're a good football team," Elliott said. "But we're on our way."

Wisconsin might do well to heed these words.

Lineman of the Week

Great Defensive Play Earns Lanphear Honors

By The Associated Press

Danny Lanphear, a hefty, 215-pound tackle for the University of Wisconsin, is the lineman of the week.

Lanphear did about everything except carry the ball against Ohio State. His sterling performance that led the Badgers to a 12-3 victory last Saturday brought him the coveted weekly award today in the Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

"He was outstanding, just great," beamed Milt Bruhn, Wisconsin coach, afterwards. "He made tackles all over the field and always was putting the pressure on. He has been playing great ball for us all the way after being out with an injury much of last season." Lanphear had an ankle injury that hampered him in 1958.

In the opinion of Si Burick, Sports Editor of the Dayton, Ohio, News, Lanphear's performance "was the greatest single defensive effort by a lineman in years."

This is what the 6-3 Wisconsin senior did to the Buckeyes:

Blocks Punt

He blocked a punt in the opening minutes that led to a safety, recovered an Ohio State fumble that halted one OSU drive, then stopped another with a savage tackle that caused the ball carrier to fumble with Wisconsin recovering on its own three.

His jarring tackles put Bob White, OSU fullback, out of the game in the second quarter with a shoulder separation. In the last period, his tackle of Bob Ferguson while the OSU halfback was trying to return a punt, also sent the Buckeye to the sidelines.

His crashing through on virtually every play and rushing the passer was a big reason that OSU managed to complete only four of 16 passes.

St. Joseph Beats St. Patrick, 26-7

The St. Joseph of Appleton Grade school football team rolled over St. Patrick of Menasha, 26-7, at Goodland field Tuesday night.

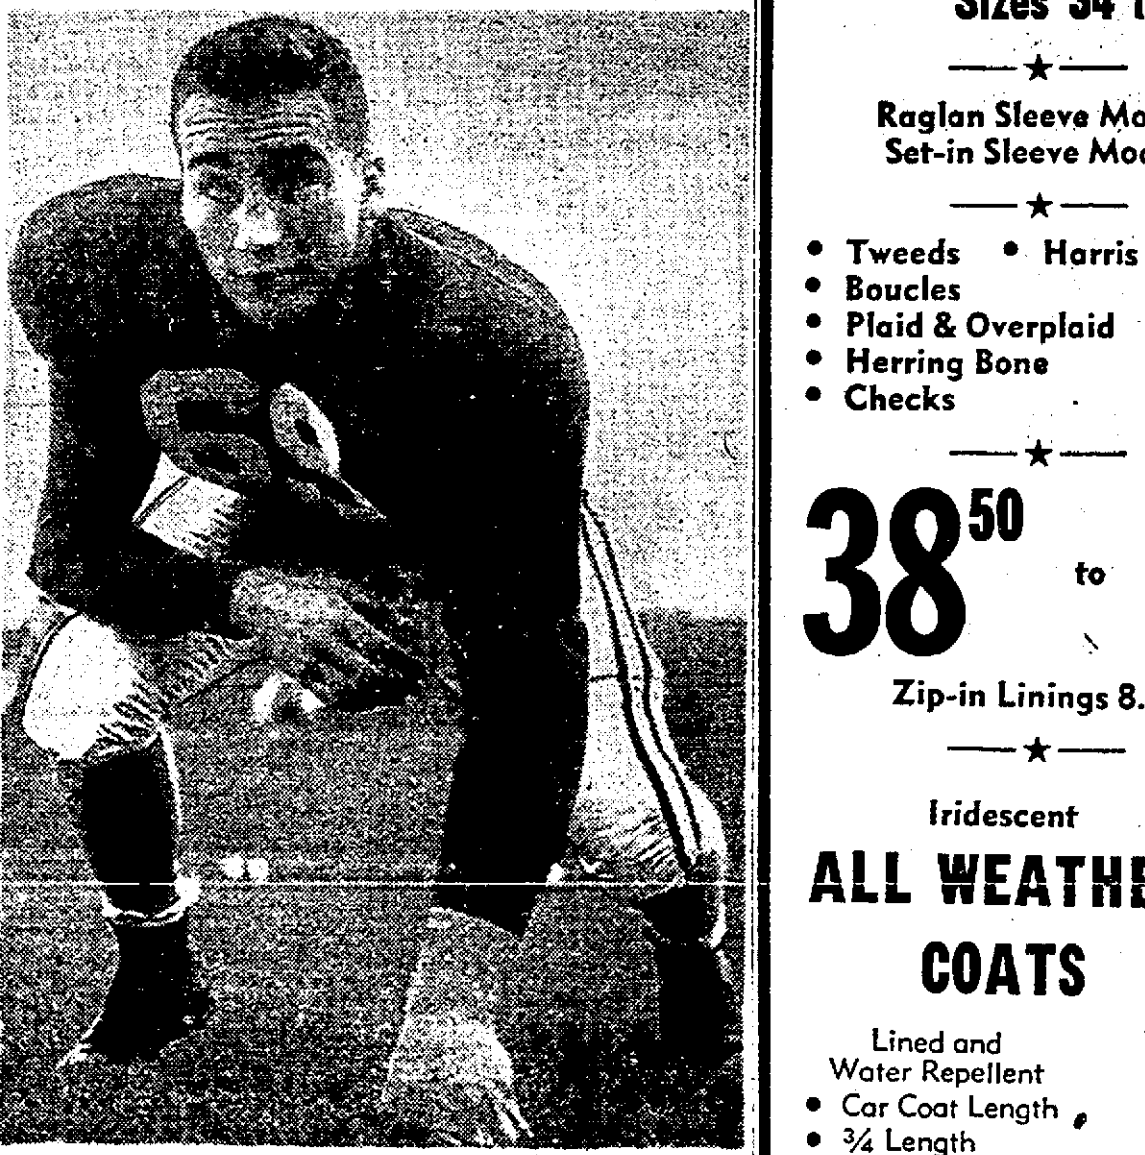

Bob Bleier scored three touchdowns for St. Joseph, which is now 4-1 in the Catholic Boy conference and 5-1 overall. Bleier ran back a pass interception about 70 yards and scampered about 8-10 yards on the other two TDs. Jim Pegel tallied the other St. Joseph touchdown on a run of about 10 yards.

Jim Rather counted for St. Patrick.

of the lead. Through the years, form has meant little in this game but in most of this decade the favorites have been successful.

Menasha attempts to rebound from 46-6 and 34-0 losses to Clintonville and Kaukauna the last two weekends. Menasha eked out a 7-6 win a year ago.

Shawano's surprising Indians, who find themselves in first division for the first time in several seasons, will be favored to add another win at New London's expense.

The Bulldogs won't be easy for they've been improving steadily and came up with their best performance of the year the last time out in losing to Neenah, 13-0. Shawano took a 14-0 win last fall.

Kimberly and Two Rivers try to salvage some glory against each other. The Parkers lost their last two games and now are below the .500 mark with 2-3. Two Rivers hasn't won since whipping New London in the opener but has showed signs of coming back in the Neenah and Shawano games of the last two weeks. It was Kimberly, 32-13, a year ago.

Vo-Ag Team Wins Judging Contest

New London FFA One of Seven High Schools in Soil Program

Waupaca — A team of New London vocational agriculture students won top honors in a field of seven area high schools during a soil judging contest sponsored by the Waupaca County Farm Improvement association.

The New London FFA students instructed by Don Holman included Tom Bleck, John Kasuboski, Cliff Danke, Ernie Bruns and Ronald Fietzer. They compiled a score of 1,323 points to win the trophy.

Top individual judging honors were awarded Bob Lea, Amherst, who compiled 286 points.

Annual Contest
The annual contest and instructional lessons were held at the Arnold Spiegelburg farm, about four miles south of Manawa.

More than 150 agricultural students from Waupaca, New London, Amherst, Marion, Clintonville, Weyauwega and Manawa participated. Each school picked five youths from its class to compete for trophies.

All students however participated in the judging and will be scored by their teachers.

4 Pits Dug
Four pits were dug in different locations on the Spiegelburg farm. Students visited each pit and picked out erosion hazards, soil types, capability and estimated slope.

They also gave their recommendations for conservation practices at each pit area.

1,308; Manawa 1,250; Waupaca 1,227; Marion 1,211, and Weyauwega 1,161.

Individuals in placement order include Lea, Amherst, 286; Ronald Fietzer, New London, 281; James Samz, Clintonville, 280, and Don Stuczynski, Amherst, and Gordon Mundt, Manawa, 276 points each.

Other teams include James Samz, Wayne Hensen, Bob Hutchinson, Grant Carlwright and Dennis Handrich, Clintonville; Bob Lea, Richard Packard, Russell Nelson, Don Stuczynski and Norbert Stuczynski, Amherst; David Miller, Sam Thiel, Gordon Mundt, Darrell Drath and Duane Abrahamson, Manawa, and Robert Olson, Richard Townsend, John Doyle, Larry Bauer and Claude Weichbrod, Waupaca.

Aerial Survey Effective in Disease Fight

Dutch Elm Tabbed By Flights Over Area at Set Level

The Wisconsin department of agriculture has found an aerial survey to be effective in scouting for Dutch elm disease.

Preliminary flights made over areas in which the disease was known to be established convinced Abraham Epstein, pathologist with the plant industry division, of the value of the airplane in detecting diseased trees in new areas on farms and in heavily wooded areas where it is difficult to locate such trees using conventional transport and observation methods.

Trees showing symptoms of the disease are quite conspicuous from the air for distances up to one mile at altitudes of 500 to 1,000 feet. Above 1,000 feet it becomes increasingly difficult to distinguish between elms and other species.

Joint Project
The survey, a joint project of the department of agriculture's plant industry division and the forest management division of the conservation department, was conducted early in July. It covered the counties of Green, Lafayette and Grant and the east bank of the Mississippi River from the Illinois line to LaCrosse.

The flight was made following a pre-determined course which was plotted on county highway maps on a scale of two miles per inch. Five par-

Market Group Established by Farm Bureau

Establishment of a national farm commodity marketing and bargaining subsidiary of the American Farm Bureau Federation has been approved by the federation board of directors.

There has been a real need in Wisconsin — a state that produces an abundance of canning crops—for an organization that could help producers bargain effectively with processors, Percy Hardiman, president of the Wisconsin farm bureau said.

"This is the kind of action that helps farmers increase their net income," Hardiman said.

Entry into this new activity is an outgrowth of requests by members for service in this field. The purpose of the new subsidiary will be to provide a means for state and area marketing - bargaining associations to coordinate their efforts and to help them find the appropriate price for a commodity, based on supply and demand conditions.

It will not be the purpose of the new organization to establish a monopoly nor to set prices. This subsidiary will not bargain at the national level since the bargaining will be done by the member state and area associations.

The first area of activity will be in the field of processed fruits and vegetables. The program, however, will be broad enough to include other commodities as needed.

allel flights were made, the first one from the Illinois line to a point one mile north and subsequent flights at two mile intervals north.

A subsequent ground check disclosed two areas of Dutch elm disease in Green and Lafayette counties. The one in the latter county was some 30 miles west of any previously reported location. Other tree diseases were also spotted as the result of the flights.

Soil Conservation Service Works for Wildlife Habitat

Outagamie County Engineer Plans Better Land Use

BY ROY F. VALITCHKA II
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Heavy autumn rains halted farm harvest for weeks this year. On some farms tractors mired in mud. Water stood knee deep in some fields.

But on 500 farms in Outagamie county farmers experienced little difficulty with harvest. This was mainly the result of one man's planning.

On a sunny October day, not too long ago, Vern Geiger, Soil Conservation Service engineer, stood at the edge of a pasture. He had a happy twinkle in his eye and shook his head in disbelief.

Waded in Water
In spring a farmer, Roy Bungert, Hortonville, waded across this pasture up to his waist in water. Today he is plowing the same land standing high and dry even after heavy rains.

A rabbit, fat and sleek, dashed for the cover of a nearby fence line from a heavily grassed ridge, his home, and the reason for Bungert's dry land.

Bungert, one of the first co-operators in the soil conservation program in the county, had a diversion built across a hill draining into his low pasture and adjoining workable land. Earth was pushed into a long ridge across the face of the hill forcing water to drain away from the low areas as water does along an eave of a roof.

Couples Talents
Work of a soil conservationist, as Geiger, has in its scope not only better farming but conservation of wildlife. Geiger couples his technical knowledge and love of the outdoors into a program of natural harmony.

"There is a great deal of education to be done here," Geiger said. "But we're moving forward, even though I feel I'm five years behind because of such a heavy work load."

Geiger feels conservation of wildlife can be applied to human life.

Vital Needs
Without three vital needs we, the same as wildlife, would die. We need food in ample supply, cover or shelter and water, he explained. "If any one of these are eliminated, there is nothing," Geiger said.

He outlined a series of steps farmers follow in SCS practices which aid wildlife. As fall approaches farmers are warned not to burn brush along fence rows nor mow grass before harvest. This provides nest area for song birds in spring, game cover and food.

Crop Patterns

Turn to Page 6, Col. 3

Soil Conservation Service cooperator's land shown here in Outagamie county depict good farm practices as well as wildlife habitat. Top is a farm pond created in a low area. It drains more than 500 acres of land. Today it has good fishing. Willows planted along its banks provide cover and bank protection. Border areas are planted with food. A fence of multifloral rose, second picture, stands dark against a farm woodlot. Such growths along pasture land borders eliminates barbed wire fences, offers game protection and a game travel lane. Clouds and sky meet with the end of a waterway bordering two farms. Heavy grass slows flow of runoff and gives game travel lanes.

Chilton Man Puts in 23 Years of 4-H Work

Carl Peik Honored by State for Service at Leaders Conference

Madison — Twenty - three years of 4-H work was recognized Tuesday when Carl Peik, route 4, Chilton, leader of the Irish Road 4-H club, was honored at the annual 4-H leader's conference at the University of Wisconsin.

The banquet, highlight of the 3-day program, feted state 4-H leaders who have served 21 or more years.

Peik pioneered 4-H work in the county. He formed the Charlestown club with 35 members before Calumet county had a club agent. Without an extension office to furnish information and requirements for organizing a club, Peik sought the aid of the state club agent Thomas Bewick. Bewick made regular trips to Chilton until the club was established.

34 Years of Leadership
 With his wife, Vivian, Peik founded the Irish Road 4-H club in 1948 and together they compiled a combined total of 34 years of club leadership. In 1950 the Green Bay

Carl Peik

Chamber of Commerce selected the Irish Road club as the best in the county. The club also fostered the idea of serving milk in banks one night during June Dairy month.

An outstanding club member, Deloris Peik, won the state Garden Club Award and attended the national club congress in 1957.

Peik has been active in civic and farm activities as well as youth work. He is chairman of the town of Charlestown and was recently elected to the board of Calumet-Sheboygan Farm Loan association. He served as a member of the state assembly in 1939-40.

A purebred hog breeder, Peik is president of the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing cooperative and is secretary of the Calumet County Swine Breeders association.

Engineers Plan Helps Wildlife

side which carry runoff water away without erosion, are always heavily grassed. The grass slows water run-off and affords game a travel lane.

"In planning a farm for SCS practices, we often come to what we call an odd area," Geiger said. This may be an inaccessible ravine or rocky hill. It is of no value to the farmer as workable land, but its value to wildlife is tremendous, he added. Here shrubs, clumps of trees and cover material is planted to afford travel lanes, food and nesting ground.

Often people come to a woods without grazed by cattle. It is quiet, void of song birds and forest life. Cover must be made for game in such cases, evergreens planted to form windbreaks and nests. With these factors, forests also flourish because natural vegetation adds fertility to the soil.

Farm Ponds Aid
 Provisions for water for animal life and protection of the farmer is manifest in farm ponds. Areas once gutted with erosion ditches, filled with murky water and lost topsoil after heavy rains can now be made into sparkling lakes with fish and cover.

Farm ponds raise the ground water table, cut erosion and afford constant water for farm and wildlife use.

Planting willows along pond edges, grass on banks and food bearing cover affords waterfowl nesting spots and keeps pond banks from washing away and tumbling into a stream.

Geiger hopes there is a time in Outagamie county when farmers will no longer use barbed wire fences. Fences will be natural growth hedgerows of multifloral rose and other blooming and food specie shrubs. No farm animal would cross such a barrier and, again, wildlife would be benefitted.

The County Agent Says

What fall care should be given to perennial roses?

When the leaves start to turn color and drop, mound up 10-12 inches of soil over the center of the plant. After the ground freezes, cover the soil with 2-4 inches of mulch material. Climbers should be taken down and covered with 2 inches of soil or the canes should be wrapped with burlap.

Should gladiolus be harvested before frost?

It is recommended to leave the corms in the ground right up until the soil freezes. Corms increase rapidly in size during the fall. After the corms are harvested, they should be dusted with 5 per cent DDT.

What can farmers learn about corn fertilization by looking at the ears?

Large ears mean there are too few plants. If there are more than 100 ears and nubbins per 100 plants, generally this indicates under planting. Small ears with unfilled tips indicates a shortage on nitrogen. Small ears partly filled on one side shows a lack of phosphorus. Ears poorly filled at tips and loose, chaffy kernels indicate a potash shortage.

Shares, Mixed, Trade Heavy

Independent Auto Issues Up Sharply On N. Y. Exchange

New York — The independent auto producers dominated a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Studebaker-Packard, under a tremendous buildup of demand, was delayed nearly two hours in opening.

The initial trade was a monster block of 75,000 shares with the price up 2 1/2 to a new high of 29.

American Motors also roared ahead, adding more than 3 points as it reached another new high.

Additional excitement was caused by Westinghouse Electric's 2-for-1 stock split. Buy orders piled up so quickly that trading in this stock had to be halted temporarily. It soared 4 points after re-opening on a block of 4,000 shares, up 2 1/2 at 96.

Meanwhile, steels continued to back away as a decision by the U. S. Supreme Court was pending on use of a Taft-Hartley injunction in the strike.

The Big Three motors were mixed. Rails declined. Oils were unchanged to irregularly higher.

Most of the space age issues continued to back away from their latest surge to the upside.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 20 cents to $223.80 with the industrials up 60 cents, the rails down 50 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Both corporate and U. S. government bonds were unchanged to a shade easier.

Paper Production At 95.5 Per Cent

The American Paper and Pulp association reported the ratio of the United States paper production to mill capacity for the week ended Oct. 17 at 95.5 per cent, compared to 98.3 per cent, revised for the preceding week. The ratio was 92.1 per cent for the corresponding week a year ago.

The National Paperboard association reported the paperboard production ratio for the week ended Oct. 17 at 98 per cent, compared to 98 per cent for the preceding week and 95 per cent for the corresponding week a year ago.

2 Fox Cities Men Fined at Chilton

Chilton — Two Fox Cities men were fined $10 each when they appeared in justice court for traffic violations.

The Medical-Dental-Hospital Bureau of America is a national association of bureaus that provide business services to the medical profession.

U.S. Steel Has Heavy Loss For Quarter

New York — United States Steel corporation Tuesday reported it lost more money in the three months ended Sept. 30 than in any 3-month period in its history. Directors declared the regular quarterly dividend.

Plants of the nation's biggest steel producer—it can pour out 28.4 per cent of all the nation's steel—were shut tight by the steel strike for all but two weeks during the 3-month period.

The net loss for the third quarter totaled $31,135,136. That compared with a net income of $74,922,924, equal to $1.27 a share, in the third quarter last year.

Not even in the grim days of the great depression did U. S. Steel lose as much money as in the quarter just completed. Its previous record loss came in the third quarter of 1932, when it dipped into the red by $20,871,709.

Despite the huge loss, directors declared the usual dividend of 75 cents a share on the common stock, payable Dec. 10 to stockholders of record Nov. 6. This is what has been paid in all recent quarters.

Sales in the third quarter this year amounted to only $368,469 compared with $872,187,927 last year.

Net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 was $223,813,360 or $3.80 a share. For the same period last year net income was $210,573,654 or $3.56 a share.

Knowledge of Cancer Helps To Save Lives

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE
New York—Public knowledge about cancer is helping save lives from the disease, a cancer statistician said today.
Cure rates have gone up in recent years, but more lives could be saved if people with high risks of cancer had regular checkups, said Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, director of statistical research for the research for the American Cancer society.

Risk Groups Studied
Cancer risks vary greatly with age, sex, occupation and even geography, he told the society's annual meeting.
Some high risk groups already are known and research

Wednesday, Oct. 28, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent D12 can pinpoint others, he said. Such persons then could pay especial attention to checkups and suspicious signs for earlier detection of cancer, which generally means best chance of cure, Dr. Hammond said.
Citing examples, he said men over 65 are more prone to cancer of the prostate. Some studies indicate that women who did not breast-feed their babies may be more prone to breast cancer than women who did. Cancer of the skin and cancer of the cervix appear to be higher in southern states than elsewhere.
The cancer society is launching a 6-year study of 500,000 American families which, among other goals, seeks to learn what things in daily life may influence chance of developing cancer, and what physical complaints might give earliest warnings.
